Settlement Reached In Air Canada Strike

CANADIAN KILLED AS VIET CONG AMBUSH CONVOY

SAIGON (Reuters) — Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed an armed truck convoy in South Viet Nam's Central Highlands today, killing a total of 10 persons including one Canadian civilian.

A U.S. mission spokesman said the guerrillas struck at a truck convoy carrying radio technicians of five nationalities to a work site in the highlands. One Canadian also was wounded.

The civilian victims were employed by Page Communications Engineers Inc., a U.S. firm based in Washington.

Page issued a casualty list from Washington identifying the dead Canadian as Armand Fortier, 40, husband of Pierrette Fortier of Montreal, and the wounded Canadian as Claus Knipping, 31, of Scarborough, Ont.

The Page firm said eight of its employees were killed and three wounded in the U.S. Thanksgiving Day ambush.

The guerrillas raked the convoy with machine-gun fire after blowing up the lead vehicle with a deadly claymore anti-personnel mine.

Knipping, slightly built with brown hair and a moustache,

Total Ban on N-Tests Backed by UN Body

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The UN General Assembly's political committee adopted a resolution today urging a total suspension of nuclear weapons testing and a treaty to ban all such tests.

The proposal, sponsored by nine countries, is regarded as a key item in a long list of UN resolutions on disarmament issues, and is certain of adoption by the General Assembly. Canada was among the countries supporting it.

It was approved on a vote of 72 to 0 with one abstention, France.

France abstained because of a clause that asks the assembly to urge all countries to adhere to the 1963 Moscow test ban treaty, which bars all but underground tests.

France and China are the only nuclear states that have not signed the partial test ban treaty. The resolution was supported by the three that did, the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

The resolution also asks the assembly to request the 17-nation disarmament committee to "elaborate without further delay" a treaty banning underground tests, and to express hope for development of an effective international exchange of seismic data as a means of verifying compliance with such a treaty.

Canada is a member of the disarmament committee, which is expected to resume its meetings in Geneva, Switzerland, in January.

Docker Layoffs Continue

VANCOUVER (CP) — The port of Prince Rupert was completely closed down and others partially closed today following continued firings of longshoremen.

The firings began Wednesday with 650 men dismissed for what the employers term as deliberate slowdown tactics.

The longshoremen, including those dismissed, reported for work normally early today. But firings began again when the tactics were repeated.

Meanwhile, Labor Minister Nicholson said in Ottawa he plans to fly to Vancouver Friday to participate in discussions aimed at solving the traffic slow-down.

He was replying to New Democratic Leader Douglas, who asked him to provide the good offices of the federal conciliation services to bring together shipping companies and supervisory personnel.

RULED MANAGEMENT

Mr. Nicholson said the application by supercargoes and other supervisory personnel for certification as bargaining agents was turned down by the federal labor board because these men were considered to be part of management.

He had received requests from international union representatives and management that he intervene. He planned to go west Friday to participate in the talks.

The longshoremen, including those dismissed, reported for work normally today. But firings began again when the tactics were repeated.

Al crews, members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, at Prince Rupert were discharged for loafing, while on Vancouver Island two-thirds of the Port Alberni crews were fired and at Nanaimo the men were told there was no work.

In Chemainus only one ship was reported being worked normally.

A union spokesman in Victoria said only five gangs were called out to work today, two to one ship and three to a second vessel at Ogden Point docks.

He said loading was under way.

A quarter of the more than 1,600 longshoremen in Vancouver and neighboring New Westminster were fired.

SHORT OF FOOD

There was no report from Prince Rupert on the effects of the shutdown. Earlier reports said communities in the Queen Charlotte Islands were running out of staple foods.

There was no immediate comment today from either side on the latest firings, but Edward M. Strang, president of the B.C. Maritime Employers' Association, said earlier that longshore-

AIRLINER WAS BOMBED

ADEN (UPI)—The government announced tonight explosives planted in an Aden Airways DC-3 airliner caused the plane to blow up and crash Monday with the loss of 28 lives.

A statement issued by the interior ministry said investigations had shown the disaster was caused by "explosive materials planted in the passenger cabin by unknown terrorists."

SMITH TO BE AVAILABLE FOR ANY LAST-MINUTE TALKS

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (Reuters)—Prime Minister Ian Smith today called off an out-of-town visit to a party rally to leave time free for vital talks this weekend with Herbert Bowden, Commonwealth secretary.

Smith was to have gone Saturday to Gwelo, a town 170 miles southwest of Salisbury, to address a rally of his ruling Rhodesian Front party.

But a government statement said today he has decided to put off the trip owing to the visit of Bowden.

The Commonwealth secretary is due to arrive Friday in another—and probably final—attempt to settle the Rhodesian independence crisis in personal talks.

While Bowden's visit was being made ostensibly at the invitation of the governor, Sir Humphrey Gibbs, sources close to the government regarded a meeting with Smith as certain.

Bowden will first confer with Gibbs, who is not recognized by the Smith government.

Smith proclaimed Rhodesian independence a year ago without constitutional guarantees for the Negro majority in the country, a position Britain cannot accept.

South Africa Asked To Help Avert Crisis

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson has called on South Africa to press Rhodesia's rebel leaders into an 11th-hour settlement with Britain, government sources reported today.

Wilson's request was made in a personal message to Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster in Pretoria Wednesday.

The British leader was said to be coupling his request with the warning that Britain will be compelled to seek United Nations intervention in the crisis in a matter of days if the Rhodesians reject the chance of agreement.

The move by Wilson came as the dispute over the future of Rhodesia entered its most tense phase.

Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden flies tonight to Salisbury nominally to consult with the British Governor Sir Humphrey Gibbs, but as Wilson told Parliament Wednesday, Bowden also will be available to meet Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith.

NOW SMITH'S MOVE

Wilson made plain that it was up to Smith to call on Bowden and to arrange with him to accept Britain's terms for a settlement.

The alternative, Wilson said, is that the British government will be bound to fulfil its stated intention of seeking the imposition of selective mandatory sanctions on Rhodesia by the end of the year.

Informants said Wilson's ministers noted that Transport Minister Ben Schoeman of South Africa felt free this week publicly to warn Britain of the dire consequences that would follow the imposition of mandatory sanctions on Rhodesia.

Schoeman served notice that South Africa would ignore these sanctions and he warned the lush British-South African trade would be ruined.

But Wilson and his govern-

U.K. Envoy Lengthens Moscow Stay

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary George Brown of Britain cancelled plans to fly back to London and decided to stay another day in Moscow for talks with Premier Alexei Kosygin.

British officials said the foreign secretary, whose schedule was disrupted when his special plane was diverted to Leningrad Tuesday because of fog, now hopes to leave soon after meeting Kosygin Friday morning.

Brown conferred for 90 minutes today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. It was their fourth meeting in two days.

Informed sources said the two ministers discussed European security and Anglo-Soviet relations at their meeting this morning.

WIRE BRIEFS

Smog Blankets East

NEW YORK (UPI) — Freak weather conditions blanketed most of the East Coast with stagnant air today, doubling pollution and threatening industrial centres with an onslaught of smog.

Truscott Review

OTTAWA (CP) — Final argument by lawyers in the Supreme Court of Canada review of the Steven Truscott murder conviction was postponed today until late January.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—The strikebound Alabama Power Co. reported today that saboteurs knocked out power to about 500 customers in Montgomery Wednesday night.

Cong Kidnap 109

SAIGON (Reuters)—Viet Cong guerrillas today kidnapped 109 persons—most of them children, from a hamlet in the Mekong Delta, a South Vietnamese military spokesman reported.

Rioters Dispersed

JERUSALEM, Jordanian Sector (AP) — Steel-helmeted Arab Legion troops opened fire today to disperse several thousand rioting Palestinians in Ramallah and Hebron north and south of Jerusalem.

Yes Vote Urged By Union Leader

MONTREAL (CP)—Mike Rygus, Canadian vice-president of the International Association of Machinists, said today he expects membership ratification of a tentative agreement reached earlier with Air Canada on a new labor contract and said: "I will recommend a 'Yes'."

He made his comment as he emerged from two hours of continuous bargaining. Details of the settlement would not be released pending notification of the membership, he said.

Mike Pitchford, head of the IAM negotiating committee said he is "reasonably well satisfied with the agreement" and will issue a statement later today.

STATEMENT

Air Canada said in a statement:

"The negotiating committees of Air Canada and the International Association of Machinists today agreed to a tentative memorandum of settlement which will be presented to the 5 200 members of the union for ratification this weekend.

"Both parties have agreed that details will not be released until the union negotiating committee has had an opportunity to present the new agreement to the membership.

"Subject to ratification the airline operations are expected to begin within 48 hours of notice of an acceptance."

Talks resumed at 10:45 a.m. today in a bid to end the 10-day-old strike of machinists against the publicly-owned airline.

The two sides adjourned a few minutes before midnight Wednesday following a day-long bid for agreement.

Prime Minister Pearson said in Ottawa Wednesday night the government had urged Air Canada President Gordon McGregor to settle the strike, through direct negotiations and without government intervention.

Mr. Pearson also sent a telegram to Mr. Rygus in which he said he "strongly urged" Air Canada to work toward a settlement.

QANTAS HIT BY STRIKE OF PILOTS

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Pilots protesting "dangerous" proposed changes in regulations covering crew size and safety procedures struck Qantas Airlines today, paralyzing the carrier around the world. It was the third pilots' strike against Qantas in three years.

The strike went into effect at 6 p.m. PST, after talks broke down between the Australian Federation of Airline Pilots and Qantas.

The 440 striking pilots were protesting a proposed reduction from three to two pilots and a proposal that pilots fly night flights to Jakarta, Indonesia. Salaries also were involved in the negotiations.

250 Shells Uncovered

ROME (Reuters) — Wartime artillery shells and grenades borne by swirling floodwaters today posed a new danger to villagers near Formia, about 60 miles south of Rome.

The shells, left behind by German and Allied armies, were buried on the banks of the River Garigliano and were uncovered by floods in the last few days.

Police and army engineers so far have fished out 250 artillery shells, about 1,000 detonators, 15 time-fuses and 10 hand grenades from the water. Some were recovered only a short distance from a hydroelectric power plant.

'U.S. Wage Parity Must Be Resisted'

(See story Page 6)

OTTAWA (CP) — Pressures building up in Canada for wage parity with the United States have got to be resisted or this country will face another balance of payments crisis, John J. Deutsch, chairman of the Economic Council of Canada, told a parliamentary committee today.

A balance of payments crisis would "really bring down the curtain," and have to be met by austerity, belt-tightening, and the deliberate creation of unemployment, he told the Senate-Commons committee on prices.

Mr. Deutsch was asked by Steve Otto (L—York East) to describe the effects of Canadian labor negotiators trying to negotiate wages in this country equal to those paid in the United States.

A lawyer and company executive, Mr. Otto said he recently was engaged in labor negotiations in which the workers were interested only in their take-home pay, without regard to the level of tax or welfare deductions.

Mr. Deutsch said parity of wages between Canada and the United States would be impossible to achieve. There would be so many side effects created in Canada that the goal could not be reached.

KINDNESS WARMS UP ORPHAN'S COLD WORLD

By CANDIDE TEMPLE

In a dark, small shed near the waterfront in the city of Mokpo, Korea, nine children are huddled in a corner.

Eight boys and a little girl, shivering and terrified. They squat silently on rags on the shed's cold floor.

The children are waifs, abandoned by families who could no longer feed them.

They have been picked up by police in the fishing town of Mokpo and brought to Unitarian Service Committee workers there, who do the only thing they can with the youngsters.

The give them food, clothing and temporary shelter in places like the waterfront hut. All this is made possible by Canadian help for the USC, through funds such as the Times' Share with Asian Children Fund.

TRACE FAMILY

Then USC workers will try to trace the children's families and offer aid so the youngsters may stay with them.

If this fails, the youngsters must be put into overcrowded orphanages, dark-eyed, and serious and by this time hostile towards a world that doesn't want them.

But the help and kindness they receive at the hands of USC workers is a memory that stays with them.

So does the taste of the Canadian milk and biscuits which are distributed to the needy by USC workers in Mokpo, elsewhere in Korea and around the world.

RAY OF HOPE

For the big-eyed orphans it's the one ray of hope in a dark and hateful world.

If some people are kind to them, if people across the ocean care enough to give money for milk and barley, warm sweaters and socks, it can't be such a bad world after all.

Victorians are being asked to help these nine Korean youngsters, and others like them, through contributions to The Times Share with Asian Children Fund.

AND BENNETT 'CORRECTS' A MISUNDERSTANDING

Rathie, Cariboo Mayors Support Bonner

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislature Reporter

QUESNEL — Wednesday was Mayor's Day in the Bonner byelection campaign.

Premier Bennett made a eulogistic endorsation of Mr. Bonner by Vancouver Mayor William Rathie, the highlight of his 45-minute speech to some 500 persons here.

He read the telegram from his once-bitter foe and former Liberal candidate with a triumphant flourish, then added his own direct appeal:

"You should ask not what the government can do for you but what you can do for the people of the province and its government.

"I will tell you on Monday next you can mark that X for Bonner and it will be the greatest day in your life and the greatest day for all the province."

Quesnel Mayor Alex Fraser, a well-known Conservative supporter, acted as chairman of the meeting and praised Mr. Bonner so highly that the premier said he might appear on Mr. Fraser's platform for re-election as mayor next month to reciprocate. Both Mayor Fraser and Williams Lake Myor Herb Gardner signed individual advertisments appearing in local newspapers which strongly urged voters to support Bonner. Mr. Gardner is president of The Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Premier Bennett said people from all parts of the province want Social Credit to win in the Cariboo and he read the surprise telegram from Mayor Rathie as proof . . . neglecting to mention its mispelling of the riding's name. "Please convey to the Honorable Bob Bonner my sincere best wishes for his success in the Nov. 28 Caribou byelection," Mr. Rathie wired.

"I have had ample opportunity during recent years to observe at first hand his thorough and sympathetic understanding of the problems of municipalities large and small throughout the province. The job he has done through 14 years of service as a cabinet minister merits the admiration of all British Columbians. I believe it is important to us all that Bob Bonner be given the opportunity to continue in the cabinet and also to represent B.C. at federal-provincial conferences.

"I hope the voters of Caribou will give him that opportunity by electing him as their member next Monday."

Mr. Rathie, who also is seeking re-election next month, added a post script to the premier saying:

"Please be assured that, as expected, I will continue my constructive criticism from time to time. Best personal regards."

Mr. Bennett said the Nov. 28 byelection is the most important byelection every held in the province.

"I say in all seriousness, this is more important than most of you ever will know and I say that as your premier."

He said Vancouver voters already were sorry they believed Liberal and press arguments the opposition needed support in the Sept. 12 election which saw Mr. Bonner defeated. Cariboo voters should not make the same mistake, he said.

"They're not interested in the Cariboo," he cried. "They're just interested in defeating this man Bonner because he's the right hand of the government.

He said he was misunderstood because newspapers abbreviated the reports of his Monday press conference in Victoria and gave the wrong impression that he was threatening the riding.

"What I did say at that press conference in Victoria was how important Bonner is on our team. Take out your best pitcher and what have you got left?

"I said it is bound to affect the government, it is bound to affect the province and it is bound to affect the Cariboo and I repeat that here tonight."

Mr. Bennett said there are four fine men running for the

B.C. CIVIL SERVANTS TO GET RAISE IN PAY

QUESNEL—Premier Bennett said there will be raises for civil servants next year but he would not disclose how much or for how many.

The premier, who suggested last month that British Columbia's 19,000 civil servants shouldn't be asking for pay increases in the next budget, revealed his changed position during the question period at a byelection campaign meeting here for Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

He began his speech with the warning that "It is not my intention to make any political promises at all because of the need for restraint in government spending during an inflationary period".

But 45 miutes later he was asked by a questioner in the audience whether the premier is going to raise government salaries this year.

His reply was short but emphatic: The cabinet and MLA's—no; the civil servants—yes. However, he declined to elaborate when asked for more details by reporters after the meeting.

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

Mrs. Pamela Jones, 1572 Richardson complained in our letters column Wednesday when garbage officials rejected her plastic garbage containers, then rejected her new garbage cans because they were smaller than regulation size.

Now hear this from City Manager Dennis A. Young. He says the city recommends a regulation size, a 3½ cubic feet container of not more than 19 inches in diameter and not more than 24 inches in depth. Anything bigger cannot be handled without undue strain.

Young

The city will cart away garbage from any can that is smaller and this includes plastic garbage cans. But the garbage men will only carry out one smaller-than-regulation can, not a series of them.

The garbage crews will take away trash from extra containers "within reason" if they are carried out to the street, by the householder.

Garbage crews in Victoria take the can from the back door and return it there. In many cities the householder must take it to the street and return it, himself. (We did this in North Vancouver). To do this extra work and maintain a schedule, some rules are necessary.

Mr. Young says the city makes cans for sale, but doesn't push them and most people use other than city cans. The city provides stickers to stores showing city approval for non-city-made cans, which often are cheaper because they are lighter constructed. But few stores use the stickers and the customer gets stuck.

Mrs. Jones and probably many other people may sometimes get misinformation from garbage handlers. They are only human. But these are the rules. And if any garbageman takes it upon himself to change them, phone Mr. Young. He's on your side. He has a plastic garbage can himself.

"Ill tell you who I'm going to vote for," said the man in the next seat on the bus, "I'll vote for the candidate who would put church property on the tax rolls in Victoria."

"No one will ever have that much courage," said his companion.

"Then at least he should ask that the question be placed before the electorate in a referendum," said the first speaker.

The exchange piqued our curiosity. We found out at City Hall that churches hold land assessed at $537,690 and improvements assessed at $2,933,260. If these holdings were taxed at the same rate that residents are taxed, the revenue to the city would be about $170,000—more than one mill raises on the tax rolls.

Now about one-third of that amount, say $60,000, would be earmarked for schools. (Might help cancel the effect of teacher wage boosts.)

The balance of $110,000 would . . . well, what would it do, we asked city comptroller Jim Bramley. He said we could borrow and repay $1.2 million over 20 years with that amount.

Then we turned to some figures Health Minister Eric Martin gave us the other day. He suggested a 100-bed hospital could be built to relieve crowding here, for $2.2 million. Federal and provincial contributions would reduce the cost to the community to $900,000.

Or as part of a district fund our $1.2 million would build a larger hospital or a convention centre.

Naturally, the churches wouldn't like the idea of paying taxes. But in all honesty, when so many more people stay away from churches than attend, is it fair for the non-attenders to shoulder the tax responsibilities of the churches?

And a new hospital, to relieve the suffering now imposed when people wait four months for surgery, wouldn't that be a Christian endeavor which the churches should support?

Wednesday evening we were approaching Hillside on Cook, headed for town when we spotted a motorcycle policeman waiting on a side street. We had planned a right turn to Hillside. Two lines of cars were stopped at the Hillside light, one ready to proceed south on Cook, one readying to turn right. Problem was, Cook, although plenty wide, is not laned and any cars proceeding down the right side were breaking the law.

So we virtuously kept to the centre, deciding to go through on Cook, and we said "Ho ho" when we saw the policeman coming and we felt sorry for all those cars ahead who were passing on the right. But all that happened was, the policeman passed on the right too. So why not lane the street?

Martin Finds Little Support For China Plan

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Canada made its much-heralded suggestion for seating the Nationalist and Communist Chinese regimes in the United Nations Wednesday but there was little indication of support from other countries.

Indications were that most members of the 121 - country General Assembly continued to support one regime or the other, but not both.

External Affairs Minister Paul Martin tossed the idea into the assembly's debate on Chinese membership Wednesday and insisted that it is not a two-Chinas policy. Nevertheless, that is the way most delegations appeared to take it.

Martin suggested as an interim solution, both the Communist government of Peking and the Nationalist government of Formosa be seated, pending settlement by themselves of their conflicting jurisdictional claims. China's permanent Security Council seat would go to Peking.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg declined direct comment on Martin's speech but said the United States stands "absolutely firm" in its support of the Nationalist Chinese regime, which has continued to occupy China's assembly and Security Council seats despite its defeat by the Communists in the Chinese civil war in 1949.

OPPOSES SUGGESTION

Nationalist China's UN ambassador, Liu Chieh, said his government "is categorically against Mr. Martin's suggestion."

In recent statements Communist China has been equally firm in opposition to the two-Chinas idea.

Ambassador Tewfik Bouattoura from Algeria, one of Peking's staunchest African supporters, said: "The two-Chinas theory is out of step with legal realities, as China is one indivisible country."

Japanese Ambassador Akira Matsui said: ". . . I would not expect the Canadian statement to have any effect on the voting for the Italian proposal for a general committee study of the issue of Chinese representation. I believe this proposal will pass by a small margin, with a large number of countries abstaining."

The Italian motion to which Matsui referred would simply instruct a special committee to explore all aspects of the Chinese question and report back next fall with "appropriate recommendations" to the assembly.

Goldberg has said the U.S. will support the proposal. Voting on this and on an Albanian-Cambodian motion to admit Peking and expel the Nationalists is expected to come next Monday.

opposition and any voter who wanted to throw sand in the gears could take his choice and vote for one of them, but only Mr. Bonner could represent them in cabinet, putting forward their interests 12 months a year and having the constitutional right to make motions in the legislature for spending of money on projects.

Both Mr. Bennett and Resources Minister Ray Williston praised William Speare who resigned the seat to open a byelection opportunity for Mr. Bonner.

"Rumors that pressure was used are without one iota of truth and it belittles the man who is sitting here tonight," said Mr. Williston, pointing to Mr. Speare, who also was on the platform.

The resources minister said Mr. Speare voluntarily told him he had decided to resign while the cabinet was still trying to find out who might step down. There was no force, he said.

Mr. Bennett, exhibiting some emotion, asked the audience to give Mr. Speare a standing ovation because he had not asked what the government could do for him, he has asked what he could do for the people of B.C.

Mr. Bonner spoke briefly and his wife was introduced to the meeting for her first public appearance on a platform in the campaign.

Only one heckler interrupted Mr. Bennett and the premier gained most of his applause in squelching him. The audience was generally friendly but about a third of the spectators twice declined to stand with the others when the premier was introduced. No one rose when he has applauded at the end of his speech.

ment long have been convinced that the South Africans want a negotiated Rhodesian settlement, without UN intervention, as much as the British do.

Now authorities here are saying Vorster has the chance to help and Wilson, in his message left, no room for doubt that in his view South Africa will have to shoulder some of the responsibility if it fails to press Smith into a mood of greater realism.

Wilson, sources said, emphasized Bowden's mission to Salisbury really does represent the last chance for agreement and that only a few days remain before the British, in the absence of some sort of deal, will be forced to go to the UN.

Two More Enter Aldermanic Race

With little over three days left before nominations for Victoria's civic election close, 10 candidates have announced their intention to seek an aldermanic seat.

Two men, one a lawyer and the other a retired forester, are seeking the seat vacated by Ald. Hugh Stephen when he announced his intention to run for mayor.

Lawyer Ian Stewart and forester Eric Garman are seeking the one-year term.

Eight other candidates will vie for the four two-year seats.

Latest entrants are W. A. Scott, a long-time campaigner for a seat on council who has failed to win a vote of confidence from the populace in previous contests, and retired former city employee Charles Thompson.

They join incumbent aldermen Cecil Parrott and Percy Frampton in the race for council seats.

Other contestants are Lloyd Clarkson, Hugh Ramsay, Mrs. Evelyn McKenzie and Charles Kingsfield.

men would be dismissed as long as the slowdown continued.

The ILWU sent a telegram to the employers Wednesday night that said slowdown complaints should go through normal grievance procedure.

The employers complained Wednesday that work on the docks had slowed, apparently in support of 190 striking foremen who are seeking recognition to bargain with the employers as a local of the ILWU.

The longshoremen's telegram said if production and efficiency on the docks is not normal it is due to the incompetence and inefficiency of supervisory personnel acting as foremen.

The union called on the employers to "use your good offices" to arrange bargaining with the striking foremen.

The employers called late Wednesday for assurances from the dismissed workers that they would do a full day's work if rehired.

The association's request was contained in a telegram to Roy Smith, Canadian area president of the ILWU.

The association said it holds Mr. Smith and the union executive "responsible in law for complete fulfilment of the terms of the collective agreement."

A statement issued by Mr. Smith expressed surprise at a court injunction reference Monday to conspiracy between longshoremen and foremen to put employers out of business.

There was no conspiracy as longshoremen see it, the statement said.

Longshoremen's action was just support for "reasonable and just demands" of foremen to enter into a collective agreement with employers.

The foremen struck last Thursday and stopped waterfront activity for five days until Monday when the employers obtained an injunction halting picketing.

Teamster Local May Rejoin CLC

TORONTO (CP)—Charles Thibault, newly elected vice-president of the largest teamster union local in Canada, said Wednesday he will lead his local back into the Canadian Labor Congress. Mr. Thibault, who Tuesday night was elected vice-president of the 5,000-member Local 938, said the local will rejoin the CLC alone if other local don't go along.

SEVERAL EXCHANGE JOBS

Sweeping Changes In Ontario Cabinet

TORONTO (CP) — Premier John Robarts today announced major changes in his cabinet in which two ministers will retire, several exchange portfolios and five join the treasury benches.

Leaving the cabinet are Welfare Minister Louis Cecile, 61, and Kelso Roberts, 67, lands and forests minister whose retirement was announced last month.

Named to the cabinet are Dalton Bales, 46, member for Toronto York Mills who becomes labor minister; Rene Brunelle, 46, Cochrane North, the replacement for Mr. Roberts in the lands and forests portfolio; Robert Welch, 38, Lincoln, provincial secretary and citizenship and immigration minister; and Thomas Wells (Scarborough North) and William Darcy McKeough, Kent West, ministers without portfolio.

Mr. Robarts announced also that Provincial Treasurer James Allan, 72, will be replaced by Highways Minister Charles MacNaughton, 55, in the treasury post but remain in the cabinet as a minister without portfolio.

Labor Minister Leslie Rowntree, 52, was named to the new financial and commercial affairs department. George Gomme, 54, minister without portfolio, becomes highways minister, and Citizenship Minister John Yaremko, 48, succeeds Mr. Cecile in welfare.

WAS UNDER PRESSURE

The premier's announcement ended months of speculation that there would be sweeping changes in the cabinet. There has been opposition pressure in the legislature for a cabinet revamping and criticism that Mr. Robarts was governing with many of the men originally named to the cabinet by former premier Leslie Frost.

There had been speculation that Mines Minister George Wardrope, 67, would leave the cabinet and that William Davis, 37, would leave either the education or university affairs portfolio. Both men continue to serve in the posts they held before Mr. Roberts' shuffle.

Also keeping the same cabinet jobs they held before today's announcement are:

Premier John Robarts, 49; Works Minister Ray Connell, 50; Health Minister Matthew Dymond, 55; Municipal Affairs Minister Wilfrid Spooner, 56; Reform Institutions Minister Allan Grossman, 56; Agriculture and Food Minister William Stewart, 51; Transport Minister Irwin Haskett, 63; Energy and Resources Management Minister John Simonett, 55; and Economics Minister Stanley Randall, 58, and Tourism, Information Minister James Auld, 45, and Arthur Wishart, attorney-general.

PREMIER Robarts said today he will not be a candidate for the leadership of the national Conservative party.

Haiti 'Invasion' Blocked by U.S.

MIAMI (UPI) — An ambitious plan to invade Haiti and replace dictator Francois (Poppa Doc) Duvalier with an exile priest has collapsed under U.S. official disapproval and Cuban exile bickering. But the plan may not yet be dead.

Reports from Cuban exiles, who provided almost all of the 300-400 man invasion force that was to strike last Saturday, say they still hope to mount an attack.

The "Operation Haiti" did not become known in its full details until Wednesday, after many of the Cubans had pulled out and had begun talking about it.

They abandoned the project apparently because U.S. government sources let it be known among the rank and file that they had better not try the invasion.

FESTIVITIES MOUNT

'Train City' In Rail Yards For Cup Fans

VANCOUVER (CP) — Organizers lit the Grey Cup fire here Wednesday night—and the fire marshal made them light it all over again.

The roast beef for the Miss Grey Cup pageant came from half a steer roasted on a spit on downtown Hornby Street and carried into the theatre-restaurant where the festivities were under way.

Dinner was a bit late, however, because the fire marshal ruled that the fire had been laid improperly and would have to be redone to prevent the heat from melting the pavement.

Inside, Dale Ann Young, an 18-year-old high school student representing Toronto Argonauts, was chosen Miss Grey Cup.

Runners-up were Jo-Ann Martin, Miss Saskatchewan Roughriders, and Marion Harris, Miss Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Miss Young said she had "never won anything before" and had been "prodded into entering" by friends.

"I had no idea I would win, really."

Miss Young said she was going to take her prizes—a convertible, a coat, beauty kit and hair dryer—"home and enjoy them."

"I felt numb. I was simply numb with excitement. It's been a lovely week and a busy schedule and I've loved every minute of it."

Margo Dunlop, Miss Edmonton Eskimos, was chosen by the girls as the most congenial of the representatives from the nine football cities of Canada.

Meanwhile, special trains carrying an estimated 2,000 football fans are rolling across the Prairies toward Vancouver and Saturday's football classic.

A train city of sleeping cars, able to accommodate up to 500 persons, will be established in the rail yards here as hotel rooms become harder to find.

'More Like A Canadian Celebration'

NEW YORK (CP)—An estimated 1,000,000 persons today watched New York's annual U.S. Thanksgiving Day parade —a parade that in some ways looked more like a Canadian celebration.

There was a big Canadian contingent in the parade to publicize the 1967 world's fair in Montreal and the Confederation centenary in general. The contingent had grace and beauty in the person of Miss Canada, Barbara Kelly of Vancouver, who rode on the world's fair float.

The 19-year-old Miss Kelly was to leave by plane for Vancouver later today to participate in Friday night's Grey Cup parade.

For the thousands of small children brought to central Manhattan's crowded streets by their parents to watch this annual fairyland of mammoth balloons and floats, the feature attraction was Santa Claus, played by George Pancio, an elementary - school principal from Olean, N.Y.

MOUNTIES APPLAUDED

Canadian Mounties in their red dress uniforms, escorting the world's fair float, were wildly applauded all along the parade route.

A mounted RCMP group performed a modified version of the Musical Ride in Herald Square, terminal point of the parade.

In the same place, soldiers from the Canadian Army's Black Watch regiment got encores for a sabre dance.

Ottawa - born actor Lorne Greene and Betty White described the New York parade for the NBC network.

The CBS network showed parades in New York and Detroit and, from tape, the Eaton's Santa Claus parade held in Toronto last Saturday.

Macy's department stores, which sponsored the New York parade, gave reporters the estimate of the crowd lining the route—43 blocks from 77th Street to Herald Square—and said another 60,000,000 persons watched the parade on continent-wide television.

Throughout the United States, Americans observed the day with prayers and family reunions, parades and football games.

Debate Vetoed

LISBON (AP) — Portuguese Premier Antonio Salazar's party newspaper today rejected a petition from opponents of the regime for a nationwide debate on political and administrative questions.

The newspaper Diario Da Manha in a front-page editorial said "dialogue is impossible" with opponents of the 77-year-old premier's government.

The editorial apparently was aimed at a group of 118 prominent Portuguese who two weeks ago also urged President Americo Thomaz to dismiss Salazar and form a new "transitional government."

Part of the Problem

OTTAWA'S DECISION TO raise National Housing Act interest rates from 6¾ per cent to 7¼ per cent may slightly increase the amount of private investment in housebuilding, although this is by no means certain at a time when money can be loaned at short-term for very high returns. If the change does attract more funds for housing it will provide a measure of relief for the building industry, but so far as the real Canadian housing problem is concerned it must be viewed as a retrograde step.

The basic problem of housing in this country is to provide reasonably-priced homes in sufficient quantity to meet the rising needs of the population and to do it with financing which medium and lower income families can afford. Up to the end of last year, according to the report of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the average price of houses purchased under NHA was $16,500; the average down-payment required, including secondary financing, was $3,000, and the average income of purchasers was $6,655. This is not providing homes for lower income groups and if it is considered socially and economically desirable to do so—on the grounds that homeowners are a stabilizing factor in society and also boost consumption of durable goods—then more effective measures must be initiated by the government.

For the families in the upper middle income groups who can afford to buy an NHA-financed home today, the increase of half of one per cent in the mortgage rate will not be much of a barrier. On a typical $14,000, 25-year mortgage, for instance, it will increase the monthly interest and principal repayment bill by about $4. Over the full term of the contract it will boost total repayment on the $14,000 to $30,075 from $29,975 thus draining an extra $1,010 of the family's income over that period.

The new rate thus may be seen as a possible palliative for a crisis-bound industry on which many other industries and much employment are dependent. But boosting interest rates, and tying them to quarterly fluctuations in government bond yields as will now be done, is no substitute for a long-range attack on the whole problem of the Canadian housing shortage.

To Improve Local Government

THE DECISION OF TWO ALDermen and the former city clerk to contest the mayoralty, left vacant by the tragic death of Mayor Toone, has lifted civic polling from the category of an "off-year" election.

The interest which conventionally attends a contest for the post may be expected to increase the number of voters exercising the franchise in Victoria on December 10.

In the adjacent municipalities, however, incumbent reeves are filling out their current terms. The added stimulant of competition for that office is lacking—and conceivably voter interest will diminish accordingly.

Yet the business of the municipalities grows annually in importance. Budgets, continually rising, claim a substantial part of the income of our people. Decisions made by the councils are of continuing importance — particularly as proposals covering such issues as regional development and hospital financing project themselves into the future beyond the terms of those who are elected.

Under these circumstances it is encouraging to note the persistence with which the Association of Women Electors of Greater Victoria presses its questioning of candidates. This year they are asking for the opinions of aspirants to school board office on such issues as reduced class sizes, improved library facilities, use of social workers and psychologists in the schools, and the eligibility of women teachers for posts as principals and vice-principals.

Simultaneously they seek the views of council candidates on hospital financing and regional board administration. They call for opinions on the sanitary sewerage study, on a recreation referendum, on high rise apartment construction and other issues of local concern.

The purpose of the Women Electors is twofold: to inform themselves and the public generally on important issues, and to remind candidates for office of the necessity to address their thoughts to matters of close concern to the citizens.

Their work deserves high praise —praise which can best be expressed by an intelligent interest by the electorate in the information the association seeks to make available. The outcome of such interest, of course, can only be demonstrated by the number of ballots marked next month.

A Worthy Suggestion

THE SUGGESTION THAT THE new school to replace the present North Ward School be named after the late Mayor Alfred Toone should be given serious and favorable attention by the authorities in charge.

As an alderman, Mr. Toone was chairman of the committee which studied the whole Rose-Blanshard urban renewal scheme, of which the school plan is a part, and he was untiring in his efforts to get it under way. Only a few days after his death word has come from Ottawa of the federal authority's approval of the rehabilitation plan.

As mayor, Mr. Toone was deeply concerned when complaints arose recently of the inadequacy of accommodation at the old North Ward School, and he involved himself personally in efforts to speed arrangements for a new building. Construction of the school will now have top priority in the program to create a fine new neighborhood in the area.

Mr. Toone was the first of Victoria's mayors to die in office, and the first representative of labor to hold that position.

For these reasons, added to his personal qualities of integrity and good citizenship, Alfred Toone might well be commemorated in this community by giving his name to the new school. There should be wide public approval for such an action by the school board.

Responding to Safety Demands

IT IS NORMAL ENOUGH FOR automobile manufacturers to call back new models in which defects become apparent when the cars are on the road. It is nevertheless significant that, since the passage by the United States of special legislation covering automobile safety, the producers have lost no time in trying to recall all suspected faulty cars—and their numbers run to thousands.

This is a commendable display of alacrity by the manufacturers responding to the public demand for safer vehicles.

This attitude on the part of the industry should do much to offset its earlier disinclination to listen to what one spokesman called "loud-mouthed amateurs" who were publicizing faults in construction hazardous to the driving public.

And it should be noted that attention is being given under the American law not only to the vehicles manufactured in that country, but to highly prestigious as well as very inexpensive imports.

The safety message is getting through.

"Diefenbaker . . . Diefenbaker . . . the name sounds familiar . . . wait a minute . . . hockey? . . . television? . . . er, music? . . ."

FROM OTTAWA — By MAURICE WESTERN

Distinctions Between Dief and Winnie

THE most extraordinary contribution to the Conservative debate on the issue of caucus versus party must be credited to Mr. Diefenbaker himself. In his final appearance on the periphery of the conference, he exhorted supporters to "fight on," reminding them that Sir Winston Churchill had been prime minister for 2½ years before becoming the official leader of the British Conservative Party.

Western

It is possible that in the tumult of the corridors, Mr. Diefenbaker was partially misreported here. The actual time lag was from May to October of 1940, approximately five months. But this minor discrepancy is of small importance. For at least two reasons, Mr. Diefenbaker's swerve into history is completely irrelevant to the argument now wracking the Canadian party.

No Relevant Precedent

In the first place, British party (as distinct from constitutional) precedents are of little value for our politics.

In Britain, the Conservatives have relied on somewhat mysterious processes of consultation involving in the case of Mr. Stanley Baldwin the famous 1922 committee and in later years other emanations of the parliamentary caucus.

Secondly, Mr. Churchill (as he then was did not form a Conservative government in 1940. According to his own account (Their Finest Hour, Page 4) he formed a "national coalition government."

In May 1940 the British Conservatives still had a formal overall majority of about 120 in the House of Commons. Mr. Chamberlain, however, suffered a crushing moral defeat when 90 of his followers either voted against him or abstained after a debate on the Norwegian disaster. He realized that the country was determined to have an all-party government but was speedily made aware that ~~neither his leadership~~ nor that of Lord Halifax was acceptable to British Labor.

'Drowned by Cannonade'

The socialists were willing to serve under Churchill and obtained a mandate from a party conference at Bournemouth to enter the coalition ministry. Thus Mr. Churchill became prime minister as a result of an agreement between the Conservatives and parties formerly in opposition.

The ministry was actually formed at the very time when Hitler was launching his offensive against France and the low countries. Mr. Churchill was not concerned about normal political difficulties because, as he wrote in his great history, "they were all drowned by the cannonade."

Unless the hostilities in the Chateau Laurier are to be compared with the Battle of France, it is difficult to see any similarity in the two situations. Except in the Conservative party, there is now peace. Moreover, the Conservatives have no present responsibility for maintaining the Queen's government.

It is perfectly true that Mr. Churchill was not, in May, 1940, leader of the British Conservative party. In the circumstances of that time, he chose deliberately not to seek the leadership, which remained with Mr. Neville Chamberlain until his health broke in October. When the question did arise, he reconsidered his position and (at the price of considerable criticism) decided to accept. He gave this reason for his action:

"Considering that I have to be in daily relation on matters of such domestic consequence with the leaders of the other two parties who are serving in the government, I felt that it would be more convenient that I should be able to speak for the Conservative party with direct and first hand knowledge of the general position which they occupy upon fundamental issues and also to speak with their authority."

But, of course, he remained until 1945 the leader of a coalition ministry relying first on Mr. Attlee, then on Sir Stafford Cripps, to lead the government in the House.

What possible bearing this chapter of British history may have on the existing situation within the Canadian Conservative party, it is difficult to see. There is perhaps something for the Diefenbaker Conservatives in Mr. Churchill's comment that loyalty to their leader has always been one of the distinguishing characteristics of Conservatives in the United Kingdom. But there is also this comment which may well fascinate the rebels of the Chateau Laurier:

"If they (the British Conservatives) had in some questions fallen short of their duty to the nation in the years before the war, it was because of this sense of loyalty to their appointed chief."

FROM WASHINGTON — By WALTER LIPPMANN

Historical Notes on the U.S. Position

THE centre of our greatest concern today is an unanswered question: As the paramount power in the Pacific, what is the proper role of the United States on the Asian continent? I find it enlightening to remember that while Americans have been interested in Asia since the China trade began more than a century ago, their present predominance is a consequence of the Second World War. By 1945 all the established powers in eastern Asia had been knocked out. The British, French, and Netherlands empires were destroyed by Japan. The Soviet Union was prostrated by the war with Hitler. China was ravaged by civil war. Finally Japan, the erstwhile victor, was defeated and disarmed by the United States. Thus, there was created across the Pacific a vast vacuum of power. Into this vacuum the American power flowed and washed up over the edges of the continent, on to the peninsulas like Korea and Indochina, onto the offshore Asian islands including Japan, Okinawa, Taiwan.

Lippmann

As one of the veterans of the debate about American isolationism, I understand very well the feeling of those who say that vital American interests demand that there shall be no hostile power on the other shore of the two oceans. The President is expressing this feeling when he tells us that the United States is fighting in Indochina in order to avoid having to fight later in Hawaii or California. That is the way Americans felt in 1917 and in 1940: If the Germans, who were bent on imperial expansion, conquered and captured the military power of Britain and France, the way would be open to the western hemisphere through Iceland and Canada in the north, through West Africa and Brazil in the south.

Mistaken

The President and Secretary Rusk are passionately convinced that we face the same kind of threat from across the Pacific today as we faced across the Atlantic in the two German wars. They are, I am convinced, mistaken. American sea and air power are, both absolutely and comparatively, immensely greater today than they were at the time of the world wars. Asian, or more particularly Chinese, sea and air power are, absolutely and comparatively enormously weaker than was Germany's. Therefore, though it would be much more pleasant if China were a friendly power, I believe that the true military frontier lies in the blue water of the Pacific and not on the mainland of China.

On the subject of isolation, considerable confusion has been left over from the debates which took place between 1914 and 1941. The real issue in those debates was not whether to recede into "Fortress America" or instead to sally forth and police the globe. The notion of "Fortress America" was a temporary aberration, a bit of strategical naivete concocted as a debating point.

Peculiar to Europe

The heart of the real debate about isolation was whether the United States should intervene in a European war. For from the foundation of the republic, the United States foreign policy has been "isolationist," that is to say noninterventionist, only as regards Europe. The American people have always been moving westward; they have been expansionist and interventionist across the continent and on to Alaska, Hawaii, The Philippines. It was against Europe that they turned their backs. Thus, in the First World War when Germany attacked the Atlantic highways and threatened to conquer Britain and France on the other shore of the ocean, President Wilson — deferring to the anti-European tradition of American politics — insisted that the United States was fighting not as an ally of Britain and France but as an "associate." In that war the American army fought under the supreme command of a Frenchman and the American navy fought under the supreme command of a British admiral.

In the Second World War there occurred an historic breakthrough and the results of it are the main concern of the United States today. America fought no longer as an associate and an auxiliary. It emerged as the principal arsenal and reserve and treasury of the Western Alliance, and it commanded the Allied forces in the West. This was the definitive end of our former "isolation."

In order to understand what this means we must remind ourselves of the other side of the coin. Just as America emerged as the principal power of the West, its European allies were losing their imperial positions in Asia and Africa. Just when America appeared as the Western superpower, the international order within which the United States had grown up was disappearing. The United States reached the shores of Asia in 1945 just as the Westerners were being pushed out of Asia.

Bond Missing

There was gone the essential bond of the international order as it existed until the end of the Second World War. The bond was the acceptance by the peoples of Asia of the practice of letting the world be governed from London or Paris, their habitual docility and obedience in the presence of the Western white man. It was this revolution in the habits and expectations of the Asians which compelled the British to leave the Indian subcontinent, which forced the French out of Indochina, which is today resisting President Johnson's pretensions on the Asian mainland.

The President and Secretary Rusk believe that the problems of peace and security are essentially the same on the other shores of both the oceans. I do not think they are. Across the Atlantic are the peoples who opened up and settled America. They are the peoples with whom most Americans share a common ancestry, a common heritage, a common culture, the same religions, the same basic jurisprudence, and the vast philosophical and artistic treasury of Western civilization. Across the Pacific are the Asian peoples, no less worthy than we are but with quite different traditions which they cherish as much as we cherish our traditions.

It seems to me a shallow view of the world to ignore these essential differences and to forget that while America is the daughter of Europe, to Asia it can only hope to be a good neighbor.

WORK APPRECIATED

May I express my thanks for the wonderful job done by the Joint Centennial Committee of Langford, Colwood, Metchosin, Glen Lake.

For three years, through endless negotiations with the federal government for the acquisition of the Colwood property, to the study of swimming pools, to the giving of information about the project to all groups in all the communities, they worked quietly and continuously.

Through their efforts our area now has the beginnings of the first public recreation complex on the Island.

Thanks again to Howie Drummond, Larry Greig, Wally Meakes, Walter McKay, John Williams and other members. — Valerie MacDermot, 4347 Metchosin.

BEYOND KEYNES

In his comments on the recently published book "Ottawa Editor" by Charles A. Bowman, your correspondent Bruce Hutchison acknowledges the core of truth in the Social Credit belief that "what is physically possible should be financially possible."

However, he then maintains that Canada has been strained to the bursting point because the corollary has been ignored: that what is physically impossible is financially impossible. In so doing he gravely overstates the physical impossibility of providing a good life for all Canadians from this country's abundant resources. There is no physical barrier here, simply a gross failure of the politico-economic system to adjust to the technological and cybernetic revolution which is sweeping the Western world.

The United States is the showplace of this revolution and right now — despite some $30 billions a year largely wasted in Viet Nam and on space travel — has the productive capacity to provide all its citizens with a standard of living far superior to that now prevailing. That it does not do so, that there is a "submerged quarter" of the population living in poverty, is not due to lack of productive capacity in any area of the country's economy, but rather is caused by a flaw in the distribution of wealth.

The solution to the problem will not be found in Major Douglas's A plus B Theorem, as Mr. Bowman still nostalgically believes. But neither will it be found in the Keynesian doctrine on which Mr. Hutchison pins his hopes. It will be necessary to go far beyond Lord Keynes for this is a far different world from any which he imagined. A few economists, such as Theobald, are pointing the way but a great deal of economic, political and psychological inertia must be overcome before the path ahead can be cleared. — A plus B plus X

Looking Back

From The Times of Nov. 24, 1906:

A Victoria young lady, Miss Charlotte Spencer, daughter of the head of the firm of D. Spencer, Limited, has been selected by one of the world's greatest singers, Madame Albani, to accompany her on her forthcoming tour round the world. She will join the renowned soprano in New Zealand soon.

Miss Spencer obtained her preliminary training in Victoria, completing her course in vocal culture for two or three years at Minneapolis, under one of the best teachers there.

THE POOR: Must We Have Them With Us Always?

By THELMA McCORMACK

(These are excerpts from an address given by Mrs. McCormack at the recent 73rd annual meeting of the YWCA in Toronto.)

Wars on poverty have their pacifists and conscientious objectors.

Most of them belong to an older generation which held poverty to be inevitable, nature's way of eliminating the unfit.

In the more recent folklore of capitalism, modern economies were described as "affluent," and poverty was thought to be contained, residual, a transitory phenomenon the dimensions of which were suggested by such terms as "pockets of poverty."

Economists of this area were predicting happiness and joy ahead with a rising standard of living for all, especially the underprivileged. Pie in the sky was a second helping.

As it turned out, they were not entirely correct. Gross National Product increased, as I understand it, but many still did not share in the feast, while some who did in the past were no longer included, and still others found the gap separating rich from poor was wider than before.

Once again the pendulum has swung back. Pockets of poverty look deeper, wider, and more menacing. There is less mentioned of what Galbraith once called "case poverty." No one yet has gone so far as to speak of "case affluence," but stranger reversals than this can happen.

"... We are among the few modern countries which have large numbers at this moment who are by any standards poor and who are grossly neglected by the most elementary forms of social legislation."

There is, then, a new social conscience and a new academic industry growing up around the study of poverty as a continuing and structural phenomenon in advanced industrial societies. Few social scientists today regard poverty as universal, necessary or desirable. Few expect it to wither away without the active and extensive intervention of public and private agencies.

Neither morbid or sanguine, economists and sociologists are re-examining poverty. Is it the rule? Not exactly. Is it the exception? Not exactly.

The line, line, that divides the poor from the unpoor is somewhat arbitrary. The poor are those who have nothing, but feel they are entitled to something; those who have less, but feel they are entitled to more; and those who have more, but feel they are entitled to something qualitatively better; the unemployables, the unemployed, and the under-employed.

The attitudes and behavior among the poor, the styles of life or what is often called "the culture of poverty" are not so much the consequences of income differentials, but of inequality. The poverty syndrome is produced not by economic deprivation but by a pattern of social relations symbolized and maintained by income differences.

Being poor means being inferior in a variety of contexts throughout one's life. Thus, it is as a response to this imbalance that the attitudes and motivations of the poor can be understood.

In many countries the poverty we tolerate has ceased to be a problem. Great Britain and Sweden have comprehensive systems of welfare which place a floor under poverty. Not always perfect, these systems reflect a decision which we, Canada and the United States, have not made, to guarantee economic security as the right of a citizen in a free society.

These European countries come closer to approximating the pyramid diagram than we do. Our horizontal line at the base is really not a line at all. It is open and persons may, as is their right in a free enterprise system, fall to any depth.

Various reasons may be given for our reluctance to adapt similar policies. On the Right, there is the hoary belief that the character of the poor is undermined by giving them something for nothing. On the Left, among trade unionists, there is a tendency to think in terms of individual worker and hourly wage rates rather than families and family incomes.

Right or Left, we prefer programs which increase opportunities for mobility, e.g., vocational training, over those which insure people no longer in the running, e.g., the aged.

Nathan Glazer who has examined these biases at greater length has put his finger on still another reason we do not follow European examples. It is, he says, just administratively more difficult to set standards with population as regionally and ethnically as diverse as ours.

The more pluralsitic or heterogeneous a society, the more difficult it is to find a common standard. And the greater danger there is that uniformity in public policy becomed discriminatory. If this is true for "melting pots," how much truer it is for cultural mosaics.

In any case, it is clear that we are among the few modern countries which have large numbers at this moment who are by any standards poor and who are grossly neglected by the most elementary forms of social legislation.

"In the eyes of the poor we condone poverty by our acquiescence. And to condone it is to sanction it."

This is a social fact of the utmost importance. In the eyes of the poor, we condone poverty by our acquiescence. And to condone it is to sanction it.

The profiles of the poor are varied. But a composite picture shows persons living below subsistence levels, undernourished, uncertain of the rented roof over their heads, producing families of seven and eight children. On almost any of the indices of social disorganization — illegitimacy, delinquency, school drop-out, mental illness — the rates are higher among low income groups.

The "pockets of poverty," a psychiatrist said, "are also pockets of many kinds of psychopathology, mostly untreated."

The outcasts of society are frequently invisible, particularly when they are in the rural areas like the Manitoba Metis family at left. Somewhat more visible are the urban poor in the rundown slum areas of town and cities. But rural or urban it is often a case of "Out of sight, out of mind".

The Old Left called these people the "lumpen-proletariat" to suggest that they were not just poorer than most, but outcasts.

The probability is high that their children will be outcasts, too. Everything conspires against them. With few exceptions their fate is sealed before they ever walk across the threshold of schools which would have failed them in any event.

The indigent beget the indigent.

The outcasts are, as Michael Harrington points out, frequently invisible. Living on reservations, in small rural towns, behind factories in downtown slums, crowded into ethnic ghettos or scattered along the countryside living in tar paper shacks on submarginal land, they are out of sight and out of mind.

"When the revolution of rising expectations meets the revolution of rising frustrations, the results are apt to be nasty."

In addition, they are too dispersed and too inexperienced to make themselves felt politically.

More visible are the respectable city poor whose families are intact, whose children are neat and attend school regularly, whose dwellings are clean. But their incomes are precarious, from employment which is unsteady, poorly paid, non-union, unskilled, in seasonal industries.

Such people hover at the poverty line, crossing back and forth several times in the course of their adult lives. Unless they are very lucky, they are below it in their declining years.

Then, too, there are those steadily employed, even good earners, but whose personal and family lives are so unstable that their children do poorly in schools; schools that are neither the best nor the worst; but not good enough considering the incipient educational and socialization problems.

Thus, they enter the labor market too early and badly prepared, handicapped by school records, embittered by school experience. Drifters, they constitute an adolescent proletariat, on and off the labor market, unlikely to achieve the economic levels of their fathers.

Notice that these subgroups, first described by S. M. Miller, are not just static income classes. They take into consideration the life span of a family and include two generations.

This appears to be a more fruitful way of looking at poverty in a society where income has widely different meanings and where technological change is taking place at a rapid rate.

With respect to the latter, there are many persons today who are above the poverty line but whose children will fall below although they have more education and are better trained than their parents. Categories of jobs to which many aspire, and for which they train, simply disappear between the generations.

It is difficult to imagine a situation more politically explosive than the combination of downward mobility and economic growth. When the revolution of rising expectations meets the revolution of rising frustrations, the results are apt to be nasty.

I suspect this is one reason politicians are concered about poverty although the poverty vote is of no immediate importance to them.

Automation is one factor influencing the number, nature and distribution of jobs. But it is by no means the only one. In political and social terms, under-employment may be more serious.

Paul Goodman reminds us

"... There are many persons today who are above the poverty line but whose children will fall below although they have more education and are better trained than their parents."

that a young person employed on a deadend job, doing work that adds nothing to his self esteem or to the community may pay his way, but at the price of alienation from himself and from the goals of the larger community.

More and better education without more and better jobs is a more inflammable poverty than the extreme forms of economic deprivation.

To combat poverty, it is not enough to know how many or who are included in the definition. It is necessary further to understand in depth how the poor experience life, how they think, what they believe about themselves and about us.

Studies done by sociologists comparing socio-economic classes indicate that low income groups have a different frame-of-reference from middle or high income groups. Their attitudes, social norms, priorities taken together give the impression of groups living worlds apart, a stratified society held together by a slender consensus.

From one study we learn that the focus of the poor is "trouble" and how to keep out of it; not, as in the middle class, "achievement" and how to realize it. From another that working class people tend to be fatalistic, convinced that their fortunes and misfortunes are beyond their control, unlike the middle class with its typical confidence that it can order affairs to suit its needs.

Other studies have pointed to different time orientations: the middle classes are future directed, while low income groups are past (traditional) or present directed.

Various studies show that the poor spend what money they have, and spend it on hedonistic pleasures.

These are a few of the differences noted in the literature. Some of them have been questioned; some are not consistent with others. I am somewhat suspicous of them myself. They seem to exaggerate deficiencies of the Protestant Ethic as Weber described it.

Should these values be changed or should they be maintained and recognized as equal, if not superior, to those of the middle classes?

Conservatives insist that if the underprivileged are unwilling to adopt the norms of the middle-class they have only themselves to blame for their plight.

Critics of contempory society are enchanted by working class folkways and mores. They find little to admire in the tough, competitive, over-controlled, self-seeking manipulative middle class structure. To them the value system of the working class represents the free spirit, the noble savage, the only source of true or authentic experience, and — if they are Marxists — the future.

A third alternative neither deplores nor romanticizes the value configurations of either class. Instead, they are seen as concomitants of a power relationship in which the poor are always in a subordinate role, receiving orders, but never directing; acted upon by others but unable to act.

Male or female, employed or unemployed, the poor lack political, economic and social bargaining power. Deprived of opportunities to learn skills of organizing, advising, decision-making, and unaccustomed to responsibility, they are unequipped for anything but a unilateral relationship which is what they do, in fact encounter.

"... The focus of the poor is 'trouble' and how to keep out of it; not as in the middle class, 'achievement' and how to realize it."

Through the process of child-parent identification, their habits of dependency are passed on to their children. The alienation of one generation become the learned behavior of the next, and the internalized self image in the third.

If this explanation is correct, the key to the value system of poverty is institutional and inter-personal inequality.

Income differentials objectify and symbolize inequality. They cue the police officers, teachers, judges, developers and foremen. They are signs to those in authority indicating who must be treated with deference and courtesy and who cannot be shoved around, whose permission must be given and whose can be ignored, to whom actions are accountable and to whom no such accountability is required.

From the point of view of social action, then, the problem is not to choose between two fixed points, two sets of values, bourgeois and proletarian, but to recognize that they are reciprocals. The choice is between equality and inequality.

But the poor do not believe in equality. This is not surprising since all of us internalize

"... The private and public agencies working with the poor must become democratic."

the images others hold of us. So, it is not strange that the poor are convinced that they are inferior and undeserving.

Moreover, the poor do not sit around discussing the power elite or reading The Vertical Mosaic. What they do discuss are problems that impinge upon them directly and the behavior of those whom they encounter face-to-face: the rental agent, the minor official, the truant officer, the case worker, the city hall clerks and others.

These persons are functionaries in modern bureaucracies, not the people who make policies. But to a person on welfare, to a vagrant youth detained, to a man seeking work, it is all the same. The superiors whom the poor resent are their immediate tormentors.

From a practical point of view, then, the problem of equality begins with inter-personal equality, the attitudes of functionaries. The poor person must deal with representatives of organizations, many of them created for the poor but not by them; run for the poor, but not with them.

When they are operated inefficiently, the poor must not protest. If they are run by personality misfits, there is nothing the poor can do. If they are operated dishonestly, there is no legal action the poor can take.

The reaction to this has been slow in coming. And it is not the poor who have been most militant. Concepts like "participatory democracy" have been developed by middle class university students inspired by the Civil Rights movements.

Often they are the same students who find bourgeois values such an anathema and yearn to rescue the beautiful culture of working class poverty before it is tainted by materialism. Whatever their motives, they have dedicated themselves, as earlier generations of reformers did, to a form of social change which they describe as from the bottom up rather than from the top down.

Terms like top-down and bottom-up have a certain ideological force. And in a less centralized economy where neighborhoods were still viable social and economic units, neighborhood projects and street corner activism had some meaning. But such terms throw very little light on the nature of social action in the contemporary context.

The local or inter-personal problem is not one to incite the poor to seize power. It is to create an atmosphere and experience in which the poor become full members of society. And to do this the private and public agencies working with the poor must become democratic.

By that I mean, first, that the poor must be represented in them, on their board of directors, on their committees, and on their staffs. They are kept out at present with about as much justification as there is for keeping university professors off boards of governors.

Second, and more important, agencies dealing with the poor should be accountable to them. Social agencies often behave like big business, accountable to their absentee shareholders rather than their employees and the public.

Lack of industrial democracy is a questionable policy in business to judge from the costliness of inefficiency and industrial conflict; it is even more dubious in the public service.

Third, democratization means a form of service that is educational. The poor using the services of a social agency are very much like one of us using the services of a bank. No matter how often we go, we are none the wiser about finance. The transaction may be quick and accurate, the teller friendly and polite, but the experience does not extend our knowledge of a situation which has important consequences for our lives.

Similarly, a social agency fails if its clients do not acquire a better understanding of themselves, the agency, and the relationship between both and the rest of the community.

Finally, the attitudes of functionaries reflect in part the organization itself. The poor make good targets for displaced aggression, and until the internal organization of agencies changes from a rigid hierarchy, we can continue to expect insensitivity, callousness and other manifestations of frustration being taken out on the underdog.

Half of the battle will be won. But only half. The other half concerns power at the national level: jobs, socially desirable work, sufficient purchasing power for families, orderly and responsible technological innovation, insurance for all against the disabilities of age and accident. Inter-personal equality without institutional equality is whistling in the dark. The two must advance together if the war on poverty is to be a war to end war.

Those Pesky Garden Slugs Are a European Import

By DR. CLIFFORD CARL
Director, Provincial Museum

Dear Dr. Carl: Some days ago I discovered 47 slugs in my garden after a rain. Where did so many come from? What are their breeding habits? — Mrs. G.V.C.

Several kinds of slugs are commonly found in gardens; all are European in origin and all are pests. They are now so widely spread and securely entrenched that it would be impossible to exterminate them. Fortunately, however, their numbers can be controlled.

Carl

Probably most abundant is the Brown slug, about two inches in length and brown, grey, whitish or black in color. The slime it produces is sticky and opaque white in appearance for which reason this mollusc is sometimes called Milky slug.

Next in size is the Black slug which may be five inches long and usually blue-black in color. However, it too may be brown, reddish, yellowish or greenish. It is also distinguished by having the edge of the foot decorated with a yellowish border crossed by closely set black lines. The breathing pore is in the front half of the shield on the right hand side.

The largest garden species is the Great slug which may be six inches in length. It is usually streaked longitudinally or spotted with black on a light ground color. Its breathing pore is in the rear half of the body shield.

All slugs have more or less the same habits. They tend to be nocturnal, hiding by day under any cover where there is some moisture and foraging mostly at night. Water is their prime requisite. During periods of drought they remain in hiding conserving their body moisture by becoming inactive. With the first rain, or water from a garden hose, they are out on the prowl for food, sometimes even by day if they are especially hungry.

Food is largely vegetable matter. They are particularly fond of seedlings and will devour these even before they break through the soil plowing slightly beneath the surface to reach them. Many a gardener has wondered why his carefully planted seeds have produced no plants and has probably blamed the result upon poor germination instead of the rightful culprits. Almost any plant material and occasionally some animal material will be eaten by slugs but usually only when it is at or near ground level. The food is rasped away with a file-like tongue — a structure peculiar to all slugs and snails including the various marine forms.

Slugs are hermaphroditic. Each individual is equipped with both male and female reproductive organs. Any two mature individuals may mate and lay eggs. Courtship is quite a ritualistic affair in some species. Partners may circle around each other or follow each other in intricate patterns for a period of time.

Altogether nearly 800 eggs may be laid by the Brown slug in a season. The young hatch as miniatures of their parent and probably attain full size in a year.

Damage can be kept to a minimum by removing all cover in the vicinity of precious plants and by using any of the baits available on the market. Details on control and on the making of poison baits are given in a pamphlet available from the Federal Department of Agriculture and also from provincial authorities.

In addition to these slugs of the garden we have several native species that seldom give trouble as pests. Among them is the Pacific Giant slug, the largest species in the world which may be more than eight inches long. It is restricted to the Pacific coastal region from California to Alaska and is common in the woods of Vancouver Island.

Rising Incomes, Shortages Reflected in Food Costs

. . . serve 10 years

OTTAWA (CP) — John J. Deutsch, chairman of the Economic Council of Canada, said today recent food - price increases have reflected both higher incomes generally, and shortages in supply of some produce.

He spoke to a meeting of the Senate - Commons committee investigating prices, at which co-chairman Ron Basford (L—Vancouver - Burrard) announced the committee will not be able to hear the views of consumer protest groups until early next year.

The committee has received several hundred letters from housewives and consumer organizations complaining about rising prices and some retail practices. Mr. Basford said housewives should continue to write.

But the committee's investigation into the basic causes of price increases will keep it engaged until Christmas. The protest groups will be heard in the second phase of its inquiry.

FUTURE UNCERTAIN

Mr. Deutsch said the Canadian economy is at a point now at which it is impossible for the experts to say which direction it will turn. Much will depend on next month's studies of the American economy by President Johnson's council of economic advisers and similar bodies.

There has been a flattening of the upward trend of the Canadian economy, but there is underlying strength in the export boom. Whether the latter will continue largely depends on U.S. demand.

Replying to Warren Allmand (L — Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace), Mr. Deutsch said recent food-price increases have resulted from both a general inflationary trend and particular problems in the industry.

Rising incomes mean that people are prepared to spend more on meats, dairy products and fresh vegetables. Surpluses which hung over food markets some years ago now have disappeared and there no longer is the same depressing effect.

Moreover, production of hogs suddenly declined, causing a shortage of pork products which sent prices up and affected the prices of other meats. Climatic conditions in the U.S. reduced vegetable production.

Kanester Conviction Upheld

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lawyer John Spencer of Vancouver has announced the Supreme Court of Canada Wednesday upheld a rape conviction and 10-year prison sentence against Larry Kanester.

The decision — against which there is no appeal — reversed a recent decision by the British Columbia Court of Appeal, which quashed Kanester's rape conviction and granted him a new trial.

Mr. Justice T. A. Brown sentenced Kanester to a total of 20 years in June, 1964, after a Victoria jury found Kanester guilty on two charges of rape involving two female students from the University of Victoria. Mr. Justice Brown gave Kanester 10 years on each conviction, the sentences to run consecutively.

One of the charges was later dropped.

While in Oakalla prison farm awaiting his appeal, Kanester was transferred to the provincial mental home and escaped. He gave himself up after more than a month of freedom.

Kanester had two B.C. Supreme Court trials, two appeals to the B.C. Court of Appeal, and the appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Kidnapping Charge

VANCOUVER (CP)— Ronald Patrick Rendell, 17, was harged with kidnapping, escaping custody and breaking and entering Wednesday and remanded in custody until Nov. 29. Police say Rendell, who was serving nine months at Oakalla Prison Farm for theft, escaped from a work party last week and broke into the home of Mrs. Rudolph Nobauer of Burnaby and forced the woman to drive him to Vancouver.

Churchill Honored

PARIS (AP)—A broad avenue between two majestic palaces was named after Sir Winston Churchill Wednesday in the presence of his daughter, Mary Churchill Soames, and her husband, Christopher Soames. The street, formerly called Avenue Alexandre III after a Russian czar, connects the Avenue des Champs Elysees with the Quais of the right bank.

TEXAS GOVERNOR AGAINST RE-OPENING PROBE

'Journalistic Scavengers' Hit

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Governor John B. Connally of Texas struck heavily Wednesday at those he called "journalistic scavengers such as Mark Lane" whose motives he suspects have "political overtones" in casting doubt on the Warren commission report on the Kennedy assassination.

Connally told a questioner at a press conference that he had read none of the books criticizing the Warren report but had read a number of news stories and book reviews about them.

He said he still disagrees with the Warren commission on one facet of its investigation into the murder of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, but he said he sees no reason to reopen it.

Connally insisted he was hit by a bullet that did not hit President Kennedy.

The Warren commission said one bullet hit both men.

Lane is a New York lawyer who wrote Rush to Judgment, a book that is critical of the Warren commission and advances the argument there may have been an assassination plot involving more than one rifleman.

Lane was hired by Marguerite Oswald to represent her before the commission. Her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, was identified by the commission as Kennedy's assassin.

Oswald was killed two days after the assassination by Jack Ruby, a Dallas night club operator.

Lane said in New York that the governor displayed "an abysmal ignorance to the implications of his own testimony."

Lane said:

"It is to be regretted that Governor Connally has sought to terminate the search for the truth—an effort that has begun in this country so recently. It is even more astonishing that he has sought to bring back the days of McCarthyism, by questioning the loyalty and motives and those who will not accept a false governmental edict."

Asked to elaborate on his prepared statement on "political overtones," Connally said: "I am going to leave that statement to stand just as it is for the present. I am not going to elaborate on it at all."

Critics of the theory that one bullet struck both Kennedy and Connally say a color movie film taken by bystander Abraham Zapruder disputes the theory.

STUDIED FILM

Connally has studied the film frame by frame for Life magazine and said it shows he was hit no more than 1.3 seconds after the earliest instant the Warren commission said Kennedy could have been hit.

Since the commission's rifle experts testified that the weapon used in the Texas Book Depository could not be fired accurately with less than 2.3 seconds between shots, critics say there had to be two shots fired by different snipers before the fatal bullet tore into the back of Kennedy's head.

Connally was riding in the jump seat directly in front of Kennedy in the presidential limousine.

Connally, repeating his Warren commission testimony, said Wednesday he heard the first shot. He said he did not hear a second one but felt it hit him in the back like a fist.

He also heard a third shot.

He said his wife, riding in the other jump seat to his left, heard all three shots, and that they both agreed the shots they heard all came from "back over our right shoulder," the direction of the book depository.

CONNALLY

Connally said he first thought two or three people were involved in the shooting because of the rapidity of the shots.

HASTY SKETCH 'IS IN ERROR'

By JACK MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor who helped perform the autopsy on President John F. Kennedy says he made a diagram error in a hasty "worksheet" sketch which was not drawn for the final autopsy report. Some critics have used the sketch in challenging the Warren commission report.

Dr. J. Thornton Boswell said the diagram showed that the lower bullet wound was in the president's back. Actually, he said, the wound was at the back of the base of the neck.

But Boswell said the diagram was drawn quickly during the autopsy as "rough notes" and was not intended to be exact. He pointed out that longhand notes he made on the sketch gave the correct, precise location of the wound.

Boswell also noted that the written autopsy report and the official testimony to the Warren commission, which investigated the assassination, both locate the wound correctly.

However, FBI reports of the autopsy stated that the wound was in the back.

This led some critics to suggest that perhaps the wound actually was in the back.

If this were true, these critics claimed, the bullet could not have come out Kennedy's throat. Therefore, they said, the bullet could not have struck both Kennedy and Texas Governor John Connally, who was sitting in front of Kennedy.

In an interview, Boswell said that when he examined the autopsy photographs for the first time Nov. 1, the pictures showed clearly that the wound was in the neck. The photographs are in the National Archives and are not available to the public.

One of the critics of the Warren report, Edward Jay Epstein, used the diagram and the FBI reports to suggest the possibility that there may have been a second assassin.

But Epstein, author of the book Inquest, conceded in the current issue of Esquire magazine that if the autopsy photos showed the wound in the neck, there would be no further doubt about the autopsy report and that a second assassin would be ruled out.

CONTRADICTS CRITICS

While Boswell's statement contradicts critics who have based their doubts on the sketch and the FBI reports, some use other arguments to attack the single-bullet theory and single-assassin finding.

Boswell, a former navy doctor now in private practice, said of his sketch error:

"This was unfortunate. . . . If I had known at the time that the sketch would become public record I would have been more careful." He said the diagram "was strictly a worksheet—the same as rough working notes. You could see that by looking at it. It was very dirty."

It's sole purpose, he said, was to indicate for the autopsy doctors "right, left, front back—things like that." The photographs were to provide the exact visual description, he said.

As for the FBI reports, Boswell said they were simply wrong.

The autopsy report concluded that a single bullet hit both Kennedy and Connally, and Boswell said in the interview "there is absolutely no doubt in our minds" now.

Oswald Play Warmly Received

LONDON (Reuters)—A young British author's attempt to discover in a documentary drama the personality of Lee Harvey Oswald was warmly received at its world premier Wednesday night.

The Silence of Lee Harvey Oswald, by Michael Hastings, was presented at the Hampstead Theatre Club only one day after the third anniversary of President Kennedy's assassination.

The play used the actual evidence given to the Warren Commission by Oswald's wife and mother to try to recreate his past.

Verbatim breakdowns of the two women's statements were cleverly used for episodes in which the author tries to reconstruct Oswald's domestic life and quarrels.

When key points of the witnesses' replies were reached, the action faded into one of the imaginary scenes.

In between there were also short film sequences taken at the time of the events and some stills of the real-life characters of the drama — including piczures of President Kennedy—were used as a background for several scenes.

British Jobless Tops 500,000

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's growing total of unemployed has topped the 500,000 mark, it was announced today.

The total of unemployed for mid - November was 541,585—105,340 more than for October.

The new total showed a rise of about 100,000 for the second straight month. It brought the percentage of unemployed to 2.3 of the working force.

It was likely to revive pressure on the government for some easing of the economic squeeze. Prime Minister Wilson has spoken of 500,000 as a figure which might be acceptable when the current "shakeout"—in theory from less productive to more productive work—is complete.

A year ago unemployment totalled 321,264, the lowest November figure in eight years.

WITH U.S.

Big Commodity Trade Deficit

OTTAWA (CP) — The second largest commodity trade deficit with the United States in five years occurred during the first seven months of this year, reports the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

It cut deeply into Canada's trade surplus with other countries, leaving the balance with all countries at $107,300,000, compared with $383,600,000 two years ago. During last year's unusual trading, the surplus for the year at the end of July was $6,100,000.

The figures were contained in the bureau's final report for July imports and exports, made public Tuesday night. It showed Canadian purchases of foreign goods in July amounting to $737,028,000, a slight increase over last year's July total of $732,326,000 but 15.7 per cent higher than the July, 1964, total of $637,594,000.

Exports of domestic goods in July this year ran to $833,200,000, showing a healthy gain over last year's July total of $770,400,000 and the July, 1964, total of $772,100,000.

In the January-July period this year, domestic exports to all countries totalled $5,497,000,000, compared with $4,671,500,000, last year. In addition there were re-exports of imported goods amounting to $143,500,000 this year and $137,200,000 last year.

Imports from all countries in seven months this year totalled $5,535,255,000, compared with $4,802,513,000 in the same period last year.

This left Canada with the $107,300,000 surplus of exports over imports in trade with all countries to July this year. In trade with the U.S., there was a deficit of $600,000,000, compared with deficits of $619,100,000 in 1965 and $562,700,000 in 1964.

The deficit with the U.S. was counter-balanced by trade surpluses amounting to $280,000,000 with Britain, $72,100,000 with other Commonwealth countries, $51,900,000 with European Common Market countries, and $304,100,000 with all other countries.

The latter figure includes the surplus of trade—principally in wheat sales—with Russia and China.

The report also showed that between July, 1965, and July this year import prices rose 1.8 per cent while prices received for Canadian exports rose 3.9 per cent.

Financier Rules Out Pound Devaluation

MONTREAL (CP) — Lord David Ogilvy, a British financier, has ruled out the possibility Britain may devalue the pound sterling.

Lord Ogilvy, managing director of J. Henry Schroder Wagg and Co. Ltd., said Wednesday in an interview "measures taken by the British government to correct the balance of payments situation are succeeding."

He conceded, however, that some short-term money had left London during the last year in fear of devaluation, but that other investment was holding up.

Romania May Buy Heavy Water Plant

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government has heard reports that Romania may be interested in buying a natural uranium heavy water plant from a Canadian company but it has received no formal inquiry, a federal trade department spokesman said Wednesday.

Silver Price Hike Coming But No Agreement on Date

By AB KENT
Business Editor

Market analysts agree that a rise will come in the price of silver but opinions as to when and by how much spread widely.

Predictions range from "the not too distant future" to "within two years" to "ultimately."

Increases predicted vary from 20 cents to $2.70 per ounce. Current New York price of silver is around $1.29.

World demand for silver, especially for industrial consumption, will continue to exceed supply.

The U.S. treasury, which controls part of the supply through its current stockpile of 600 million troy ounces, has been disposing of silver systematically.

Bongard, Leslie and Co. quotes a private survey made in the U.S. in predicting that this disposal cannot continue much longer.

A strategic base of 300 million ounces will be reached probably by the end of next year, when demand for silver from other sources will increase, bringing with it a price increase.

Photography alone consumes a major portion of the world silver supply and, apart from its increasing importance as a hobby, it is becoming more and more important to industry and space exploration.

The Eastman Kodak Co. is said to consume silver equivalent to 10 per cent of total world production and the electronics industry of the U.S. in 1964 used more silver than Canada produces in a year.

Canada, it is felt, should continue to be the largest supplier of silver to the U.S. market for both economic and geographic reasons.

In any event the chances of capital gain in holdings of silver equities would appear to be good in the early to medium future.

Value of cheques and bank withdrawals in Victoria during October continued strong compared with previous months.

Canadian Bankers' Association reports debits to a value of $382.8 million for October, compared with $330.8 in the same month a year ago.

The figure is down from September when B.C. bond issues helped push it to $419.9 million.

Commonwealth Trust Co. and a group of its associated companies would like there to be no mistake about any connection with another firm of similar name.

The Victoria branch has issued a statement dissassociating itself and the other firms from Commonwealth Mortgage Corp. Ltd., which has reported certain losses to debenture holders.

Other companies associated with Commonwealth Trust Co. are:

Commonwealth Acceptance Corp. Ltd. and its U.S. affiliates, Centennial Mortgage Corp. Ltd., Commonwealth Savings Plan Ltd., Diversified Income Securities Ltd. and Centennial Insurance.

Canada Savings Bond purchases this year have set a new record at more than $2 billion in sales, of which $260 million is through payroll deduction, also a record.

Final standing in B.C. for payroll deduction was 47,657 employees buying $18.5 million worth of centennial bonds.

B.C. Life and Casualty Co. last month sold $10 million worth of insurance for a record, chairman Hugh S. Reid said.

Only 17 months old, the company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Columbia Beneficial Holdings Ltd., whose shareholders are mostly B.C. residents.

SAFETY DEFECTS

Cars Recalled Commons Learns

OTTAWA (CP) — Safety defects have been discovered in both imported and domestically-manufactured automobiles, Industry Minister Drury told the Commons Wednesday.

He did not say how many cars have had to be recalled. But, he said, recalls of Canadian-produced models have been minimal.

Donald MacInnis (PC—Cape Breton South) promised he could prove Mr. Drury "entirely wrong in that statement," but did not elaborate during an exchange in the question period.

Mr. Drury had been asked by Social Credit Leader Thompson to comment on reports that U.S. manufacturers have admitted 40 safety defects involving possibly more than 500,000 vehicles.

In a later question, Heward Grafftey (PC — Brone - Missisquoi) asked whether Canada would attempt to follow the U.S. lead and require anti-fume devices on auto exhausts by 1968.

Health Minister MacEachen said the matter is under consideration.

In Toronto, Ontario's transport minister, Irwin Haskett, said he'll get some facts for Canadians on the recall of cars by U.S. and Canadian manufacturers because of defects in design or construction.

Under the Canada-U.S. auto pact certain models are manufactured in Canada for both countries.

Canadian manufacturers have not given the same publicity to the recall as have U.S. manufacturers, but Mr. Haskett said he will ask them to declare themselves on made-at-home or imported models called in for modifications.

Dr. Morton Shulmán, chief coroner for Metropolitan Toronto and critic of auto and highway safety shortcomings, said Wednesday that Canada should have a law similar to the U.S.

'Merchants Walk Tightrope'

VANCOUVER (CP)—The average merchant walks a price tightrope, defence counsel Charles Locke told the court at a Mandarin orange price-fixing trial Tuesday.

Mr. Locke is representing two of 10 companies charged together with Leslie Burrows, secetary of the Canadian Fruit Wholesalers' Association, with fixing the price of oranges from 1946 to 1965.

He told the court the merchants walk a tightrope between selling at a loss, which is an offence, and combining to sell goods at an enhanced price.

Richard Anderson, who is counsel for four of the companies, said the accused companies had squeezed unfair competition out of the trade.

He said the companies had also tried to combat the practice by certain grocers of selling at less than cost plus 5 per cent, which is in itself an offence under the Combines Act.

He said there had been complete price competition at wholesale and retail levels throughout Canada and there was no proof the accused companies had formed a monopoly.

Totems Got Punches In After Fistic Fireworks

SPORTS

DOUG PEDEN, Sports Editor

Hal Malone LOOKS AT SPORTS

Two weeks ago when Ottawa unwrapped Hamilton 30-1, H. Malone's Fearless Forecasts appeared in a delightful position to attain remarkable, hitherto unscaled heights.

The proprietor of these priceless prognostications would simply suggest that Ottawa be given Lord Grey's goblet.

Think of it . . .

Saskatchewan Roughriders could be spared from annihilation. Several hundred Vancouver policemen would not have to make out their last testaments. Their dogs could gnaw on T-bones rather than on the shin-bones of Grey Cup celebrants.

For a change Fearless would have been Peerless. Remember, this is the department that:

(a) Gave you George Royal to win the Laurel International (how did I kno his corns were killing him?)

(b) Picked Mussolini to win by an unconverted touchdown (he ate the same sphagetti as Angelo Mosca and you know how HE turned out);

(c) Predicted the B.C. Lions would finish (Skrien lost the ignition key and they never were turned on);

(d) Claimed that this country would never amount to much until we had a national government (outcome pending).

For First Reason, Try Russ Jackson

After Ottawa mashed Hamilton I was practically ecstatic. I invented several new dances (Charleston, Bunny Hop), doubled the chikiren's allowances (what's a dime?) and said to my wife: "Ottawa will kill the West. Can't miss."

"That's what you said when you set out to fix the car," she said. "By the way I have to go into town. Can you spare 20 cents for bus fare?"

I gave her four-bits (a girl has to swing) and began to list all the reasons why Ottawa would win on Nov. 26.

They hac Russ Jackson. The finest quarterback in Canada, the experts say.

I don't know about that. But he does teach high school math. Anybody who can fathom the new math must be a genius. At least he should be capable of solving Saskatchewan's defences.

They had so many good backs that Rick Black had to adorn the oench. Maybe that's an important job. The way the price of lumber is rising, any piece of wood has rare antique value.

They had a lin that supposedly could contain the Viet Cong.

Before fleecing your pockets to bet on the Ottawas, what did they beat?

Are Joe Zuger and Frank Cosentino, Hamilton's quarterbacks as skilled navigators as, say, Christopher Columbus? Or Russ Jackson? Or for that matter Ron Lancaster?

Is Angelo Mosca the same animal who used to vent Willie Fleming's spleen? (See 1963 Grey Cup game, Vancouver.)

Remember, It's Only 60 Minutes!

Wasn't it noticeable in the eastern final that people named Herb Paterra and Ted Page were making the majority of tackles while Mosca was standing around like a man looking for a taxi?

Haven't age and injuries reduced the once great Prince Hal Patterson to a lowly commoner?

Aren't Gerry McDougall (31) and Bobby Kuntz (34) rehabilitated retreads? (In the starting Ottawa backfield, Ron Stewart is the closest thing to a pensioner. He's 30. Jackson is 29, Rick Black 25, Jim Dillard 27, and Bo Scott 23.)

Fearless does not wish to malign the Ottawas. They did not get to play in the climax to the Grand National Drunk because they lack malevolence or skills.

But the Grand National etc., is not a series. It is an entire season—recruiting, exhibitions, league arguments, semi-finals—laid on the line over 60 minutes.

If the Grey Cup was a two-game total-points affair, I would bet my wife and your life on Ottawa.

Herb Votes Once for the Prairies

Skills and playbooks aside, which team has the motivation?

The last time they let Regina in the final was 1951. The opposition was Ottawa. The score was Ottawa—plenty, Saskatchewan—are you kidding?

Need more. Four years ago, the backup quarterback to Russ Jackson was Ron Lancaster. Ottawa decided they needed Lancaster like Diefl needed Sevigny. This year Lancaster was nominated for the most outstanding player award. He lost to Jackson.

If Lancaster can lead a team that is 8½ points underdog to the national title where does that leave the Schenley selectors? With their heads in creme soda, that's where.

Before arriving at an unswervable conclusion, I asked Herb Capozzi for his prediction.

Mr. Capozzi is the retiring general manager of the B.C. Lions, and you can take the "retiring" any way you like. Next season he will take his seat with coach Wacky Bennett's Wunderkind and undertake the general managership of the world, especially B.C.

Mr. Capozzi didn't equivocate.

"Saskatchewan," he said, "will win. They're hungrier."

That's Herbert's view and he's entitled to (stuck with) it.

As the hour of truth nears, the feeling here is that Ottawa will prevail.

By how much?

My pool ticket says "26-24."

Yup.

Dineen, Armstrong Shine; Leafs Lose Third Straight

Victoria 3; Seattle 4

SEATTLE—Seattle Totems were forced into some first-period fireworks, and that seemed to be the thing that lit the fuse for their 4-3 Western Hockey League victory over Victoria Maple Leafs Wednesday night.

The victory snapped a five-game Seattle losing streak and pulled the Leafs' losing string through to a third game.

The Leafs, who move to Vancouver for a Friday night game before returning home to play the Canucks on Saturday, lost it all Wednesday in a 10-minute stretch.

It was a stretch instigated by a fist-swinging duel between Victoria's Steve Witiuk and rookie defenceman Bob Lemieux of Seattle in the first period. Witiuk, who had been embroiled in a stick-waving incident with defenceman Don Ward earlier in the period, clipped Lemieux with a well-aimed elbow.

Lemieux turned and went after Witiuk. The fracas blossomed when former Leaf Bobby Taylor, playing for the first time since injuring his ankle a week ago, rushed in to square off with Victoria rookie Neil Clark.

Lemieux received a double minor for his trouble; the others were assessed two-minute sentences.

The fracas seemed to instill new life into the Totems. While the Maple Leafs seemed to lose some of the skating spark that took them to an early 1-0 lead, the Totems came on like gang-busters.

Totems, cheered on by a good turnout of 8,103 "Scholarship Night" fans, completely dominated the next 10-to-15 minutes. They started the second period by scoring three goals in less than three minutes.

DAMAGE DONE

That made it 4-1 Seattle and, by time the Leafs regained their composure, the damage was done. Leafs scored two quick goals early in the third period and carried the play the rest of the way.

Bill Dineen, hard-working and Seattle's best individual performer along with goaltender Jim Armstrong, scored twice for Bill MacFarland's Totems. Defenceman Jean Marc Picard and centre Larry Lund potted the others.

Bruce Carmichael, with his seventh of the year; defenceman Aut Erickson, and Rollie Wilcox, also with his seventh, scored for the Leafs.

PRETTY EFFORT

Wilcox' goal was perhaps the prettiest of the night. Picking up a pass from Milan Marcetta, he put on a burst that left Picard standing still at the Seattle blueline.

That goal came at 1:16 of the third period. Erickson hit on a screened slider three minutes later and Leafs suddenly became very much in the game.

Victoria coach Frank Mario shuffled his lineup throughout the game in an effort to come up with a victory. That included the benching of all-star left winger Bob Barlow.

Wilcox and Gordie Redahl were the best for the Leafs. Redahl, seeing plenty of action at centre as well as on a wing, skated extremely well and was, individually, the Leafs' most dangerous attacker.

BONUS CONTRACT with B.C. Lions was signed Wednesday by guard Lutz Keller, who played with Victoria Steelers this season in Pacific Football League.

Goal by Greaves Defeats Poland

LONDON (AP) — Jimmy Greaves scored a fine goal Wednesday night to give Tottenham Hotspur of the English League a 2-1 victory over a Polish soccer selection in an exhibiion soccer game.

Greaves scored with a brilliant goal in the 40th minute, crashing a great left-foot drive into the top corner of the net.

JOHN OLIVER TO CLASH WITH TYEES FOR TITLE

John Oliver owns only half of the Vancouver high school soccer championship but the school could end up as the sole ruler of the provincial boot domain.

John Oliver and Templeton battled through regulation time to a scoreless draw Wednesday in the Vancouver playoff final. Since the league title is to be decided in regulation time, each school will hold the Vancouver trophy for six months.

But only one club can advance to the British Columbia final so the rivals went at it in overtime and Bill Bazaluk's goal gave John Oliver a 1-0 victory and the right to meet Victoria High Tyees, the Vancouver Island kings, in Victoria, for the provincial title.

BOWLER OF WEEK

Winner of city women's 20-game rolloff last season, Saanich housewife Doris Whitten has joined ranks of award winners in annual Times Bowler-of-the-Week contest. Mrs. Whitten, a bowler for 12 years, captured women's fivepin award by rolling 272-259-348—879 series in Monday Niters League at Town and Country Lanes.

Hockey Queen Final Adds to Friday Fare

Royalty takes over again Friday night at Esquimalt Sports Centre.

During the past four weeks, each of the four teams in the Esquimalt District Hockey League has presented its candidate for league queen to the fans.

All four candidates will appear together at the start of Friday night's doubleheader and later in the evening the new queen will be crowned.

Bobby Burns, ending her year as queen, will drop the puck at 7:45 to start the first game between University of Victoria Vikings and Tudor Monarchy.

In the second game at 9:15, Stocker North Americans will tackle the Canadian Forces Base squad.

Oak Bay Wins In Overtime

Four foul shots in overtime by Mona Robertson Wednesday provided the margin of victory as Oak Bay downed Victoria High, 28-24 in an inter-high school girls' basketball contest at Oak Bay.

Sally Glover and Miss Robertson each scored eight points for the winners. Ann McKeachie paced Vic High with 11 points.

VICTORIA HIGH (24) — Dicks 2, Anderson, Azad 2, Hallberg, Bourne, Ludbrooke, Newell 3, McKeachie 11, Vaughn 6.

OAK BAY (28) — Wills 2, Goff 6, Robertson 8, Glover 8, Smith, Williams 1, Van Schaik, Hayward 3, Mintoff, Farris, Cooke, Neal.

'HOMING' KIND

Gulls Start Going

Times News Service

The San Diego Gulls are really homing pigeons in disguise.

They proved it Wednesday night when they edged Los Angeles Blades 2-1 for their third straight victory on home ice.

The Gulls were forced to open the Western Hockey League season with 13 games on the road while the International Sports Arena was being completed.

They managed only two wins and a tie in the stretch and returned home in last place — six points behind Seattle. Now only two points separate the two.

FIVE-GAME STREAK

Seattle broke a five-game losing streak with its 4-3 win over Victoria and the runaway Portland Buckaroos downed Oakland Seals 5-1 to round out the U.S. Thanksgiving Eve action.

All the action came in the first period before a crowd of 11,921 at San Diego. Larry McNabb put the Gulls in front, but Al Langlois, newly-acquired Los Angeles defenceman, tied the score at 18:07. Les Ronson's goal seconds later proved to be the winner for San Diego.

10-POINT LEAD

Portland's Buckaroos, who lead the league by 10 points kept alive a string of nine games without a defeat with the victory over Oakland. The Bucks have won six and tied three in their last nine outings.

John Gravel opened the game with the Seals' only goal. It was Portland's game thereafter. Gerry Goyer tied it 10 minutes later and Cliff Schmautz put the Bucks in front for good with 23 seconds left in the first period.

Larry Leach, Dick Van Impe and Art Jones, the latter two scoring within 29 seconds of each other, polished it off in the final period.

WORTH FIGHTING FOR

Trophy will be this big in importance to Ottawa Rough Riders and Saskatchewan Roughriders at Vancouver's Empire Stadium Saturday when clubs clash in Canadian football final for Grey Cup. This giant replica of Grey Cup is being placed on British Columbia government float by designer Bob Wakeford during hectic preparations for Friday night's traditional pre-game parade in downtown Vancouver. OTTAWA LIKES IT

Weather Fine, But Footing...?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders have mixed feelings about the weather for the Grey Cup but they almost unanimous in their reaction to the mid-40 temperature at their workout Wednesday.

"Man, this weather is great," said fullback Jim Dillard on his way to a shower after a 75-minute drill on the University of British Columbia campus.

"But I hope the footing is better," he added.

Patches of blue showed in the sky during the Riders' offensive and defensive drills but recent rains have left the practice field slippery.

Corner linebacker Mike Blum caused some concern when he slipped during a pass coverage drill and later sought out Dr. Fred Davies, the club doctor.

"It looks like Mike pulled a back muscle," Dr. Davies said later.

"It may be painful for a while but it shouldn't affect his play Saturday."

HAVE MUSCLE TROUBLE

Blum is the third player on the team with pulled muscle trouble, but all are expected to be in top form for the Canadian Football League championship against Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Grey Cup final.

Offensive halfback Ron Stewart has been living and playing with the problem for more than a month and defensive end Bob Brown picked up his injury in Montreal last Saturday when Ottawa completed its humiliation of Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the eastern final.

SHARES CONCERN

Dillard's concern about a muddy or slippery field is shared in part by Frank Clair, but the coach says the presence or absence of mud won't give either team an edge.

"I don't think that mud will necessarily keep the score down either," he said.

Clair said Saskatchewan has a slight edge in one department—the 10-day break they have had since beating Winnipeg for the Western title. The break "gives the coaches more time to prepare for the game."

Moe Racine, the place-kicking tackle who won his first Eastern Conference scoring title this season, also is worried about mud.

"It's hard to get a good footing and you can't kick accurately when you're sliding and slipping," the eight-year Canadian veteran said.

CHESS RESULTS

Winners of weekly matches in the Victoria City Chess Club were Ed Seedhouse, Al Sheard, Reg Bennett, Alan Lane, J. Wouterlood, C. Scoones and R. Baker.

Bill Warwick Quits Nuggets

EDMONTON (CP)—Bill Warwick quit Tuesday as manager of Edmonton Nuggets of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League, club owner George Orlesky said Wednesday.

Orlesky said Warwick "decided to pull out of the organization" and made known his decision Tuesday.

Warwick was succeeded by coach Bob Solinger, who will fill both posts.

Buttons Defended For Seventh Time

Win McGuire and Martha Merryweather are having a long reign as holders of the city women's golf buttons.

The Uplands partners defended the buttons for the seventh successive time this week when they defeated the Colwood pair of Sheila Morgan and Margaret Grant at Cedar Hill.

Mrs. Merryweather and Mrs. McGuire will make their next defence at Glen Meadows against challengers from Gorge Vale

Mets Preparing To Release Terry

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Mets of the National League asked waivers Wednesday on veteran right-hander Ralph Terry for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Terry, 30, had a 0-1 record with Mets after being acquired Aug. 6 from Kansas City Athletics of the American League, with whom he had a 1-5 mark.

Mets said if Terry is not claimed by another team, he will be invited to train with them in the spring.

Two Rugby Victories

University school teams scored a pair of rugby victories over Oak Bay High School rivals Wednesday.

University's first team downed Oak Bay 11-6 and the University's third side edged Oak Bay's "B" club 3-0.

West's Defence Should Be Okay

VANCOUVER (CP)—Reports that the Saskatchewan Roughriders' defence will be easy pickings for Ottawa Rough Riders in the Grey Cup final were disputed Wednesday by Saskatchewan line coach Jim Duncan.

"Our defence gets better at this time every year," he said in an interview. "Besides, we've been able to make a few changes . . . plug a few holes."

Only one team in the Western Football Conference, Edmonton Eskimos, gave up more points than Saskatchewan during the regular season.

"We lost to Ottawa 18-8 . . . but the last touchdown came on the last play of the game and it didn't mean anything," Duncan said.

"We were on the second half of a back-to-back eastern swing when we played Ottawa before."

Wally Dempsey's return from the injured list helped Saskatchewan because his presence at linebacker enabled head coach Eagle Keys to move Ken Reed to the defensive front four.

ARRIVAL TIMELY

Ed McQuarters arrived midway through the season in time to chew up the Winnipeg offence in the western playoff.

"Sure, McQuarters helped us," Duncan conceded. "He is a good football player."

McQuarters rumbled 53 yards for the decisive touchdown after picking up a fumble in the final game against Winnipeg.

Duncan said he expects both clubs to stick with the systems that carried them into the Grey Cup final.

"We believe we can run some against Ottawa and we believe we can pass some," he said. "We are prepared to try to run a balanced offence."

HOCKEY CAPTAIN KICKED OFF TEAM

Russians Crack Down

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians are cracking down on the behavior of both their athletes and fans.

Two leading members of the world ice hockey team, captain Viktor Kuzkin and Yevgeny Mishavkov, have been booted off the team for the rest of the season.

Tass, the official news agency, said they were disciplined for breach of the peace in a public place.

Meanwhile, four Soviet soccer stars complained that some sports fans here poison the atmosphere in Soviet stadiums by drinking, burning newspapers, blaring trumpets and waving rattles.

They said these practices were picked up from habits dominating at some foreign stadiums and have no place here.

They suggested that authorities eject offensive fans from stadiums and make sure they do not have seats in stadiums again.

The soccer complaint was made in a letter to the newspaper Soviet Sport.

Hall Had No Chance Without a Warmup

TORONTO (CP)—Billy Reay claims referee Bill Friday misinterpreted National Hockey League rules Wednesday night and took the advantage away from his relief goaltender by not allowing warmup time.

Toronto Maple Leafs were awarded a penalty shot in the second period with Chicago Black Hawks leading 2-0. Frank Mahovlich was selected to go against the Chicago goaltender in the one-on-one situation.

Reay, the Chicago coach, brought veteran Glenn Hall off the bench to replace netminder Dennis DeJordy on the play. It was the first time a game's regular netminder was replaced for a penalty shot since the rule went into effect three years ago.

Reay, contending that Hall should have been allowed to warm up, said after the penalty-shot goal and the Hawks' subsequent 6-3 loss to Toronto that he's "going to look into this thing a lot closer."

"I never would have sent Glenn in there, if I had known he was going in cold."

The penalty shot was awarded after DeJordy was caught out of his net during a pileup just outside the Chicago goal crease and defenceman Pat Stapleton fell on the puck to prevent Toronto from scoring.

Players are agreed that a netminder has the advantage during the penalty shot play.

Bob Pulford of the Leafs said a few weeks ago that a player would be lucky to score three times out of 10 tries.

Bower Feels Glenn 'Had No Chance'

Several Toronto players agreed after Wednesday's game, however, that Hall had no chance against Mahovlich without a warmup.

"Glenn had no chance," said veteran Johnny Bower, who sat out the game in favor of Toronto alternate goaltender Terry Sawchuk.

"He was cold and all he could do was stand there."

Toronto captain George Armstrong said much the same thing.

"Frank had the advantage in that Hall was going in cold," Armstrong said, adding:

"He's been playing against Hall for 10 years and knows his weakness."

Reay said:

"Glenn is the best man in a one-on-one situation. I told him (Friday) that Dennis wasn't feeling right, but he wouldn't listen. Who is he to decide if my players are sick or not?"

Rule 19, section D, of the NHL rule book states, in part: ". . . When the substitute goalkeeper comes on the ice and starts his warmup, he shall complete it. . . ."

King Clancy, a former NHL player, referee and now assistant coach of the Leafs, agreed that Hall should have been given a warmup.

"Reay may not have been telling the truth when he said DeJordy was sick, but I agree the referee had no way of knowing that."

Manager - coach Punch Imlach of the Leafs said that Friday made the correct decision since DeJordy resumed the regular goaltending duties after Mahovlich's goal and finished the game.

Mahovlich said afterwards that the substitution didn't shake his confidence.

The Toronto veteran cruised lazily in on Hall's left side, gathered steam as he crossed the blueline, shifted to the right and swooped partially across the goal mouth to beat Hall with a blistering 20-foot drive that scarcely left the ice.

"If Glenn had stopped Frank, it would have given them all the confidence in the world," Armstrong said.

"On the other hand, it worked in the reverse, and the goal gave us something to work for."

The controversy stole the limelight from rambuncious Eddie Shack, who pepped the Leafs' attack with two goals and an assist. Mahovlich also scored twice while John Brenneman and Ron Ellis got the others.

Stan Mikita, Ken Wharram and Dennis Hull scored for Chicago.

In the night's only other game, New York edged Boston Bruins 5-4 on goals by Jim Neilson, Phil Goyette, Vic Hadfield, Reg Fleming and Don Marshall.

Bobby Orr, Boston's bonus defenceman, scored two goals while Pit Martin and Wayne Connelly scored the others as the Bruins' five-game string of wins was broken.

Agee Voted Top American League Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommie Agee, 24-year-old centre fielder of Chicago White Sox, was named Wednesday the American League Rookie of the Year by a committee of 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. The committee of two writers from each of the 10 league cities, gave Agee an overwhelming total of 16 votes. Jim Nash, the Kansas City pitcher who reeled off a 12-1 record and a 2.06 earned run average after a late start, was second with two votes. George Scott, Boston first baseman, and Baltimore slugger Dave Johnson each received one vote.

George Royal Retired On Farm at Aldergrove

VANCOUVER (CP) — George Royal, the first British Columbia-bred race to be named Canadian Horse of the Year, will stand for stud duty at part-owner Bob Hall's Emerald Acres Farm at Aldergrove, east of Vancouver.

Ernie Hammond, the other owner, and Hall confirmed Wednesday they have rejected offers to send George Royal to breeding farms in Ontario or Kentucky and have decided against returning him to the racing wars.

"I didn't go into racing to make money in the first place," said Hammond. "And we both hate the thought of the horse going where we don't know how he is going to be cared for."

Hammond and Hall propose to stand the horse in British Columbia at a stud fee of $1,500.

Both partners said a desire to do something for the British Columbia breeding industry was a factor in the decision.

B.C. Dog Stake Winner

Seiger's Madam Pierette, handled by Vancouver owner Ralph Richmond took top honors in the featured event in the Vancouver Island registered pointer trials at Cassidy Airport, near Nanaimo.

Madam Pierette was judged the winner in the open shooting dog stake, nosing out a pair of highly-rated invaders from the United States — dual ch. Radbak's Arko and Ko Ko Lane Wrenwood.

Ko Ko Lane Wrenwood bounced into first place in the restricted shooting dog event as American entrants took the top four places. Following Ko Ko were Huckleberry Happy Mac, Von Fran's Liddi and Kurk Von Greif.

PUPPY EVENT

Moesgard's Sweet Sue produced another victory for U.S. trainers as she got the nod from judges in the puppy stake. Three Vancouver Island puppies — Wolfsjarger's Fury V Spee, Wolfsjaeger's Gerda v Spee and Dealy's Rose Marie — finished second, third and fourth.

Island entrants took the top two spots in the pointer derby as Wolfsjaeger's Dax v Spee finished ahead of Patricia v Frulord. Next in line were Smerican dogs Maggie of River Run and Huntz v Frulord.

The trials were staged by the Vancouver Island Pointer Club.

Stolle Rated Best And King Is Queen

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Stolle of Australia is the No. 1 amateur tennis player in the world, in the year-end rankings of World Tennis Magazine.

Stolle, winner of the U.S. championship, was given a slight edge over the Wimbledon winner, Manolo Santana of Spain.

The best U.S. placing was fifth by Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.

The top ten: Fred Stolle, Australia; 2. Manolo Santana, Spain; 3. Tony Roche, Australia; 4. Roy Emerson, Australia; 5. Dennis Ralston, U.S.A.; 6. Arthur Ashe, U.S.A.; 7. Cliff Drysdale, South Africa; 8. John Newcombe, Australia; 9. Clark Graebner, U.S.A.; 10. Istvan Gulvas, Hungary.

Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the Wimbledon champion, tops the women's rankings.

Ford has a better idea

take the Mustang Pledge for '67

I will not pay extra for bucket seats.
I will not pay extra for a sporty stick shift.
I will not pay extra for wall-to-wall carpeting.
I will not settle for an automatic transmission unless I can also shift it manually...like Mustang's SelectShift.
I will not brag about my Mustang's Tilt-Away Steering Wheel.
I will not gloat over how much I saved at Mustang's new lower price.

Mustang Hardtop

Mustang's lower price — $2956*

There are three all-new ways to take the Mustang Pledge. All longer, wider, sportier. Hardtop, convertible or fastback. Whichever one wins your allegiance, you'll be smiling. Because after all, you'll be driving a beautiful bargain!

Mustang's motto "Bred first . . . to be first" means Mustang gives you much more for your money than the recent arrivals. And, (delicious thought!) Mustang costs you less to begin with. Will you now please raise your right hand?

"The Dominican Republic"
by Jack Currey
Friday, November 25th

PLEASE NOTE:
Information has just been received that the body of Mr. Robert Moran, who was to have presented a film lecture series on the Dominican Republic, has been found in a shallow grave in the jungles of Guatemala.
Mr. Moran was shot and stabbed by guerrillas while filming on location in Guatemala and has been dead approximately two months. The funeral of Mr. Moran will be held on Friday, November 25th, in Reno, Nevada, and the presentation of this series will be a fitting tribute to his memory. His partner, Mr. Jack Currey, an equally competent explorer, photographer and speaker, will show this motion picture.

FOR MORTGAGES

Mixed Reaction To Interest Hike

Mixed reaction to the federal government's increase in Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. mortgage rate was expressed here today.

The increased interest rate from 6¾ per cent to 7¼ per cent for private home financing was effected to draw more private lenders back into the home-loan field.

Many private lenders have deserted home mortgages because of a low CMHC return.

"I don't think it actually will bring them back," remarked J. S. Boorman, of Boorman Investment Co. Ltd.

"I think the federal government itself will provide the bulk of the money by direct loans.

"But it won't be the insurance companies when they can get a prime rate of 8 per cent other ways."

Huron and Erie-Canada Trust manager Douglas Abbott said changes in the National Housing Act rate have never been a factor with private lending.

But the opposite view was taken by John Fraser, of Royal Trust.

He said the increased NHA rate was long overdue, a reasonable step and economic necessity if private money is going to be attracted.

"Unless we resort to subsidized housing, there's no alternative," he said.

Mr. Boorman said he hoped the move would loosen up more money for speculative house building, which had dried up since early fall.

Because of this, builders in many areas have cut back their winter programs.

Charges Swapped On Korea Shelling

PANMUNJOM, Korea (Reuters)—The United Nations command here Wednesday accused North Korea of firing on three South Korean navy ships patrolling south of the demarcation line between the two Koreas Tuesday.

North Korea's account of the firing between Communist artillery and the South Korean ships claimed the ships had invaded North Korean waters and forced a shore battery to take self-defence measures.

Students Protest

JERUSALEM (CP) — Police battled demonstrating students in the Jordanian sector of this city Wednesday while the northern town of Nablus remained sealed off and unrest spread to the main towns of Jordan's west bank.

COMEDIAN Dick Gregory hopes to get permission this week from North Viet Nam to entertain American servicemen captured by the Communists. He said, if invited, he will make the trip regardless of how U.S. officials may feel about it.

AGAINST INTEREST RATE INCREASE

Scalding Denunciation by Opposition

By DENNIS ORCHARD

OTTAWA (CP)—The opposition vilified the new National Housing Act mortgage rate Wednesday although the subject did not become a matter of formal Commons debate.

Opposition pressure obliged the Liberal government to permit a three-hour debate today.

The NHA rate on residential mortgages skipped to 7¼ per cent from 6¾ with an announcement late Tuesday by Labor Minister Nicholson.

At the Commons opening Wednesday, the opposition was ready with the charge that the government was trying to shut off debate on the subject with "sharp practice" in timing the announcement.

Under a new rule, Commons business for the rest of the week had previously been settled by all - party agreement. The surprise increase came, they said, with no time left in the session to talk about mortgage money.

Reid Scott (NDP — Toronto Danforth) asked for adjournment of regular business to provide for a day-long special debate.

Commons rules call on MPs to advise the Speaker only whether such a debate is urgent, but Mr. Scott and a squad of other opposition MPs used the next hour to get to the heart of the matter as well, with a scalding denunciation of the rate increase.

HAD FOOT IN DOOR

Although Speaker Lucien Lamoureux finally ruled against the special debate, the NDP had its foot in the door and a later meeting of the four House leaders agreed to set aside three hours on the subject today.

When the flare-up had been settled, less than two hours remained for the day's scheduled topic — spending estimates of State Secretary Judy LaMarsh, including the CBC grant.

Jack McIntosh (PC — Swift Current-Maple Creek) quickly moved to reduce the CBC operating budget to $1 from $107,943,000.

He pasted corporation policy and opened the way for similar criticism by the rest of the opposition.

Only Conservatives voted solidly for the motion when it came to a division, and it was beaten 74 to 41.

Mr. McIntosh joined Creditiste and New Democratic MPs in criticizing the CBC for failing to extend network service to remote areas of Canada.

The opposition attack on housing was directed at a new government policy which pegs the NHA rate 1½ per cent higher than interest rates on long - term federal government bonds.

But the opposition claimed the government should have made more money available, instead of making mortgage money more expensive to middle-income and low-income Canadians who were already paying too much for loans.

By official estimate, a 25-year, $15,000 NHA mortgage will cost $1,389 more over its full term because of the interest increase. The full price is $32,217.

Mr. Scott said the net effect would be to send rates spiralling upward across the country.

Students Begin Anti-Nazi Fight

MUNICH (Reuters)—Munich students have re - founded the anti-Nazi White Rose Society to fight against the right-wing National Democratic party and its supporters.

The original society was a group of Munich University students who carried out anti-Nazi propaganda in 1943. In February that year, its leaders Sophie Scholl, 21, her brother Hans, 25, and a professor of philosophy, Kurt Huber, were captured, tortured and executed.

A manifesto issued by the new group said the National Democrats' election victories in the states of Hesse and Bavaria showed that "there are men in Germany who have forgotten everything and learned nothing."

A leader of the new White Rose, Rainer Huf, said today:

"The Nazis gained much of their strength from young people, and already at NPD rallies, speakers are calling it the party for young Germans. We must take this from them.

"The NPD is an octopus. We must have a bigger and stronger octopus."

SHARP WARNING

Nine Months For Having Marijuana

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Vancouver magistrate Wednesday jailed a man nine months for possession of marijuana and warned what he called "quasi-intellectuals and academics" in university circles that they are guilty of an offence of counselling youths to break the law.

Magistrate Gerald Levey made the remark in sentencing Thomas Lynch, 28, one of 11 persons charged following a raid by drug squad detectives on a Vancouver home Oct. 28.

A number of those arrested were university students.

"Anyone who lives in the quasi-intellectual or academic circles, and who counsels persons to breach the law, is guilty of an offence," said the magistrate.

"We live in a society bound by the laws — every one of us — and until these laws are changed we must abide by them."

Lynch, testifying in his own defence, said he was unaware of what kind of a cigarette he was in possession of when police arrested him.

"I traded it for another cigarette," he said. "I know very little about marijuana."

"That's a bunch of hogwash," said the magistrate.

Special prosecutor Wilfrid Heffernan said the marijuana situation in Vancouver is worsening.

"There is a complete disregard for the law by these young people," he said. "We have these university professors saying that it's all right to use marijuana when it is legally as serious as heroin.

"The only way to deal with these people is to give them a jolt. I am asking for a severe sentence for this man," Mr. Heffernan said, pointing to Lynch.

Ginter Must Pay

VANCOUVER (CP) — Contractor Ben Ginter of Prince George was ordered to pay $3,824.05 to 46 members of the International Union of Operating Engineers Wednesday by a three-man board of arbitration. The board found the contractor breached a clause of a collective agreement that provided employees working overtime to receive double time.

$180 Million Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian Centennial Commission projects —including more than 11,500 parks, recreation facilities and community centres — are expected to cost $180,000,000, the commission announced Wednesday.

Found Guilty Of Vagrancy, Jailed 3 Months

A Victoria man found guilty Wednesday in central court of a charge of vagrancy was sentenced to three months in jail.

A Victoria city police constable told court Gerald Clanton, 536 Johnson, was observed speaking to passers-by in front of the Government Street liquor store near noon Tuesday.

Const. Murray McArthur said he asked the man what he was doing and got the answer "I'm just waiting around to buy two bottles of wine."

Clanton was found to have $5.51 on his person.

Asked if he had employment he replied he was "too much of a drunk" to work.

He said he was on welfare.

Passing sentence Magistrate William Ostler said the "essence of vagrancy lies in the course of conduct."

Clanton admitted he had not sought work for a year or more.

Court was told he had two previous convictions for vagrancy, although both were more than 10 years ago.

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, NOV. 24, 1966—PAGE 21

Arthur Mayse

While Wild Bob Bonner is off riding the Cariboo ranges the big boss of the home ranch has been waving his six-guns in a most unseemly manner.

"Without Bonner," he declared to newsmen on Monday, "I don't think our government could do as much for the Cariboo —or the province."

This claim, or the last portion of it at least, is pure pre-election nonsense. Admittedly, Mr. Bonner has been the top gun of successive Social Credit cabinets. But with him or without him, British Columbia is going to get precisely the same hodgepodge of good-and-bad government that she's received for the past 14 years.

It is the specific statement by Premier Bennett, about what the Cariboo may expect if Mr. Bonner is unhorsed that should give us pause.

This is a very thinly-veiled threat and I heartily trust the hard-nosed denizens of Cariboo Riding will make such answer as threats deserve.

Provincial botanist Adam Szczawinski, known to hundreds of South Islanders as "The Mushroom Man," tells me he is delighted with the ready response to his appeal for information about ancient and monstrous trees.

"Today," said Dr. Szczawinski, "I have a number of reports on my desk. They keep coming in. . . . It always surprises and pleases me to find how interested people are in a project of this sort."

Never backward when praise is being handed out, I at once began to tell our mushroom and tree man about a veritable giant among broadleaved maples that stands a few yards back of Glen Duncan's roadside logging museum at Sayward.

"I know," Dr. Szczawinski said kindly. "I believe I have already visited that maple."

However, he hadn't heard about the huge, aged arbutus that dominates the south tip of Mistaken Island, a chunk of American-owned real estate a mile or two out from Northwest Bay.

Dr. Szczawinski listened patiently and I was tempted to tell him about the lawyer who once lived in amiable retirement a stone's throw from the tree with his pet pig.

Some other eager beaver wanted his ear, though, so I had to content myself with a word about the interesting layer of charred wood exposed where our home foreshore (Saanich assessors please take notice) has crumbled back from the beach. This we see as further evidence that, before the white man and possibly even the Indian came, forest fires swept clear to the saltchuck edge.

When our vigorous botanist has sifted and checked his data, he hopes to tag surviving kings of the primeval forest ("just as they do with ducks," he explains) and locate them on a big old tree map of British Columbia.

An interesting undertaking, and no man better deserves co-operation. Each year, Dr. Adam's warnings and identifications save a scad of B.C. mushroom fanciers from mistaking bad ones for good ones.

I am wondering if barber Terry Rodway's large female cougar bagged near Cowichan River could possibly be the old lady glimpsed by several fishermen in the streamside fastnesses up beyond Skutz Falls.

Her territory is — or perhaps was — the area near Henderson's Pool, a trout haven deep in dim and eerie woods.

One who has seen her — or maybe him, since the upper Cowichan valley is well-supplied with cougar — is Victoria angler Les Leacock. Les, in fact, almost landed heels first on the old deer-slayer.

With a fishing partner he was tolling through the tangles when a down-log barred the way. Les climbed on top of it . . . and out from under his feet bolted a cat from here to there long.

"We suspect she hung around all afternoon," says Les, "At least something let out the occasional yowl."

But the fishing was good, and they didn't pay much attention.

THIRD DAY of winter, that's today, but this mixed up Easter Lily hasn't got a calendar. It's a source of great wonderment to two-year-old Terry Geddes. He's a neighborhood friend of Mrs. Ross McKinnon, 2447 Dryfe Street, Oak Bay, who grew the lily. Meanwhile, back on the Prairies, Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, registered a temperature of 28 below zero Wednesday. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

He Got Mad At Something

A man who punched his fist through a store window on Quadra Street early today pleaded guilty to wilful damage when he appeared in court this morning.

Andrew Bosch, 24, of 2035 Oak Bay Ave., will be sentenced Friday.

Police said he was arrested after smashing the glass in the door of Individual Dry Cleaners, 2590 Quadra.

"I got mad at something," he told officers who found him walking half a block away.

Damage totalled $29.90, court was told.

Police said a breathalizer test indicated Bosch had been drinking.

Feared Death In Attack, Girl Testifies

A 20-year-old Colwood area girl told Magistrate Ostler today she was afraid she was going to be killed when she was sexually assaulted last Sept. 15.

The girl was testifying at a preliminary hearing in central court today on a charge of rape against Vernon Umphrey, 620 Huxley St.

She said the assault took place in the accused's car when it was parked at an Indian cemetery off Admirals Road.

The hearing was continuing into the afternoon. If the magistrate rules the Crown presented sufficient evidence to warrant it, Umphrey will be committed for trial before a higher court.

Rites Friday For Victoria Native Son

Funeral services will be held in Chaplin's funeral chapel Friday at 1:30 p.m. for Donald Alpin MacLoud, a native son of Victoria and former president of Esquimalt Lions Club.

Mr. MacLoud, who lived at 1174 Greenwood Street, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Tuesday at 61. He was an employee of the B.C. Telephone Company for nearly 30 years and was working in the engineering department until a few days before his death.

Canon George Biddle will officiate at the service which will be followed by interment in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mr. MacLoud is survived by the widow, Sally, at home; two brothers, Burton Charles and Edward James of Victoria; and several nieces and nephews.

INCHING ALONG the United Appeal today crept $1,529 closer to its goal as the campaign goes into its 24th day of overtime. To date a total of $433,242 or 95.8 per cent of the $452,000 goal has been rolled up. With nearly $20,000 to go campaign officials are resolved to continue the campaign until the objective is reached.

Yarrows To Hire 200 More Men For Patrol Ship

Federal Work Starts in May

Yarrows, Ltd., expects to hire an extra 200 men when work begins on a new fisheries patrol vessel in the spring.

Yarrow's manager John Wallace said today that actual construction will begin in May, with a delivery date expected early in 1968.

"The project will help to increase our manpower level. I expect we would put 200 additional men to work," Mr. Wallace added.

The period between now and May will be taken up with preparation of working drawings and ordering of materials, he said.

Award of the contract for the 180-foot ship was announced Wednesday by Victoria MP David Groos. It will cost slightly less than $2.8 million.

The ship will be similar to one recently built for the fisheries department on the east coast. It will be capable of 15 knots and will be powered by a 4,000 horsepower engine.

RESCUE SHIP

It will be equipped for trolling and dragging for research purposes and as a rescue ship, and will feature all-welded construction. There will be space for a crew of 34 and accommodation for scientists and fisheries' technicians.

RESEARCH SHIP

Yarrows at present is engaged in construction of a $2.1 million oceanographic research ship for the mines department and a $2.2 million tuna vessel, largest ever built on this coast. A sister tuna ship is under contract.

A self-loading flat-deck barge is also being built and two pulp and chemical barges and a newsprint carrier barge are contracted.

False Story After Crash Admitted

A motorcyclist who rammed a lamp post on Douglas Street last Saturday was fined a total of $600 in central court today.

Kenneth Mindenhall, 19, of Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, pleaded guilty to public mischief, impaired driving and driving while his licence was under suspension.

Constable Peter Battisson testified the accused told him he had crashed into the lamp post near Roderick after his motorcycle had been hit from behind by a car.

Mindenhall also gave him a false name, the officer said. Further investigation showed the motorcycle had not been hit by a car.

SCIENTISTS EYE SHRIMPS FOR MARKET

Scientists of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada's biological station at Nanaimo are focusing attention on the potential of the net-catching of shrimp in the outer coastal waters off British Columbia.

In co-operation with the industrial development service of the federal department of fisheries, the board's fisheries detectives have carried out a survey in Hecate Strait and Queen Charlotte Sound. This was done aboard the motor vessel Belina under the command of Capt. R. Wood. The survey extended over a 70-day period.

While it is yet too early for the scientists to finally assess the results, they have agreed that only one or two spots have commercial possibilities.

TWO TERMS

Griffin Not Seeking Re-Election

Ald. Michael Griffin announced today that he would not seek re-election to city council on Dec. 10.

The veteran alderman, completing his second term on council, said pressure of business and other avenues of endeavor made it impossible for him to seek a further term in office at this time.

His announcement brought expressions of regret from Acting Mayor Cecil Parrott and two mayoralty candidates.

"That is bad news," said Acting Mayor Parrott. "He will be greatly missed on council."

Ald. Hugh Stephen, seeking the mayor's chair after a one-year term as alderman, said the absence of Ald. Griffin on council would be a great loss to the city.

DISAPPOINTED

"He is a fine man and a fine alderman," he said. "I sincerely regret his decision. It will be a great loss to council."

Ald. Clyde Savage also expressed disappointment at Ald. Griffin's decision.

"Having worked with him on council I am aware of his many qualities as a civic leader," he said. "He did far more for this city than most people realize.

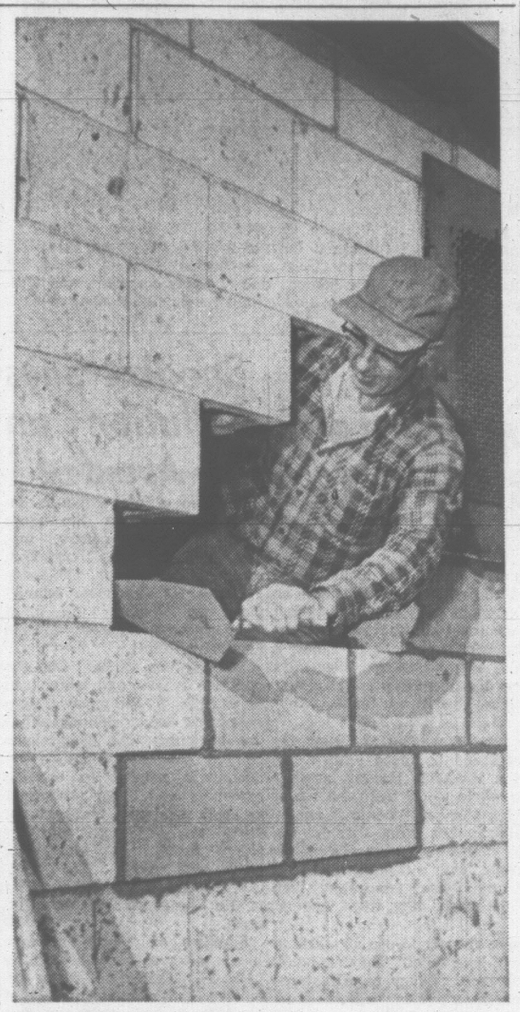
"I hope the people appreciate what a good man we are all losing.

"We members of council are well aware of the pressures which brought about Ald. Griffin's decision and deeply regret that such pressures could cost the city such a valuable man."

Ald. Griffin's decision not to seek a further term in office means that three experienced aldermen will be missing from the ranks of aldermen next year.

Ald. Savage decided to seek the chief magistrate's post rather than seek a further term as alderman and Ald. Stephen is resigning from council in order to contest the mayoralty race.

Residents Fear Cougars in Area



DETERMINED THIEVES used a sledge hammer in an attempt to enter Kelly Douglas grocery cash and carry wholesale warehouse at 2141 Government overnight. But the vibrations set off the burglar alarm and police arrived quickly. The hardworking crash-in artists escaped but store was not entered. Mason Dave Cunningham, above, had to remove about 10 cement blocks to repair two-foot hole.

Near Homes After Blaze On Mountain

By GLEN ALLEN

Nearly a dozen sightings of cougars in populated areas have been reported to local and provincial authorities in recent weeks.

No cougars have been tracked down or even sighted by hunters put on their trail.

But people like Mrs. K. C. Cronk, 4316 Blenkinsop, who says she has never cried "cougar" in her life, believes there has been more than one of the big cats in her 34-acre back yard since the Mount Douglas fire.

And to the Mount Douglas area man who lost a lamb last week, and to the family whose eight guinea pigs were slaughtered almost inexplicably a few days later, the presence of cougars close to the city is more than a possibility.

Just five years ago a large male was killed in the entrance to the Government Street liquor store.

Shot Dead

Another was shot dead on the steps of the public library one April morning a few years before that.

And cougars on this Island are thought to be increasing in number.

To Wildlife Service regional protection officer Bob Sinclair, cougars more often than not turn out to be German Shepherds, airplane noises, or almost anything but the real thing.

Mr. Sinclair who has lately been on wild cougar chases from Sooke to the Queen Alexandra Solarium says "99 per cent of reports turn out to be false".

"We always go out to see, just the same," he said.

Mr. Sinclair points out that cougars are about as likely to attack a man as lamb is a lion.

Going To Bite

"But you corner a mouse and stick your finger in his mouth, he's going to bite."

The latest and perhaps most convincing of cougar alarms was turned in to Saanich police by Mrs. Cronk, whose farm fronts on Lost Lake and is west of Mount Douglas.

Several times recently she has heard cries — reputed to sound like woman at her worst —found prints, and says a neighbor saw one nearby.

Member of a family that homesteaded here at the turn of the century she has never before been so sure her fears—or the fears for her goats, sheep and cattle — are well-founded.

Saanich Police Department Deputy Chief Joe Armstrong is skeptical.

He recalls the time he person-

CROWN SALES

Alaska Route Field Draws High Oil Bids

A new Alaska Highway oilfield in northern B.C. brought the biggest bids in a sale of Crown oil and natural gas leases held Wednesday.

Pacific Petroleums Ltd. bought a lease in the Inga field about 42 miles northwest of St. John, paying $506.98 per acre for 326 acres, or a bonus of $480.98 per acre. Total price was $165,626.50.

But sale of drilling reservation and permit acreage rights brought higher total prices.

A joint bid by Banff Oil Ltd. and Aquitaine Co. of Canada Ltd. brought $1.1 million for permit acreage along the westerly side of the Rainbow oilfield of northwestern Alberta.

RESERVATIONS

And Imperial Oil Enterprises Ltd. bidding with Pacific Petroleums, Canadian Superior Oil Ltd. and Whitehall Canadian Oil Ltd. paid $516.625 for a drilling reservation southeast of the Inga field.

Only 21 of 34 leases up for bids were sold. But five of 13 drilling reservations and nine out of 11 permits for sale were knocked down to bidders.

Total revenue brought in was $4.477 million made up of:

$47,715 for statutory fees and rentals,

$4.43 million as bonuses on the parcels offered, including $1.38 million for leases, $1.12 million for drilling reservations and $1.9 million for permits.

Horses Loose, Owner Fined

Edith Hancock of 645 Goyette, was fined $15 today after pleading guilty to having horses at large.

The fine, under a Saanich by-law, was levied after court was told three of the Hancock horses broke through a fence and caused about $100 damage to a neighbor's garden and lawn Wednesday.

Inboard Boat Reported Stolen

A city man told police Wednesday his $350 boat had been stolen from Fisherman's Wharf off Erie Street some time in the past three weeks.

Norman King, 2210 Sayward, said the "Sadie II" is a 14-foot inboard with white cabin and green hull.

Ask The Times

Q—Is there, or was there ever, such an animal as a yale? B.N.

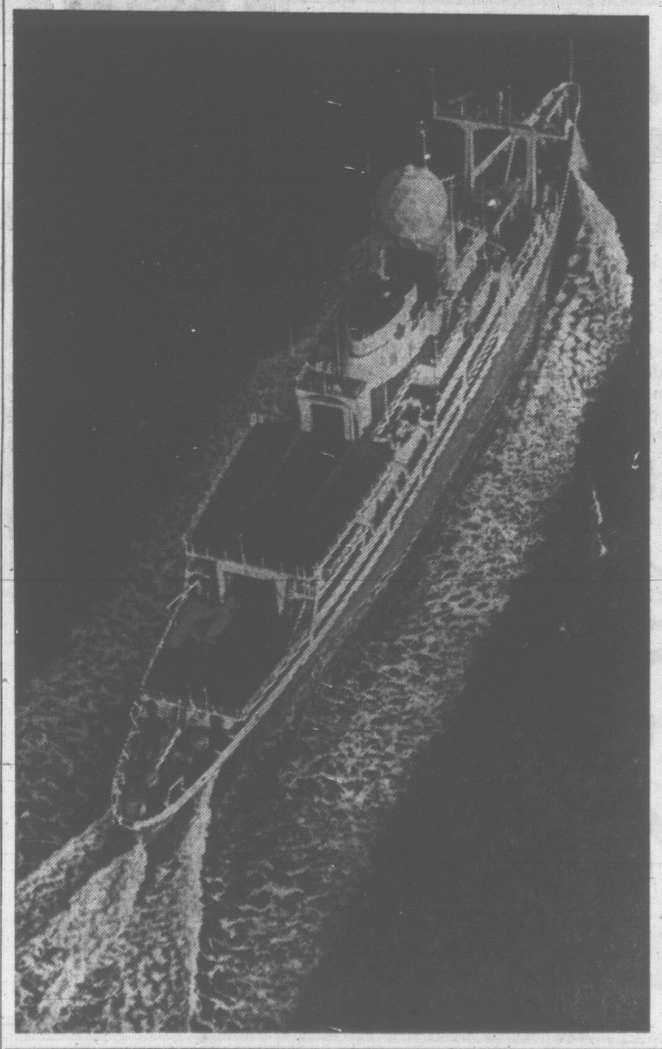
A — Not likely. This exotic hybrid of boar and stag, whose most striking characteristic is the ability to swivel its horns about at will, is popular in heraldry, but quite fanciful. "The Queen's Beasts" says the yale was first used as a heraldic device by Henry VII.

Q—What is the correct title of the country of Brazil.

A—Estados Unidos do Brazil.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problmes. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.



HAWAII CRUISE WEATHERSHIP'S FINAL HURDLE

The $12 million weathership Vancouver sailed today for a three week shakedown cruise to Hawaii.

Aboard the modern, department of transport vessel (shown at left) were hordes of technicians and specialists who will check out all aspects of the ship's apparatus during the voyage.

The shakedown cruise has been delayed several times due to a number of minor and major problems aboard the ship.

Now, however, she looks all set for her first stint of duty on weather station Papa in mid January.

After a couple of days in Hawaii, during which time she will refuel, the Vancouver will head for San Francisco, arriving back in Victoria between Dec. 16 and 20.

While the Vancouver is heading for Hawaii, three Esquimalt-based warships are on their way back from the sunny Pacific paradise.

HMC ships Qu'Appelle, Mackenzie and Saskatchewan will tie up at dockyard 11 a.m. Friday.

During the tour, they have carried out anti-submarine exercises with ships of the U.S. Pacific fleet.

As they enter the harbor, the salute will be taken for the first time by RCAF Group Captain R. S. Turnbull who was recently appointed chief of staff (administration and personnel) at Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt.

A fourth Esquimalt warship, the ocean-escort Beacon Hill, will leave Monday for a two week training cruise to San Diego.

Commanding her, on his first operational cruise to a foreign port as commander, will be Lieutenant Sidney C. Gould of Victoria.

The nine officers and 106 men aboard will receive training in seamanship and navigation during the trip. They return to port Dec. 9.

Hard-Working Auxiliary Raises Over $5,500 in One-Day Effort

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital must be among the most weary ... but elated ... women in town today. They held an all-day bazaar in the nurses' residence Wednesday (the affair lasted from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.) and netted $5,569.76 for their hospital work.

The successful affair was opened by Mrs. E. G. Q. Van Tilburg, wife of the hospital's medical administrator, and convened by Mrs. Thomas Atkinson. President Mrs. Connie Baker greeted as many of the hundreds of guests as it is humanly possible for one person to meet and Mrs. F. G. Stuart's catering list must have looked as if she was victualling an army — so many enjoyed the delicious refreshments that were served at the afternoon tea she arranged.

Those who arrived early enough for luncheon were treated to a delicious turkey meal, complete with all the trimmings.

QUEUES, QUEUES!

It's a good job that the stalls were overflowing at the start of the bazaar for the demand for bargains that were offered seemed never ending. Cakes, pies and other goodies had canny shoppers making for the home-baking stall from the time the doors opened. Kept busy filling their orders were Mrs. G. B. McKenzie, Mrs. Gordon Hewitt, Mrs. Ken Wilson, Mrs. D. Rees, Mrs. E. M. Sloan, Mrs. C. Paluck, Mrs. G. Welsh and Mrs. E. Edlund.

Santa's helpers were obviously delighted as they shopped at a stall of toys and gifts, convened by Mrs. R. Kay and Mrs. H. Marden. Also with the holiday season in mind, a steady line of shoppers kept Mrs. M. Adkisson and Mrs. R. Kullman busy at the Christmas stall.

Calorie-counters found their willpower tested to the full at a delicatessen stall, arranged by Mrs. S. R. Steele, Mrs. W. Shipley and Mrs. E. Barraud. And, for those who love a bit of a gamble, there were raffles galore. These were run by Mrs. Vincent Madden, Mrs. D. Simmons, Mrs. D. Rogers and Mrs. H. Fletcher.

STALL CONVENERS

Other stall conveners were: Lucky Seven, Mrs. F. Sim. Mrs. P. Shipley and Mrs. R. C. Crook; baby items, Mrs. H. O'Neill, Mrs. P. W. Semenchuk, Mrs. Bessie Marriott and Mrs. G. Bowes; post office, Mrs. G Ryan and Mrs. P. Rose; fancywork, Mrs. R. Atkinson and Mrs. C. N. Montague; candy, Mrs. W. Hayward and Mrs. A. Kissinger; French room, Mrs. W. Rogers and Mrs. M. Beasley; aprons, Mrs. J Soutar, Mrs. E. McLellan and Mrs. C. Sluggett; coffee bar, Mrs. A. D. Davis and Mrs Peter Sallaway; religious articles, Marie Bruch and Miss G. Silver.

Artistic arrangements of gold and white chrysanthemums by Mrs. A. MacGillivray were a colorful accent to the main lounge where tea was served from a flower-decked table on which golden-toned candles shed a warm light. Presiding at the head table were Mrs. F. E. Norris, Mrs. J. A. Fowler, Mrs. P. E. Blewett and Mrs. M. J Griffin.

Serving the many guests were Mrs. G. Walter, Mrs. Jane Johnson, Mrs. E. T. W. Nash, Mrs. J. McKenna, Mrs. J. Fiddess, Mrs. S. G. Ruskin, Mrs. A. E. Gillespie, Mrs. U. P. F. Gareau, Mrs. C. N. Ennals and Mrs. D. Jones.

Mrs. W. Rothery and Mrs. S. Sedgwick were responsible for the dainty, colorful sandwiches while the "chefs" who worked behind the scenes for the turkey luncheon were Mrs. E. Michaux, Mrs. A. Staines, Mrs. R. N. Grant and Mrs. E. Fellner.

A well-patronized tombola was organized by Mrs. A. L. Robinson and W. Stone was in charge of the bingo games that added to guests' enjoyment. Treasurer was Mrs. A. Cownden.

SHE SETTLED FOR MINK

Such was the demand for dolls' clothes at Wednesday's bazaar in the nurses' residence of St. Joseph's Hospital, when Mrs. C. B. Quest used her luncheon-break at a local dress shop to call in and buy some for her grandchildren, there was none left. She's not complaining. She bought two tickets on the bazaar's main raffle — a mink stole — and won it! Says the elated winner, "I've always been a sucker for tickets, I just can't believe I've won. I couldn't think of anything I'd want more for Christmas."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanyer, 3983 Oakwood Street, have announced the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Lynda Catherine, to Mr. Michel Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vincent, of Lavaltrie, P.Q. The wedding will take place in St. Jean Baptiste Paroisse Francaise, 301 Richmond Avenue, on Saturday, December 3, at 4 p.m. Fr. Alexis Auger will officiate. (Photo by The Little House.)

'Peanuts' Characters Share Views With You

By PENNY SAVER

"I need all the friends I can get!" said one disheartened Charlie Brown. He didn't sit about and mope about the fact—he consulted his pals, listened to their opinions on friendship and just what a friend is, then he wrote a book about it. Lucy claimed she didn't need friends—as long as she was popular! To Linus, a friend was someone "who likes you, even when the other guys are around." Charlie Brown's quest for friendship is brought to life in this heart-warming little book by Charles M. Shulz, author of "Peanuts".

Linus had a message that he figured worthy of telling the world—his idea of security. What could be more assuring to the little fellow than a thumb and a blanket? Snoopy, another "Peanuts" character, who sees the whole world from the top of his doghouse, shares his views in his story on "home is on top of a doghouse". For Snoopy, "chasing rabbits is out—lying on top of a doghouse is in!" One episode in this charming story finds Snoopy reading a letter from his perch, with a disappointed look on his face. He says, "The only time I hear from Daisy Hill Puppy Farm Alumni Association is when they want another donation!"

I've hoarded a few of these books already to use as stocking fillers. Children and adults alike will love them. They're small, hard-cover books that sell for $2.95 each. Every page features the cartoon characters, and the anecdotes are in large, easy-to-read print. Drop in and browse in this shop. You'll have a real chuckle when you see these gems.

Something that is new to me is a collection of small, hard-cover books that in themselves form a library dealing with almost every topic. One volume contains a selection of well-known love sonnets, with an introduction by Louis Untermeyer. The glossy pages are illustrated with colorful and unique pictures. Something out of the ordinary is the fact that these are printed in hand-writing rather than type. The poetry books, the sonnets and another on love lyrics, have biographies in back on the poets and notes about each poem.

An example of another topic is one little book on the history of the theatre. This informative book is in type, with many illustrative drawings and photographs, as well as prints of famous paintings dealing with the theatre. Price of each book is $1.15.

Add these little collections to your home library. Give me a call at 382-3131 and I'll tell you where to find them.

Speaker Says Pollution Can Be Avoided

The use of preventive measures, rather than the more costly remedial course, was advocated by Denis Henrickson when he spoke on "Pollution Problems of Vancouver Island" when the Victoria Council of Women met recently in the Dominion Hotel.

The speaker stressed that the pollution of air and water can be deterred by the proper safety measures being enforced from the beginning. Mr. Henrickoon pointed out that although industry is needed to develop resources and bring prosperity to local residents it should not be allowed to jeopardize the future requirements for ideal living conditions.

The speaker was thanked by health chairman Mrs. M. Pollard.

Samples of fluorescent arm bands, after a demonstration by Mrs. H. MacKenzie, were received by representatives of member organizations so that the use of the safety measure could be shown to their own groups. All members were urged to use them on streets during the hours of darkness.

President Mrs. Bert Noel spoke on the international newsletter and proposed that the next meeting be set aside to discuss the resolutions passed at the international conference in Teheran at which Canada was represented by its national president Mrs. H. H. Steen, Vancouver.

Radio and television chairman Mrs. T. B. Lowe spoke on national resolutions which involved freedom of speech, the questionable types of interviews permitted on television and the Fowler Report on broadcasting. Mrs. Lowe said that this report was available at the local public library and suggested that members follow up and list television programs which are in questionable taste.

Mrs. A. Walton described an invention that would make food pricing easier by using an easy method to compare quantities.

Toys to TV Sets

Everything from used television sets to toys will be offered for sale this Saturday when St. Elizabeth's Council, Catholic Women's League holds its annual bazaar. Mrs. F. C. Vaughan-Birch will officiate at the opening of the affair, beginning at 2 p.m. in the Sanscha Hall, Sidney.

A variety of stalls will be featured, as well as afternoon tea.

Proceeds of $175

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Trafalgar Branch No. 42, Royal Canadian Legion, realized the sum of $175 when it held a recent bazaar in the legion hall on Broad Street. The event was officially opened by president Mrs. A. Brown and convened by Mrs. J. Curtis.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Abby's Favorite 'Blessing'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

May I share with you my favorite "blessing" to be offered before mealtime? I think it is especially appropriate before the coming holiday meal:

O, heavenly Father,
We thank Thee for food and remember the hungry,
We thank Thee for health and remember the sick,
We thank Thee for friends and remember the friendless.
We thank Thee for freedom and remember the enslaved.
May these remembrances steel us to service
That Thy gifts to us may be used for others,
Amen.

Faithfully,
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN.

DEAR ABBY: I am looking for a beautiful, rich, nice, sincere single woman between 25 and 45 who would like to settle down with a plain, honest, not-too-bad-looking man 33 years of age. (That's ME!) She could be a widow, divorcee, or bachelor girl. I have been married and divorced once. No children, but I like them. I also like pets. I am an auctioneer by trade, and if I say so myself, I am good. I am a high school graduate. I would even consider a movie star. (I mention this because when a pal of mine was in service, he got very chummy with one on a tour, and she said they were the loneliest women in the world.) How are my chances? SLIM.

DEAR SLIM: Slim!

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been with the same company almost 17 years. Joe loves his work, and it has been good to us, but we have had to move six times and I am sick of it. I admit Joe has been promoted with each move, but, as I see it, there is more to life than money and advancement. I want roots! My husband can't see it that way.

The company wants us to move again. This time with more money and an executive title in the sales organization. I say unless the company can positively guarantee us that this will be our last move, we should stay where we are. Am I wrong?

WANTS ROOTS.

DEAR ROOTS: When a man's moving up and ahead in his work, root for him. And when age finally roots both of you, be satisfied.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOTTY: Tell your husband that you want a clothes dryer for Christmas. Clotheslines are for the birds.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Each Day Is Blessing—It Is Small Serving of Life

It's getting close to Christmas, one of the happiest times of all. It is a lovely day when families gather together whenever possible, and when the bless sings of giving and thankfulness are highlighted in a special way.

Lowman

However every day, everywhere, for everybody, should be a reason for giving thanks. Sure, lots of days are tough, discouraging, frustrating, depressing, even frightening, but each day is a little blessing because it is another small serving of life. Weeks, months and years are made up of days, good ones and bad ones.

It is so easy to remember the unfortunate or unhappy things which happen to us and forget the many happy experiences we have. If we could somehow approach each day with a feeling of thankfulness, it would rejuvenate us and add a sheen to daily living.

It sounds trite I know, but it is true that everyone has something to be thankful for and that things could always be worse than they are. So, let us be thankful every day, first for our big blessings; someone to love and someone to love us, good health, a chance to work, and the ability to think, feel, and dream.

Let us give thanks each day for the food on our table, for the people we meet, for the laughter we encounter, for the moon and sun in the sky, for the coloring of fall, the snow of winter and the flowers of spring. In other words let us be thankful that we are alive!

Of Personal Interest

TO BE PRESENTED

Miss Barbara Joan Wade will be among those presented to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. George R. Pearkes at the United Services Institution Debutante Ball being held on Wednesday, December 7. The 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wade, 2357 Pacific Avenue, is a first-year arts student at the University of Victoria. She will be sponsored by her father and escorted by Mr. Allan McDiarmid.

Convention Highlights

The first annual convention of the Amalgamated Construction Association of British Columbia will be held at the Empress Hotel next Monday and Tuesday with more than 300 members and their wives converging on the city from various parts of the province. First item on the convention's social calendar is the President's Reception, to be held in the Georgian Lounge on Monday evening. The group's president is Vancouverite Mr. H. F. Hume.

With the wives in mind, several events are scheduled for Tuesday, beginning with a coffee party in the Duke of Kent Room, from 10 to 11 a.m. John Dunbar will entertain when the women join their husbands for aperitifs and luncheon in the same room at noon. Tea and crumpets will be served from 3 to 3:30 p.m. Beginning the evening's festivities, cocktails will be enjoyed from 7 to 7:30 p.m. and a banquet in the Crystal Ballroom will last from 7:30 to 9 p.m., during which a program of entertainment will feature Jerry Gosley, and the singer, Muriel, who will be accompanied by Douglas Goldsmith, accordionist. Fred Usher and his orchestra will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Married 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Anderson of Vancouver were entertained at a party recently in the Henderson Road home of Mrs. W. MacKenzie, to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. They were married in Edmonton, on Nov. 22, 1941, in St. Faith's Anglican Church. Canon Nainby officiated at the service. There were 50 guests attending the party and telegrams were received from friends and relatives in Alberta, England and the Congo.

Busy Calendar

A number of activities star the calendar this week at the Uplands Golf Club. This evening, members and their friends will gather in the clubhouse for a series of golf movies, featuring a match between Billy Casper and Doug Sanders. Movies begin at 8 p.m. Saturday morning at 11:30, football fans will "sit in" on the Grey Cup in color at the clubhouse. English style brunch, including eggs, sausages, chopped liver and kidney will be served.

Co-Hostesses

Bride-elect Miss Marie Ray was entertained at a shower recently by Mrs. Jack Metcalfe and Mrs. Harry Pantcluk, held in Mrs. Metcalfe's Fairfield Road home. Gifts of cologne were presented to the honor guest and her mother, Mrs. Frank Millan. Among those attending the affair were Mrs. V. McCloy, Mrs. S. Brasher, Mrs. R. Ray, Mrs. W. Prior, Mrs. W. Yeamans, Mrs. E. Curtis, Mrs. W. K. Kittson, Mrs. P. Campbell, Mrs. G. Fraser, Mrs. B. Wright, Mrs. M. Sheppard, Mrs. A. McLeary Sr., Mrs. R. Gallop, Mrs. W. Arden, Mrs. J. Bell, Mrs. A. Ritchie, Mrs. R. Whittemore, Mrs. W. Coward, Mrs. M. Norman, Mrs. A. McLeary Jr., the Misses Susan Metcalfe, Colleen and Rhonda McLeary. The bride-elect was also feted with several showers in Winnipeg, prior to travelling to Victoria for her wedding this Friday evening.

Carnations, candles and a three-tier cake added to the beauty of the table when a family party of 15 gathered in the Persian Room of the Century Inn to honor Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton Paterson, 119 Olive Street, who mark their golden wedding anniversary this coming Friday. The couple was wed in Christ Church Cathedral, Luton, Beds., England, on November 25, 1916. They came to Canada in 1919, living on a farm at Nanaimo until 1939 when they came to Victoria. Dr. E. Smiley proposed the toast to the couple at the recent celebration. The Patersons have three sons and three daughters, all living in Victoria. There are 22 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Both are active members of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club. (Jus-Rite Portrait Studio.)

'Petticoat' Lawyer Describes Legal Aspects

FROM DIVORCE TO DEATH LAWS

The varied aspects of law, from divorce to contracts were discussed by Mrs. Foster Isherwood, Wednesday afternoon, when she addressed the Women's Canadian Club in the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. Isherwood, a well-known local barrister and solicitor, described law as a "rule of conduct" observed by the community and considered binding by most. English law is derived from the ancient Roman and Christian canon law. "It has many aspects that, at one time or another, touch us all," said the speaker, not necessarily because of trouble.

Mrs. Isherwood first discussed the laws concerning marriage and family life. England followed the Roman theme that marriage was a sacred bond, until secular influences interceded and brought out a divorce act. A dissolution of marriage could be gained by a parliamentary decree.

In the 18th century there were 134 divorces recorded, said Mrs. Isherwood, with 90 more recorded in the first half of the 19th century. At this time, divorce was "only open to the rich," for it was a long and expensive process, continued Mrs. Isherwood. But public opinion soon wanted the laws eased.

The granting of divorces was soon passed to a court of divorce.

The same rules applied in Canada at first, but now the province of Quebec is the only region which requires a decree of parliament to dissolve a marriage. In British Columbia, it is handled by the supreme court.

Mrs. Isherwood also discussed the rules and law changes concerning desertion, legal separations and judicial separations, where a wife could obtain court protection from her husband.

One of the pleasanter legal aspects concerning family life was adoption, she said, explaining the process of adoption. Matters concerning welfare and juvenile problems are handled by a family court.

In legal matters concerning the home, Mrs. Isherwood mentioned the law of real property — interests and assets in land, although all land is owned by the crown. This she said, stems from the day of William the Conqueror who believed that all of England was his by reason of conquering it. He "gave" parcels of land in return for favors, with certain stipulations. The recipients in turn "gave" land to others.

In the signing of contracts, Mrs. Isherwood warned that a person should wait until he believes he has made the right decision. Once a contract is signed, it is binding.

She also warned against being influenced by hard-selling salesmen, urging that matters requiring contracts be thought over thoroughly and, in certain matters, discussed with lawyers before binding oneself.

The speaker also touched on the legal processes regarding wills and estates.

She was introduced by president Mrs. H. H. Youson and thanked by Mrs. A. B. Young.

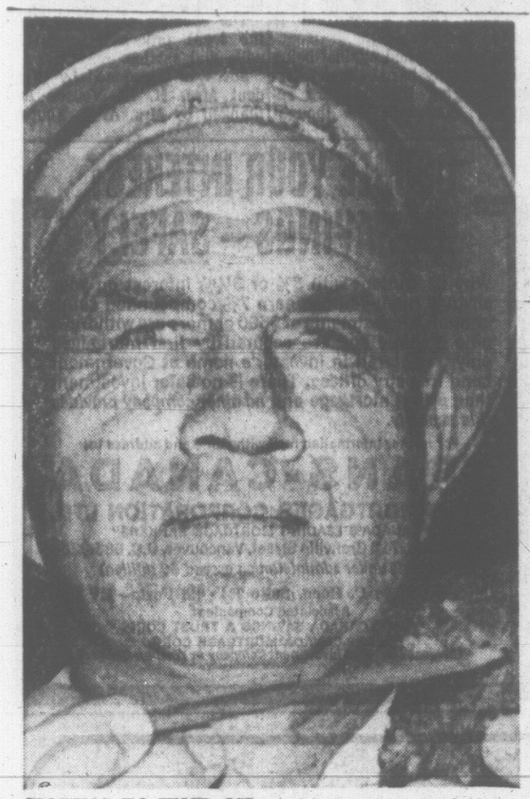
NORTH COWICHAN

Vote Fight Assured



HOPING TO FIND OIL on his property now that he has discovered fossil often associated with oil is George Whittaker, of Maple Bay, North Cowichan councillor, who has aproapched a Japanese firm and asked them to drill.

NORTH COWICHAN — Tommy Burge Wednesday assured a fight in the December 10 municipal elections.

He filed nomination papers to contest the seats at present held by Dennis Hogan, George Whittaker and Gerry Smith. All three are running again.

A second new candidate came forward Wednesday. Earl D. English, a retired dock foreman, has the backing of Chemainus Ratepayers' Association of which he is a past president.

Mr. Burge lives in the south end of the municipality.

He said his decision to run was influenced by the feeling the municipality is currently split in its thinking between the built-up areas in the north and south.

He said: "I firmly believe North Cowichan is a rich municipality with plenty of potential and I will bend every effort to develop it on a tone of harmony."

SECOND REASON

Mr. Burge said a second reason for running is his feeling a number of present councillors are "rather unavailable to the people of the municipality."

Mr. Burge commented on "the bylaws which are defeated with such staggering regularity."

He said: "Again there appears to be a lack of communication and people are not made aware of the necessity of these services.

"Water and sewer services must be planned on a broader scale instead of piecemeal fashion."

Mr. Burge operates the tool room at Crofton Pulp and Paper mill. He is married with three children, is commanding officer of the local Canadian Scottish Cadet Corps, and an assistant cubmaster.

SCRAT CHING HIS HEAD in wonder, fisherman A. R. Slous surveys the wreck of what a few hours ago was his proud gillnetter. Boat was a total write-off. Cause of blaze is still a mystery.

'Mayday'—Then Splash!

After sending out one Mayday distress call Wednesday afternoon, fisherman A. R. Slous paddled away from his burning gillnetter only minutes before it exploded.

As Mr. Slous, of 6790 Sooke Road, Sooke, watched on helplessly, small craft and a Pat Bay air-sea rescue helicopter sped to the scene off Sidney Island.

First to arrive was the tug Gulf Diane, which picked up the uninjured fisherman and then tried to put out the blaze aboard the Marine Beauty.

By the time they brought the fire under control the boat had been destroyed.

After his boat had been towed to Shoal Harbor, near Sidney, Mr. Slous said: "It all happened so fast I have no idea what went wrong.

"I looked in the cabin and it was filled with flames,"

At the time, he was on his way from Victoria to Steveston.

Cause of the blaze is still unknown.

Woman to Spur Farm Union Plan

DUNCAN — A woman farmer has sparked the organization of the first farm workers' union in British Columbia. Mrs. Margaret Whittaker has been appointed as business agent for the group.

Only 10 dairy farmers and dairy farm workers attended the meeting at Cobble Hill Tuesday night, but an interim executive was formed.

A second meeting will be held next month.

Mrs. Whittaker said: "Our aim is to better the lot of the farm worker and we decided to ask for a basic $1.75 an hour for a 9-hour day and six-day week."

She said farm laborers at present work anything up to 13 hours a day for as little as 85 cents an hour.

Mrs. Whittaker said the union aim would be to standardize wages, hours and housing.

OTHE RVIEWS

She said: "This is a farm laborers' union which we hope will spread throughout the province.

"There is a great deal of different opinion among farmers. Some welcome a union while others view it with dismay.

"My feeling is a union will attract more men to farm work by improving conditions and therefore help the farmers."

Mrs. Whittaker has raised a herd of Jersey cattle from a single purebred cow.

At her Herd Road farm she now has 100 head of cattle and milks between 30 and 40 cows.

She was unavailable this morning for comment on her reasons for urging farm help into a union.

Husband George Whittaker said: "She feels it is a matter of justice."

He said a herdsman has to be clean as a druggist, know how to feed animals, know how to treat them and when to call a vet, and be a good mechanic. The average wage for a herdsman is less than $1 an hour.

The formula for milk prices is based on these low wages.

Mr. Whittaker said: "In this day and age when most people get a wage enabling them to take advantage of production it is idiotic from the hired help's point of view that his share is so low."

Mr. Whittaker said if young men are not attracted to farm work there would soon be a shortage of dairy products in the country.

The average age of dairy farm workers on Vancouver Island is 56.

School Loans Facing December Ballot Test

Sooke and Campbell River owner-electiors will be among residents of 14 school districts across B.C. asked to approve school loan bylaws totalling nearly $38 million in December's municipal elections.

The cabinet, meeting in Fort Langley Saturday, gave blanket approval to school trustees of the 14 districts to submit to the electors the question of floating the bonds to finance school construction and equipment.

Sooke electors (School District 62) will be asked to approve $2,165,200 of which nearly $400,000 will be put to the construction and equipment of the Elizabeth Fisher Junior Secondary school.

Campbell River residents (District 72) will be faced with a request for a $2,076,000 bond issue the largest part of which, $400,000, would go towards the construction and equipping of the Campbell River Junior Secondary.

GULF ISLANDS

The Gulf Islands school trustees propose to spend $239,560 mainly on the Gulf Island Secondary.

Larges amount requested is in Surrey where over $9 million is sought.

Most of the referendums will probably be on the December ballot.

'Fine Too Light' Father Complains

NANAIMO — The father of a teen-ager fined $25 for possession of liquor Tuesday protested the fine as too light.

The youth was charged after a motel owner complained of a drinking party in one of his rooms Nov. 10.

TEACHER PAY TALKS GO TO ARBITRATION

GANGES—Salary negotiations for Gulf Island teachers have reached a deadlock and will go to arbitration.

At a school board meeting here, chairman A. M. Sharp said all clauses of the contract have been agreed upon except salaries.

G. S. Hunphreys was appointed mediator for the board.

At the same meeting, trustees dealt at length with the thorny question of smoking regulations and their enforcement.

Although not unanimous, trustees agreed to uphold past rules which state that smoking and possession of smoking material by students is prohibited while under jurisdiction of the school.

School jurisdiction is defined as the time between the student leaving home for school and returning home.

Saturna Island trustee James Campbell pointed out it is illegal for a child under 16 to be in possession of smoking material.

He said the board should tell the students: "Smoking is a health hazard . . . it is against the law. The board's rule is valid; you should keep it."

School principal D. L. Hartwig, the man who asked for a review of the rules, said it is unrealistic to enforce the rule when students are off school property. He was supported by chairman L. J. Armstrong and district superintendent F. A. McLellan.

However, Mr. Campbell said young students were influenced by older boys smoking on the way to and from school.

"There is no need for 16 and 17-year-olds to smoke," he declared. "I cannot accept their desire to smoke to the extent that we should change the rules."

Santa Plans Another Sea Safari

Santa Claus will take to the seas again this year to deliver toys to children in the Gulf Islands.

The man from the North Pole will travel to remote communities aboard the Victoria Jaycee Santa Claus ship, Blue Fjord.

The 65-foot yacht, skippered by owner K. J. Norgaard, will be decorated with a Christmas tree and sled and reindeer in which Santa will ride.

Places to be visited include: Roach Harbor, Friday Harbor, Deer Harbor and Waldren Island, in the San Juan group. Kuper Island, Kuleet Bay, Shell Beach, Vesuvius Bay, in the Gulf Islands and Maple Bay on the mainland.

The trip, leaving Saturday Dec. 17, will take two days.

Biological Station Grows

NANAIMO — Building will start early next year on an addition to the biological station at Departure Bay.

Plans are almost complete and fill has been used to reclaim about three acres for the building site.

The addition, to be completed sometime in 1968, will be three stories high, connecting to the existing building.

Unidentified Blinking Star Buzzes Nanaimo

NANAIMO — The residents of Nanaimo have stardust in their eyes.

The instant stardust comes in three attractive shades — red, white and green.

It can be obtained from the local stellar system most evenings.

Bargain day was Tuesday when many residents, including the local radio station, got in their 10 cents worth.

It all began when people started reporting UFOs (unidentified flying objects) in the skies over this Vancouver Island port.

Even the local weather station employee had to admit there was something up there.

"I watched it myself," he said. "The object appeared to change color and gave the impression of movement."

But what at first appeared to be a star-struck Martian turned out to be a Martian-struck star.

Layers of hot and cold air in the upper atmosphere refracted the light, giving the impression of changing colors, explained the weather man.

Clouds eventually hid the star, the point at which it appeared to have flown away over nearby Mount Benson.

Playing Fields Start Next Year

NORTH COWICHAN — A start will be made early next year developing land south of Fullers Lake at Chemainus for playing fields.

This is only part of the varied projects being undertaken by North Cowichan Centennial Committee.

In a review of its 1966 achievements, the committee claims credit for the purchase of eight acres of land at the junction of Sherman and Somenos Roads.

Part of this land will be developed into a centennial soccer pitch.

The committee successfully pressed the municipal council into buying an acre of land for a community park on George Street.

In conjunction with the city of Duncan, some 5.5 acres has been bought adjoining Pioneer Park. This is being reserved for recreational use.

Other projects include buying an additional two acres on Indian Road to be linked to the Art Mann Kin Park on Quamichan Lake.

The committee envisages a "water wheel" park in downtown Chemainus.

Hermit Becomes Priest

COURTENAY — Charles Brandt, 41-year-old member of the Hermitage of St. John the Baptist, has been ordained priest at Canadian Martyrs Church here.

It was believed to be the first such ceremony in the western world for more than 200 years.

The hermit colony, the only one in North America, is located on an abandoned farm 14 miles north of here, where each of the hermits lives alone and apart from his fellows.

Father Brandt, a former U.S. Air Force navigator, was ordained by Most Rev. Remi De Roo, Roman Catholic Bishop of Victoria.

Bishop De Roo has encouraged and supported the unique 20th century hermitage since its founding in September 1964. He said the ordination of a hermit-priest would emphasize a facet of religious life neglected by the western church for years.

BALANCE

"It will restore a balance such as is maintained by eastern and Oriental branches."

The bishop said Father Brandt and his fellow hermits would provide a silent witness, "reminding us of the striving of the pilgrim church to walk in the steps of Christ."

Members of the colony spend long hours in prayer, meditation theological and Bible study, rarely communicating with their fellows.

Father Brandt's elevation to the priesthood was witnessed by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brandt, and his sister, Mrs. Ella Mae McCue, who travelled here by train and bus.

After the ordination, Father Brandt returned to his life of solitude and prayer. He is a former Anglican priest, who joined the Catholic Church in 1956 and spent several years in a Trappist monastery in the United States.

Father Brandt served in the U.S. Air Force from 1943 to 1946 and took a bachelor of science degree in 1948.

He joined the Vancouver Island hermit colony in 1965.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

Smaller Vehicles A Major Problem

VANCOUVER (CP) — The government should continue to provide more and better highways to carry ever-more-powerful cars, Lewis M. Ross, Portland, Ore., highway engineer, said Wednesday.

Mr. Ross, testifying before the provincial royal commission on automobile insurance, said it is not the manufacturers' duty to accommodate their cars' design and speed to highways that exist.

In spite of the great amount of highway construction, governments are not as far ahead in development of their road systems as are the manufacturers in building their cars, he said.

"The industry has made tremendous gains in building a better vehicle," said Mr. Ross.

He said there is no relationship between high horsepower and accidents.

Mr. Ross, former director of the Idaho highways department said there is a problem of "the under - developed car," which is simply not good enough for freeway driving.

TRAGIC ACCIDENTS

There have been "some tragic accidents" involving small imported cars and North American Big Three compacts which can be traced to their lack of highway capability, he said.

The insurance companies Wednesday rejected complaints of lack of compensation to automobile accident victims, long delays in receiving compensation and improper avoidance of payment of just claims by the insurance companies.

Gordon W. McGill, claims manager for Northwestern Mutual, gave an analysis made with the aid of computers of all claims handled in two months by the six largest insurance companies in B.C. The analysis covered more than 6,000 claims filed with the six companies in October, 1964 and March 1965, selected as representative, average months.

Mr. McGill said the investigation showed 72.8 per cent of the claims were paid within 60 days.

"Evidence of delay was limited to only 5.6 per cent taking longer than six months to be concluded," he said. "Good reasons explaining these delays are available . . . "

REASONS GIVEN

He said where claims were not paid justifiable reasons were given.

"In 67.9 per cent of no-payment cases, it was felt the insured was not at fault. In 17.9 per cent, the loss was not covered by the policy. In 3.2 per cent, the claimant did not yet wish to settle for medical reasons."

Mr. McGill said examination of the claims files is "a portrait of an industry doing a thorough, competent and expeditious job."

Asian Bank Opens Doors In Manila

TOKYO (Reuters)—Asia and the Far East today forged the first link in a chain of regional co - operation and economic growth with the formal launching of the Asian Development Bank.

The bank—first regional bank created for the economic development of Asia and the Far East—will open its doors for business in Manila, the Philippines, Dec. 19.

Nineteen regional and 12 outside nations already have subscribed a total of $965,000,000 for capital.

Japan and the U.S. are the two leading members, each subscribing $200,000,000.

Heading the Canadian delegation to the inaugural meeting is Maurice F. Strong, director-general of the external aid office. Canada is subscribing $25,000,000 to the fund.

Computer Lands Jet On Carrier

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The jet fighter - bomber touched down on the aircraft carrier's landing deck, snagged a cable and screeched to a sudden stop —a noisy but perfect landing. The pilot had nothing to do with it.

The F-4 combat plane was landed safely Monday on the U.S.S. America, the newest carrier, by a complex system of radar and computers operated by a control centre deep inside the ship.

The revolutionary concept is being developed by the navy, seeking to reduce landing accidents at night and in foul weather during Southeast Asia operations.

The system, known as the all-weather carrier landing system, and expected to undergo final operational tests next spring, has a secondary purpose: To make it easier for carrier pilots to qualify for night flying and thus ease the growing shortage of carrier attack pilots in Viet Nam.

DENMARK

Parties May Refuse Coalition

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Premier Jens Otto Krag informed King Frederik today that he would try to set up a "popular" government of four parties in the wake of Tuesday's elections that gave the Danish Parliament its first socialist majority.

Krag, personally stung by losses for his ruling Social Democratic party, drove to the royal palace after a cabinet meeting which decided on coalition negotiations with Axsel Larsen's Marxist People's Socialist party, the radical Liberals and the Liberal Centre party.

Together the four parties hold 106 of the 175 seats in Parliament. Krag evidently did not want to depend on the three-vote majority his own party and the People's Socialists could muster. But political circles said this may still be the final result and predicted failure for the effort to merge the socialists and the liberals.

The radical Liberals promptly refused to go along with a coalition. "It would serve no purpose for us," said party leader Karl Skytte.

Leaders of the Liberal Centre party said they would discuss the matter. The left-wing Socialists took a similar stand.

Larsen, 69, quit the Communist party 10 years ago in protest against the smashing of the Hungarian revolution and founded the left-wing People's Socialist party.

Like the Communist party, it vigorously opposes the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and demands unconditional U.S. withdrawal from Viet Nam.

Mighty Chief Thunderbird Dies; Gained Fame as Wrestling King

Chief Thunderbird, one of the most famous of British Columbia's native sons, is dead.

Jean Baptiste Paul, who gained world-wide fame as Chief Thunderbird, died Wednesday in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was 71.

Hereditary chief of the Tsartlip Indians at Brentwood, "The Chief" gained his greatest fame as a professional wrestler but was outstanding in several sports.

Right up until he was hospitalized two weeks ago, Chief Thunderbird was a familiar figure as various district sporting events, particularly soccer and football.

SPORTS FAN

Just as he stood out in the wrestling ring, "Bapti Paul" was easily recognized as a sports fan because of his booming, gravel voice. A staunch supporter of Island teams, he was quick to berate referees for anything he considered a poor call. His booming tirades were laced with a wit that entertained everybody.

A proud individual, The Chief was always proudest of the fame that he brought to his native B.C. while wrestling in all corners of the world.

Chief Thunderbird, grandson of noted chief Ben Paul, gained world-wide fame early. Attending the Tacoma Indian School in Washington, he won letters in eight sports — an amazing feat that was described in the Strange as It Seems feature.

BOXING WINS

He also put together a string of 20 boxing victories — nine by knockouts — in his youth, and rang up 30 consecutive wrestling victories after his pro debut in Seattle.

Even at school, The Chief was so adept at wrestling that he had no difficulty in beating his instructors.

He is survived by his wife, Julia; three sons — Harvey Andrew (Jack), Roy and Carl; three daughters — Mrs. Gordon (Juanita) Underwood, Mrs. Maurice Jeanette) Barrett and Mrs. John (Freda) Cooper; a brother, Paul; his sister, Mrs. Elsie Roney, and 29 grandchildren.

Prayers will be offered in Sands' "Memorial Chapel of Chimes" Friday at 8 p.m. Mass will be held in Our Lady of the Assumption Church, West Saanich Road, Saturday at 10 a.m.

Housewife Again Runs

An Oak Bay housewife will contest dentist Carron Jameson's chair on the Greater Victoria School Board Dec. 10.

Mrs. Dorothy Ellinor, 2427 Nottingham Rd., who was defeated in a 1965 school board bid by Oak Bay trustee Peter Bunn, says she would bring to the job "a lifelong interest in education."

Dr. Jameson has represented Oak Bay on the board for four years.

Others seeking the five vacant seats on the nine-member board are, in Victoria, housewife Daphne Temple, moving company executive and former trustee Ted Wood, and retired radio operator Joseph Haegert.

Incumbent Lloyd Clarkson has announced he will retire from the board to run for city council.

As yet Saanich incumbents George Curran and Dr. Donald Shorting have no opposition.

Esquimalt representative Leslie Karagianis is so far unopposed in his bid for a third term.

Board chairman John Porteous, Dr. Victor Rogers, Frances Thompson and Peter Bunn each have a year remaining in their terms.

Noted Heidelberg folksingers Elsbeth Janda and Fritz Notzoldt will give a concert at University of Victoria at 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 5 under the sponsorship of the German Club.

SALTY TIME AHEAD

Eleven tons of table salt may be distributed in Saanich municipality this winter . . . over its roads.

Municipal engineer Neville Life said Wednesday the Saanich stockpile—11 tons of sodium chloride plus one ton of calcium chloride — will be spread on icy streets.

The municipality also has 1,000 cubic yards of sand in storage.

Other elements of the Saanich anti-winter campaign are three snowplows and two graders.

Bus Workers Strike

ATHENS (AP)—Thousands of Creeks in Athens and its port of Piraeus walked or rode tightly packed military trucks to work today as a strike brought public transportation almost to a standstill. The tieup began after a trolley bus company ordered employees to sew identifying numbers on their uniforms and one employee who refused was fired. Bus workers walked out in protest.

Lions Club Grants $1,748 to Hospital

A sum of $1,748 was presented to the Chinese Hospital by the Victoria Chinatown Lions Club Wednesday.

The presentation was made at a Smorgasbord and dance to thank the wives of members who helped make the Chinese Lantern Festival a success.

Roger Lee, past president, noted that the club in past years has donated over $6,000 for improvements to the hospital.

A donation of $150 was received by Mrs. Phyllis Hill, president of the Cymordorian Society, and Mrs. June Richardson, secretary, on behalf of the Aberfan Disaster Fund.

Old Age Pension No. 1 was presented with a $525 cheque to be used towards its building fund.

FIRST AID KIT

The Chinese school was presented with a record player and first aid kit.

STRESS FRIENDSHIP

Theme of the Burmese pavilion at Expo 67 will be "man and friendship."

The Times, Colonist and CHECK-TV received a citation of appreciation from the International Association of Lions Clubs.

A feature of the evening's program was entertainment provided by Jerry Gosley and Peter Williams.

HOME GARDEN

Frost Big Enemy Of Handy Clay Pot

By HILDA BEASTALL

Clay pots are still used in great quantities by home gardeners, for once a stock of various sizes is acquired they will last for years with care.

Hilda

There are two ways in which clay pots are lost by breakage, quite apart from those we drop usually on our toes when wearing soft summer-weight shoes.

The most common way is by leaving them outdoors in frosty weather. It makes no difference whether they are filled with soil and plant roots, or are empty.

If the caly is wet and is then subjected to several degrees of frost, the moisture expands as it freezes and a crack develops.

Quite often the crack is not noticed until the pots are moved, perhaps in spring.

If certain plants in pots require outdoor conditions during winter the pots may be saved by sinking them to the rim in a border of light sandy soil.

POT LEVEL

Take the precaution of placing a handful of stones beneath the pot in the hole for drainage and be sure the surrounding soil is closely firmed around the pot level with the top edge

The second way to break clay pots is in attempting to remove plants from them which have formed a rootball so tight that some of the roots are adhering to the clay.

Repeated tapping on the rim of the inverted pot eventually results in cracking the pots.

This can be avoided. First, by using only pots which are thoroughly scrubbed and dried. Secondly, before attempting to remove a plant from a pot which is obviously full of roots water the plant thoroughly and allow the excess to drain away.

This simple procedure will usually loosen the roots from the sides of the pot, allowing the plant ball to be easily removed as the pot is inverted and tapped on a bench edge.

Rainfall Radiation On Rise

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Radioactive fall out in Sydney's rainfall has risen markedly since recent French nuclear tests in the Pacific a scientist said today.

Dr. B. J. Carswell, acting head of the department of nuclear chemistry at the University of New South Wales, said tests showed that since June the amount of radioactive caesium-137 in the rainfall had jumped about 150-fold and the content of radioactive cerium-144 about 40-fold.

"We expected some increase as a result of the bomb tests," Carswell said. "But this colossal increase is far, far more than we ever anticipated."

H. M. Whaite, in charge of radiation tests for the health department, said the readings were well below danger level.

The French exploded one bomb in the Pacific in June and five in September.

Restraint Urged

8 CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest gratitude to our many friends for their kindness and sympathy on our recent bereavement, also our thanks to the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital for their kindness to our late father.
—Gordon and Helen Loat, Phill and Grace Arden.

To The Sisters of Mount St. Mary, Dr. J. H. Moore, staff of First Floor and the many patients who were so kind to our dear father: "Thank you all."
—The family of the late L. P. Gwinn.

9 IN MEMORIAM

GREEN—In loving memory of my darling son, Cyril, who passed away November 24, 1963.
In my heart your memory lingers.
Always tender, fond and true;
There's not a day, dear son,
I do not think of you.
—Sadly missed, ever remembered by his Mother and sister Dorothy.

GREEN—In memory of Cy, who left us Nov. 24, 1963.
—Always remembered by his brothers, Arthur and Lionel, their wives and families.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

Everything connected with the Grey Cup, from the fan-loaded trains from eastern Canada to the game itself, will dominate the schedules of the three Canadian coastal stations Friday and Saturday.

Stephen

CBC-TV's Vancouver outlet (Channel 2) will begin with live color coverage of the Grey Cup parade from Vancouver Friday evening.

Also, on Friday, Ted Reynolds and B.C. Lions' coach Dave Skrien will present a special Grey Cup eve edition of Time Out for Football.

Saturday, Grey Cup programming begins at 10 a.m. with a 60-minute color telecast which will present highlights of Grey Cup Week in Vancouver.

These include the Miss Grey Cup pageant, the various luncheons and dinners, the Grey Cup bonspiel, the arrival of fans, players, coaches and officials, and interviews with those involved in the job of preparing for the entire festivities and game. Within this first hour-long telecast, viewers will see the fans reacting on the Grey Cup trains from eastern Canada.

At 11 a.m. there will be a videotape color repeat of the Grey Cup parade held the previous evening.

At 12 noon Grey Cup preview will show highlights of the 1966 eastern and western conference playoff games. Commentators are Fred Sgambati, Nobby Wirkowski and Ernie Afaganis.

At 12:30 p.m., CBC-TV's color cameras switch to Empire Stadium for the final predictions and introduction of players.

Then, it's the big game.

CBC has lumped all of its activities under the title Grey Cup Festival with Bob Quintrell as host.

Equipment from Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver will be employed to bring the event to viewers across Canada.

Channels 6 and 8 start Saturday morning with a Grey Cup review at 9:30 a.m., which are highlights of the week's festivities.

At 11 a.m. the Grey Sup special will scan back over the 1966 football season in Canada with coach and player interviews.

Johnny Esaw and Annis Stukus will take charge of Grey Cup forecast at 12 noon.

Then Channels 6 and 8 will switch to CBC and color for all activities from 12:30 on, including the Grey Cup game.

LANGFORD

Fifteen houses in this area, presently occupied by tenants, now being offered for sale. These are nearly all three-bedroom houses. Several are only a year or two old. None have basements, but most have Oil-o-Matic heating, plumbing for automatic washers and wiring for electric range and dryer, paved driveways, carports.
Taxes are low! (In most cases only $25-$80 a year to the owner.) Best of all, only $1,000 down and the balance like rent. No mortgages to raise or commissions to pay. All financing arranged for you. Only one payment to make. These are certainly not mansions, but good comfortable family homes, particularly suited to a young family starting out. Most prices range from $10,400-$12,400. Some older houses are even less.
We will be happy to arrange to show you these houses by appointment.
If you wish to drive past them first we will mail you a list showing the addresses and prices. (Please do not disturb the tenants.) Simply call 478-4446 or 478-4116 and leave your name and address. No one will call on you unless requested.

HOW'S YOUR VISION? 100%
SEA and SKY
VALLEY AND VALE MOUNTAIN AND LAKE
110 Acres — 8-Mile Circle

Really, one would have to be blind not to realize the potential worth of this 110-acre plot of four parcels — 2 x 50 acres; 1 x 6 ac. and 1 x 4 ac. — with two road frontages. If you have only 50% vision then get a partner. This could be one of the finest tourist attractions with care in planning, as you could create a Chalet-type development with walks, bridal paths — sorry bridle paths; 2 to 3 acre lake. Mountain-side cottages, hilltop lodge which could overlook the Straits, Esquimalt Harbour, City proper and adjacent valleys. The view is exhilarating and reminds one of standing on the North Shore looking over the City of Vancouver (and just think of what those hilltop lots sell for now over there). There are sufficient usable roadbeds through the acreage so one could divide it into 10-acre holdings with a possible worth of about $150,000 in all. Where also could you find 110 acres so close in with real possibilities? For viewing phone F. WILLS, 388-4271. Oh yes, forgot to mention — Asking $61,100 on terms and this includes a reinforced concrete building on the mountain, that would make a fabulous hilltop home. J. H. Whittome & Co. Ltd., 706 Fort St.

FIGHT SOCIALISM

'Join Hands' Call By Alberta Chief

By DON MacLACHLAN

CALGARY (CP) — Premier E. C. Manning has invited Alberta's Conservative and Liberal parties to join Social Credit to "help make what we have better" and to fight socialism.

The premier told the annual convention of the Alberta Social Credit League Wednesday that socialism could overtake Canada, not because Canadians are socialist, but because of "public frustration and disgust with the failure of the old political order."

He dismissed the New Democratic Party as of "no major political significance, except that it represents the worst of the socialist element that wants to take over Canada . . . by default."

Social Credit holds 59 seats in the 63-seat Alberta legislature. Liberals have three and there is one Coalition member.

The Liberals have "no hope" of being the government in the province, Mr. Manning told 400 delegates. And what contribution were Conservatives making by "dividing the votes" of those who favor free enterprise?

He said later he meant the "join-hands" call to be seriously considered by Liberals and Conservatives to "put province before party" and also form a strong anti - socialist movement.

WARNS DELEGATES

Warning a banquet audience of impending political crisis, Mr. Manning said Canada could be taken over by "irresponsible and revolutionary elements" exploiting present public frustration.

He noted recent polls indicated the NDP had 26 per cent popular support, equal to that "retained" by the Progressive Conservative party.

The federal Conservative party was "bent on self-destruction" and the Liberal party had no "clear-cut national objective." This was the cause of public frustration.

Canadians therefore needed "dynamic political rejuvenation," through a sound blueprint for a great society. "This would be the greatest centennial gift we could give ourselves."

On medical care, the premier said some provincial governments would have to put on a range of sales taxes, increase gasoline tax or increase income tax to pay for any federal plan.

Other provinces had made these points while discussing the plan, he said, but added that there would be no sales tax in Alberta "this year."

The premier estimated governments would have to pay $600,000,000 to $720,000,000 at the start of the medical care plan as now proposed, and this money would have to be raised through taxation.

He said a voluntary, subsidized medical care scheme could be operated with governments having to bear only one-third of this estimated cost.

Army Police Operating In Canada?

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Diefenbaker asked Wednesday whether U.S. service police are "making the rounds in Vancouver" without RCMP accompaniment in a search for American draft dodgers.

Solicitor-General Pennell said he would check.

Mr. Diefenbaker told the Commons of press reports in Vancouver saying that U.S. service police in civilian clothes were circulating through "places the minister and I wouldn't frequent" in a search for persons trying to evade service with the U.S. forces. There was no indication they were working with the RCMP.

It was a serious matter if the "wandering around in our country."

Mr. Pennell said that if his check turns up any confirmation he will consult with External Affairs Minister Mart

. . . COUGAR

ally investigated a persistent cougar complaint by a Saanich householder, going out to the house one night to "sit it out."

The "cougar" was a neighbor's dog that had made a bed for itself in the basement, and snored a little at night.

"People always think it just couldn't be anything else."

Vancouver Island is probably the last refuge of this handsome and wraith-like animal.

The mystique grown up around it has bred myth and misinformation.

Wrong Idea

"The cougar," says Charles Giguet of Provincial Museum, "people have the wrong idea about the cougar."

"There's no need to be afraid of him."

Said to be shy and solitary, cougars have killed only one person on Vancouver Island— a boy on a beach near Kyoquot in 1949.

No Personnel Problem, Says Hellyer

OTTAWA (CP)—Refit of the carrier HMCS Bonaventure will be completed sometime next year and personnel will be available to man her, Defence Minister Hellyer told the Commons Tuesday.

He was replying to Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary North), who also asked whether assignment of Canadian navy planes to U.S. carriers during the refit was "the first step" in entrusting all Canada's anti-submarine defences to the U.S.

Mr. Hellyer said it was normal for such a transfer to allow continuing training while Canada's only carrier was undergoing repairs. It had been dong before, probably while Mr. Harkness was defence minister, and the move had "none of the overtones" suggested.

Officials said Monday that the Bonaventure will be in drydock until next fall for major repairs costing at least $11,000,000.

Robert Prittie (NDP—Burnaby-Richmond) suggested scrapping the carrier, but Mr. Hellyer said this would not be wise.

Wife Visits For British Prisoners?

LONDON (CP)—Earl Mountbatten's awaited report on how best to make Britain's prisons escape-free contains plans for "conjugal cells," where long-term prisoners could be visited by their wives in privacy, the Daily Express reports.

The comfortably furnished rooms, Lord Mountbatten is reported to believe, might help to reduce the motive to escape.

Seventy-nine men escaped from "maximum security prisons" in Britain last year.

The newspaper says the Mountbatten commission, appointed by Home Secretary Roy Jenkins after master spy George Blake escaped from Wormwood Scrubs prison last month, also will urge:

Permanent illumination of prison walls, with warders on fulltime lookout from watch towers: Closed-circuit television checks on all possible escape areas and hidden microphones in cells and recreation areas where prisoners might conspire.

City Man Named To Insurance Post

A Victoria man has been elected acting president of the Insurance Agents Association of B.C.

At an election meeting earlier this week in Campbell River, A. J. F. Roberts, president of Ker and Stephenson Ltd. here was named to replace the retiring association head.

Mr. Roberts, born in Victoria and educated in Winnipeg, is also a well-known rifle marksman.

Liquor Charges For Three Minors

Three 18-year-old boys were each fined $35 in central court today when they pleaded guilty to being minors in possession of liquor.

Clifford Petford, 4140 Birtles; Wayne Winger, 3163 Alder, and Robert Haymar, 2924 Blackwood, were caught by police with a case of beer in their car Oct. 30. The car was parked at Playfair Park off Glenora Road.

To Visit Viet Nam

LONDON (Reuters) — Miss World, India's 23-year-old Reita Faria, will visit South Viet Nam for Christmas, it was announced here Thursday. She said she will fly to the United States Dec. 14 to team up with comedian Bob Hope on a tour of the Far East.

More U.S. Immigrants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The immigration of U.S. citizens to Canada continues to grow. In the first nine months of 1966 a total of 13,635 persons moved into Canada as immigrants from the United States, Fred M. Norman, Canadian immigration service officer, reported today.

. . . CANADIAN KILLED

said he was riding in a Page yan alongside a Korean technician when he heard an explosion at the head of the seven-vehicle column.

"All of the vehicles lurched to a stop, then all hell broke loose," Knipping recalled.

"When it started I went out the back of the van. The driver jumped forward and I saw him get killed. I landed in a ditch and a grenade laned right next to my leg. I was stunned for a second by something, my head was thrown into the dirt."

He recalled: "I looked up from the ditch, and I was looking directly at two of them (Viet Cong). They were rather young, they had weapons in their hands.

"One of them fired at me from four or five feet away. Amazingly he missed but I rolled over and I was lying face down.

"One pulled me by the coat and turned me over. I tried to feign death and must have succeeded. Then they left me."

White Man Jailed For Shooting Negro

HERNANDO, Miss. (UPI) — In Mississippi, a white man stood up and pleaded guilty to gunning down a Negro.

In New York, the negro spoke up, talking a bit proudly about southern justice and the white man's guilty plea.

It was a strange ending to a strange story.

Five and a half months ago, Aubrey James Norvell, the white man, rose from ambush and fired a shotgun blast at James Meredith, the young Negro who had been trying to prove that members of his race could march without fear through Mississippi.

On Monday, Norvell, 40, a former Memphis hardware salesman, pleaded guilty to assault and battery with intent to kill in the June 6 incident. He was sentenced to five years imprisonment with three years suspended because of his war record and past character.

Commenting on the sentencing, Meredith said local authorities had promised him that Norvell would be prosecuted. He added: "southern people mean what they say and do what they say they are going to do."

Calm Returns To Togo After Coup Failure

LOME, Togo (CP)—Ringleaders of the abortive coup against Togolese President Nicolas Grunitzky told demonstrators Monday that assassinated President Sylvanus Olympio would be brought back to life to head a new government, eyewitnesses reported here today.

This black magic element was spread by word of mouth among the 5,000 demonstrators who massed Monday before the presidential residence demanding Grunitzky's resignation. Some of the crowd believed the resurrection rumor, the sources said.

Olympio was assassinated in January, 1963, during an army coup. The Togo Unity Party, which backed Olympio, led Monday's attempt to oust Grunitzky.

Lome was calm today after its second night under curfew. Army units continued their hunt for the coup ringleaders, including lawyer Noe Kutuklui, who leads the rebellious party.

Some of those arrested were beaten up by soldiers.

MORE CENTRALISM URGED

Bicultural Canada 'Utter Nonsense'

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) — A bi-federal state, with jurisdiction over all social security programs, human rights, and university education vested in Ottawa, was advocated this week night by J. T. Thorson, retired president of the Exchequer Court of Canada.

He told a Canadian Club audience that Quebec could have a special niche in Confederation but talk of Canada as a bicultural nation of English and French cultures is "utter nonsense and should be curtly dismissed."

Speaking on the shape of Canada in its second century, Mr. Thorson said he is confident there will continue to be a Canada in the next 100 years, but there will be changes in its constitution. Canada now is a different country than the one established by Confederation in 1867 when "matters of a merely local or private nature in the province" was assigned to provincial governments.

NATIONAL CONCERN

The whole field of social security should be moved out of the jurisdiction of the provinces and vested exclusively in the federal Parliament, he said. Social security is a matter of national concern and responsibility and the trend has been towards Ottawa since old age pensions were first established in 1927.

"Unfortunately, there have been recent indications of a recession from the trend . . . but this recessive tendency must be checked," he said.

While primary school education may be best left to local authorities and secondary schooling governed by the provinces, "when I come to the subject of university education I think of national considerations," Mr. Thorson said.

"The whole of Canada is interested in higher education. We need it for the efficient use of our manpower and the development of our country. We ought to explore the possibility of giving to the Parliament of Canada jurisdiction in the field of higher education."

HE IS A CENTRALIST

The former Liberal cabinet minister and judge said he is a centralist who does not look on Canada as "an aggregation of provinces." But the need for a strong central government can be reconciled with Quebec's desire for the largest amount of jurisdiction to deal with its own affairs.

"I believe that it would be possible to work out a bi-federal arrangement that would meet the particular desire of Quebec and, at the same time, leave the rest of Canada free to develop the strong central government that is necessary for the fulfilment of our national purposes."

Mr. Thorson said Canada is not, either in law or in fact, a bilingual country. French has no special status outside Quebec and the federal Parliament and courts. The contention that French and English are official languages with equal status through Canada "is made so frequently and with such intensity that we are in danger of being brain-washed into the belief that it is true," he said.

"On the contrary, the hard fact is that it is not a bilingual country. Nor is it likely that it ever will be."

While he sympathized with and supported Quebec's desire to preserve its cultural heritage, Mr. Thorson said 5,000,000 of Canada's 20,000,000 people are neither French nor English in their origins, and it is a fallacy to think that those who are not French are simply English-Canadians.

New Alice Version Not for Children

LONDON (AP) — The BBC warned parents today that its lavish new television version of Alice in Wonderland is unsuitable for children, but it will be shown anyway.

The production of Lewis Carroll's classic was scheduled for Christmas Day, but BBC officials now have decided to show it Dec. 28 at 9 p.m. It is hoped most youngsters will be in bed.

The much-loved story has been turned into an adult TV drama with psychological undertones of madness, fear and melancholy.

Jonathan Miller, the satirist and one-time star of the wayout revue Beyond the Fringe, adapted the book and produced the program at a cost of £25,000 ($75,000).

"For the past century we have thought of Alice as a charming fairy story full of cranky animals and jolly playing cards," Miller said.

"But there is an enduring melancholy that outlasts the fun. It is a Victorian fantasy about the pains and perils and the silent fears of growing up."

Hugh Weldon, the BBC's controller of TV programs, saw the recorded production nine times before announcing that it ought to be seen by adults only.

"This is a 1966 production of Alice," Weldon said. "It is not designed as entertainment for children. It might upset them."

BIG TROOP BUILDUP BY JORDAN

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — This Arab kingdom began a massive buildup of troops today by announcing a sweeping draft call and agreeing to use 20,000 Saudi Arabian soldiers to help meet any new border threats from neighboring Israel.

Tension inside the nation also was reported on the rise in the wake of violent anti-government street demonstrations in the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem.

The troop offer was made Wednesday by Saudi King Faisal in a cable to Jordanian King Hussein, official sources here said. According to the offer, Saudi Arabia, which flanks Jordan in the south, volunteered 20,000 troops to reinforce Arab defenses against an Israeli attack.

DRIVE NETS 771 PINTS

Blood Pours in at 3 Clinics

A three-day blood donor clinic this week netted the Red Cross 771 pints, and gave Red Cross officials something to crow about.

"A remarkably good clinic," said supervisor A. T. Lashmar. "It was wonderfully supported."

A tremendous response to the appeal at CFB Esquimalt Wednesday yielded 348 pints. Tuesday Royal Roads cadets and staff donated 146 bottles.

A total of 277 pints had already been donated in a civil defence exercise at the Bay Street Armoury Monday night.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 02-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Sheryl Herbert, age 8, of Loves Park, Ill., for her question:

What does a hummingbird use to build his nest?

All the hummingbirds waved goodbye to Illinois in September. They spread their tiny, whirring wings and flew far south, where the winter weather is warmer. The babies were all grown up. And now is a good time to look for a deserted old hummingbird nest.

Sometimes the hummingbirds build their nest on a branch no higher than the top of your head. But as a rule they choose a higher perch, maybe 10 feet or 20 feet or even 50 feet above the ground. You would need the help of eight tall men, standing on each other's heads, to reach the highest hummingbird nest. You could not see this tiny nest from the ground. But do not risk a dangerous climb, for chances are, if you search, your bright eyes will spot one just like it on a lower branch.

The neat little nest is no bigger than half a walnut shell. It straddles a twig and if firmly set just where the twig joins a sturdy branch. Its color blends in with the woody brown twigs and leafy greenery. Your eyes must be very wide awake to spot the tiny browny-green bump perched in the elbow of a twig.

The hummers are bright little summer visitors from fairyland. Mr. and Mrs. Ruby-Throated Hummingbird arrive in Illinois sometime in May. The nest building begins almost at once and Mrs. Hummer chooses the right place. She gathers tiny scraps from mossy lichens into her long, thin bill and carries them off to the new home. She uses her long tongue to pick bits of fluff from cattails and fuzzy dandelions — and she picks small specks of bark from the twigs.

Hunts for Spider Webs

The busy little builder also hunts around for spider webs. She grabs the gauzy grey nets in her bill and steals them. She needs them to bind all the little pieces together. The floor and the walls of the little nest are bound firmly with hummingbird saliva and spider web silk. When the main job is done, Mrs. Hummer sticks specks of brownish bark and greenish lichen on the outside of the nest. Then she hunts for scraps of fluff and maybe a few small feathers to tuck a soft, cozy lining on the inside. As a rule, the busy little mother can find plenty of nest-building stuff in a park or a garden.

Sometimes you can coax Mrs. Hummer to build a nest near your home. If her sharp little eyes spot lots of nest-building stuff around, she may decide to build near by. Shred some woolly yarn and hang the scraps on the bushes. Add a few frayed fragments of absorbent cotton. Find an old log covered with mosses and lichen and set it under the trees. The chances are, next May, Mrs. Hummer will gather up these bits and pieces and build her nest in a tree or bush near your house.

Andy sends a World Book Atlas to Mary Anne Fitzgerald, age 12, Peterborough, Ont., Canada, for her question:

How did the aardvark's strange name originate?

His name is not at all strange to the Dutch settlers of South Africa. But the burrowing ant-eater they found there was a very strange animal to them. However, he was there, sharing their new homeland, and therefore he had to have a name. They had seen no animal quite like him, but the settlers decided to compose a name for him.

The South African stranger had a piggy pink skin and an extr-long piggy-type snout. He also grunted and sometimes squealed like a pig. He also was a burrower who could dig himself into the earth faster than a man could shovel him out with a spade. So the South African settlers took two of their everyday Dutch words and named him the aardvark, which in their language means the earth-pig.

Big Christmas Tree Canada's Present

OTTAWA (UPI) — Two and one-half tons of white spruce will be Canada's Christmas present to the United States this year.

The spruce, a 64-foot giant Christmas tree, left here today for the New York Rockefeller Centre where it will become the centrepiece of the U.S. city's yuletide festivities.

The tree, the 34th to be erected in the city's midtown complex, is the first to be provided from Canada — in fact, it's the first from outside the U.S. ever to be placed there.

The 75-year-old, 27-foot-wide conifer also represents Canada's Centennial gift to New York City.

The tall timber will stop overnight at Morrisburg, Ont., before continuing its journey across the Thousand Islands bridge into New York State and then to the Rockefeller Centre.

Reds May Pass Colorado Event

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — An official reported there is a possibility that Russia may withdraw its hockey team from an international tournament scheduled for the Broadmoor World Arena Dec. 26-31.

The United States Nationals and Canada are the other teams entered.

"We have a contract with the Russians and are still in negotiations with them," the spokesman said, "but we have heard they may not come here."

He said in case of a Soviet withdrawal, every effort will be made to find a replacement.

The Swedish, Finnish, West German and Austrian teams all are possibilities, he said.

FOR VENTURERS

32-Below Zero Camping Hike Good Training

By JAMES OSBORNE

OTTAWA (CP)—A 400-mile bicycle trip or a camping hike in 32-below-zero weather may be taking outdoorsmanship a bit far to most of us.

But these are listed as accomplishments by Venturers boy scouts, the product of Canadian scouting's biggest reorganization in its 60-year history.

Venturers is a multi-oriented program for teen-aged boys that became official Oct. 21; yet its membership is estimated as close to 10,000.

During its unofficial existence for the last few years it has concentrated primarily on outdoors activities. And many of them would daunt all but the more ardent veteran outdoorsmen.

Example: The Black Creek Venturers in Ontario's Haliburton County last winter trekked into virgin bush for a weekend camping trip while temperatures dipped to 32 below zero.

Example: Thirteen - year-old Bert Struik of Regina bicycled to Prince Albert, 220 miles north, seeking a campsite for members of the Regina Venturers company.

REACH ADULT LEVEL

Venturer activities can range virtually to the limits of an individual group's imagination. That is the official intention.

One planner said that among conclusions from 2½ years of research was that boys aged 14 to 17 need an opportunity to engage in adult activities and meet adult standards. Venturers was designed that way.

Consider the adult standards in these:

—A Venturer group at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., considered shooting rapids a highlight of a 43-mile trip on the Goulais River this summer.

—The Saskatoon group includes avid scuba divers—a sophisticated departure from the old swimming hole.

—A group at Peterborough, Ont., has built two complete log cabins and plans more.

There are at least six groups building canoes. A group at Calgary goes in for rock-climbing and pack - horse trips. A Montreal group has taken up gliding and worked with the Montreal Soaring Club.

COVER WIDE FIELD

Venturers also has its indoor activities:

The cabin-building Peterborough group last spring completed a course on police methods; three groups took hunter safety courses last summer; others have taken driver safety and life-saving courses.

The scout national council is preparing a guide manual for Venturers. In it will be listed suggested pastimes ranging from archery to zoology.

One of the few "must rules is that a group's program touch on six major subject areas each year: cultural, social, explorational, physical, service and vocational preparation for adult living.

A group may choose its own uniform, besides a basic standard dress uniform, to suit its activities.

So a boy in a black leather jacket carrying a Venturer crest could be a member of Venturer motorcycle group; a blazer could signify a boy in a law, medical or liberal arts group.

Gatepost Fastener Sells for $50,000

LONDON (AP) — A piece of old metal — used for years on a farm as a gatepost fastener — has sold at auction for $50,000.

A farmer cutting turf struck a piece of metal 150 years ago, and picked up what appeared to be a kind of hoop.

After using it as a gate fastener for years, the farmer finally threw it with bits of old iron, saying:

"Save it until the gypsies come around and collect this junk."

The gypsies came eventually. Picking up the piece of metal, one of the gypsy women whispered something to another.

The farmer's wife heard the word "gold."

After a struggle the farmer's wife grabbed it away.

A jeweller said the object had been part of the accoutrements of a Roman officer.

The farmer then offered it to the second Earl Grosvenor, later first Marquess of Westminster, and he bought it for $600.

Recently a private but unnamed buyer bought the piece of metal from trustees of the second Duke of Westminster.

It had been identified as a gold circular torque made about 1,000 years before Christ.

It is 14 inches in diameter and weighs 24 ounces.

The farmer, known only as "Mr. Morris," found it at the site of the residence of one of the last Welsh princes.

Bridge Safety Checks Queried

OTTAWA (CP) — Had two safety engineers carried their fears a little higher than they did, the Heron road bridge might not have collapsed Aug. 10 and killed nine workmen, a coroner's inquest was told Wednesday.

Special Counsel Herbert Langdon asked whether safety inspectors shouldn't be required to have higher qualifications than they now do. Dr. H. B. Cotnam, Ontario's supervising coroner, expressed a similar view.

The inquest learned that two inspectors toured the bridge site weeks before the collapse and noticed a lack of horizontal bracing in the wooden falseworks to support construction of the roadbed.

After being assured by Richard Brock, a 22-year-old University of Waterloo student, that the falseworks had been approved by M. M. Dillon, consulting engineers for the project, the inspectors let the matter drop.

Mr. Langdon said that if the inspectors had carried their fears to higher officials, "the bridge might not have fallen down."

A number of expert witnesses have pointed to a weakness in the falseworks—notably the absence of horizontal bracing in the longitudinal direction—as a major cause of the bridge collapse.

Victor Bromley, project engineer for the Dillon Co., didn't hesitate a moment when asked by Dr. Cotnam why the bridge fell.

"Because the falseworks collapsed," Mr. Bromley replied. He said a mix-up led him to believe that a set of plans that included such horizontal bracing was being used to put up the falseworks.

Instead, O. J. Gaffney Co. of Stratford used a nother set of plans that eliminated the bracing.

Mr. Bromley said he felt guilty about the mix-up and couldn't explain how it happened.

Desire Streetcar? Here's Some

TOKYO (Reuters) — Streetcars are being sold at bargain prices in Tokyo.

For 80,000 yen (about $224) it is possible to buy one and convert it into a workshop, canteen, study or a play-pen for children.

Some models on sale are 31 feet long, dated back as far as 1926, but others offered to buyers by Tokyo's metropolitan government include 1937 and 1942 models.

They survived Second World War air raids on Tokyo but now are losing the transport battle to faster and more manoeuvrable buses and autos.

More than 1,000 trolleys are still running in Tokyo but the metropolitan government intends to abolish 90 per cent of the services on which they operate within the next 10 years and replace them with subways and buses.

Seattle Hit By Blackout

SEATTLE (AP) — Stores closed, city and county employees went home early, prisoners at the city jail went without dinner and traffic was snarled Wednesday night when a section of Seattle's downtown business area was blacked out by a power failure.

A series of underground electrical fires put the first lights out about 3:20 p.m. Within a few minutes power was out in an 80-block area containing mainly department stores and office and business buildings, including the King County courthouse and other city and county offices.

It was more than six hours before 60 to 70 Seattle city light emergency workers were able to replace burned underground wiring and restore power.

City jail prisoners went hungry when jailers were unable to finish preparing a dinner in the basement kitchen.

FOR NEW DRUGS

'Patent System Needed'

OTTAWA (CP) — The greatest number of discoveries through drug research have been in areas with a strong patent system, a spokesman for the Patent and Trademark Institute of Canada told the Commons drug prices inquiry Tuesday.

An institute brief recommended no action be taken on proposals to abolish patents in the drug field.

The restrictive trade practices commission had recommended abolition of drug patents. The Hall royal commission on health services suggested any such proposal be deferred for five years.

Russel S. Smart of Ottawa, head of the committee that drew up the brief said: "I am perfectly satisfied that without a proper patent system, the incentive to research and to invest in research . . . is hindered."

"If we abolish drug patents in Canada, I think the price of new drugs, initially, would be all the market could bear," to enable the inventof to get full returns on his investment before competition entered the field.

The brief calls for repeal of the present section of the Patent Act dealing with drugs which contain what Mr. Smart describes as "room for argument on every line."

In its place the institute proposes precise legislation detailing the standards patented drugs must meet and the royalties that must be paid the inventor for use of his patent.

LEMAY HEARING

Witness Suffers Fierce Attack

MONTREAL (CP) — Defence lawyers resumed their relentless efforts today to crack open the testimony of the Crown's chief witness who says Georges Lemay directed the $633,600 burglary of a midtown Montreal bank in 1961.

The witness, sturdily-built 45-year-old Jacques Lajoie, successfully withstood two days of fierce cross-examination by Lemay's lawyers attempting to discredit his testimony at Lemay's preliminary hearing on bank burglary charges.

Lemay, a 42-year-old former Montreal playboy, is faced with charges of conspiring to rob and carrying out of the spectacular burglary at a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia at busy St. Catherine and St. Alexander streets during a Dominion Day weekend in 1961.

Four persons were sentenced in 1962 for the burglary but it was not until the spring of 1965 that Lemay was arrested in Florida after RCMP flashed his picture on television screens as part of a special Early Bird satellite transmission.

He later scaled the seven-storey-tall wall of Dade County jail in Florida where he was held and it was not until last August that he was arrested again in Las Vegas, Nev., and returned to Montreal to face charges.

CALM AT HEARING

Lemay sat calmly throughout the hearing as he listened first to Lajoie's account of the burglary and then as lawyers Guy Guerin and L. R. Maranda tried to shatter the plausibility of Lajoie's testimony.

Lajoie testified previously that Lemay gave him $7,300 for his role as lookout in the bank robbery and said Wednesday he had only $140 left a month later.

The witness told the hearing before Judge Emile Trottier that he spent much of the money on medical debts incurred in the illnesses of one of his children and on the woman with whom he lived.

Some of the money had gone towards renting two cottages at Lemay's request, said Lajoie, who never was tried on charges connected with the bank burglary but who received a one-day sentence on a counterfeit charge after having been held in custody for 21 months. He was released three years ago.

LOSES COMPOSURE

Lajoie lost his composure on several occasions Wednesday as the defence put forward a steady barrage of questions designed to show Lajoie's memory was faulty. The witness snapped:

"On the question of the bank burglary, my memory is completely faithful."

Digging into Lajoie's past in an attempt to discredit his testimony, lawyers Guerin and Maranda succeeded in getting into the record the fact that the witness had enjoyed "favored treatment" while in custody.

Lajoie admitted several burglaries in the Laurentians north of Montreal and said he was arrested for his part in the bank burglary six months after the robbery.

His treatment as a prisoner differed from that experienced in previous arrests for other crimes, he said. He had been permitted to have visits from the woman with whom he lived.

PROMINENT Vancouver lawyer, Arthur Fouks, QC, has been elected national president of the Canadian Heart Foundation. The group is holding its annual meeting in Calgary.

London Elects A Lady!

LONDON (AP) — A 600-year-old tradition that only men are fit to run the affairs of the City of London was ended Wednesday night by the wife of a judge.

Lady Donaldson, 45, became the first woman elected to the court of common council, the local authority for the capital's financial area.

Running as Mary Donaldson, she collected 306 out of 488 votes for a vacant seat representing the ward of Farringdon.

Council elections first were held in the 14th century and until 1920 women did not even have the right to run for election. The first female condidate who tried in 1961 was defeated.

The mother of three children, Lady Donaldson, is the wife of High Court Judge Sir John Donaldson.

Extortion Plot Bared In N.S. Town

WESTVILLE, N. S. (CP) — RCMP and town police Wednesday they have completed their investigation into an alleged extortion plot uncovered in this Pictou County town Monday, but they still did not know whether charges will be laid.

The investigation began after W. D. Ross, Bank of Nova Scotia branch manager, said he received a letter asking him to leave $200,000 under a town bridge within four days or his wife and two-month-old daughter would be harmed.

Police said three suspects have been questioned, but none is being held. Evidence would be fully examined before a decision on charges was made, a police spokesman said.

George Campbell, an elderly town resident, said Monday night that two persons had used guns and knives to force him to write threatening letters and to pay them more than $1,000 during the last year.

"Once they held a knife to my throat and another time they had a revolver," Mr. Campbell said.

Police said their investigation turned up an unmailed letter to a second Westville man, demanding he pay $150,000 or his wife would be harmed.

Economic Research Institute Proposed

OTTAWA (CP) — Too much guesswork goes into day-to-day analysis of what is happening in the economy, says the Economic Council of Canada.

Its third annual review calls for a major research institute to watch current economic developments and for expansion of the overworked Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The new organization would need both public and private financing.

The review expresses concern about gaps and deficiencies in price statistics now available for measuring performance of the economy.

The well-known Consumer Price Index, often misinterpreted as a cost-of-living index, refers only to a narrow range of goods for city families of a specific income level, said the review.

It catches up to new products some time after they appear on the market and does not account for changes in buying habits. Because it measures price change only, important changes of quality must be eliminated from the index.

Thus, the consumer index and others measuring only prices serve at best as "indirect readings of inflationary pressures in the system."

CITES MANY GAPS

To diagnose potential inflationary dangers at an early stage, or to spot ebbing of these dangers, Canada needs better measures of unemployment, unfilled orders and the degree to which industrial capacity is being used, says the review.

The country badly needed a close and continuing dialogue among the academic community, private research foundations and the Dominion bureau.

The review pointed specifically to the volatile area of construction as one in which measures of price change are difficult.

No certain way exists to find out how productivity is improving in this industry, and the council suggests the DBS implicit price index of construction prices may well be erring by 1.5 per cent a year.

Similar problems face measurement of government spending, a big item in the gross national product.

Reeve Clash Looms In Central Saanich

LAMONT
. . . fights apathy

A lively election battle is shaping up in rural Saanich Peninsula.

Ray Lamont, a former councillor, announced today he will contest the reeveship—against incumbent Reeve Gordon Lee in Central Saainch.

Otherwise, quiet elections are expected in North Saanich and Sidney Village where both reeves have yet another year to serve before their term of office expires.

Mr., Lwmont was one of the original council members when Central Saanich was incorporated in 1950. He has served on council for 15 years and was defeated last December when he sought re-election.

The candidate said he was asked to stand for office.

"But I'm doing so basically because I feel voters should be given a choice of candidates," he said. "Reeve Lee has been elected three times by acclamation and to be elected for a fourth time the same way would indicate a public apathy in municipal affairs."

He said he would make his platform known when the election campaign opened next week.

FOURTH TERM

Reeve Lee, seeking re-election for a fourth term, was pleased that the office would be contested.

Other candidates contesting three vacant council seats are incumbent Councillors Tom Michell, J. K. Hemstreet and Margaret Sait. Percy Lazarz, an unsuccessful candidate in last year's election, will also run again.

In North Saanich incumbent Coun. John S. Clark, school teacher, will not run for office this year.

Couns. J. H. Wilson, businessman, and George Aylard, farmer, will seek re-election. A third, Frank Cliff Adams, a retired B.C. Telephone executive, has filed nomination papers.

There are three seats to fill.

TWO CANDIDATES

So far only two candidates will contest two vacant seats on Sidney council. They are Coun. Lawrence Christian and L. E. James, a civil servant.

Coun. Wilkie Gardiner has not yet decided if he will seek re-election.

Birth Control Law Easing To Be Urged

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons health and welfare committee will be asked to recommend that a form of control be substituted for the present criminal code ban on dissemination of contraceptives, says a reliable source.

It is understood that the proposal has been agreed upon by an all-party steering committee and will be placed before the main committee this week.

If approved, it would go as a recommendation to the Commons.

After that it is up to the government to decide whether to introduce legislation bringing the recommendation into force.

One source said the recommendation involves regulating the distribution and manufacture of birth control drugs and devices through the federal food and drugs act.

Such a step would involve amending the criminal code, which virtually bans sale of devices.

Use of the federal food and drug laws would also provide a means of regulating advertising of contraceptive pills and devices, as is done now with therapeutic drugs.

The committee also may recommend that it conduct an inquiry next year into legal abortions.

Spanish Referendum On Dec. 14

MADRID (Reuters) — Spain will hold a national referendum Dec. 14 on whether to accept Generalissimo Francisco Franco's new constitutional reforms, it was announced today.

A decree announcing the widely expected date for the poll was published in the official state bulletin.

A total of 19,620,000 Spanish citizens over 21 are entitled to vote yes or no in the referendum.

Spain's last national referendum was in 1947 when overwhelming approval was given to laws making Spain a monarchy and giving Franco the right to name his successor.

The new law confirms that Spain will have a king or regent as its future head of state, although he has not yet been named. It introduces more flexible political structures which will give Spain its first prime minister since the civil war and make the parliament and other state bodies more representative.

Hangings Rejected

LONDON (Retuers) — The Commons Wednesday night refused by a vote of 292 to 170 to consider bringing back hanging for murder in Britain. The death penalty was abolished last year for an experimental period of five years.

Two Island Men Plead Guilty To Break-Ins

Two Port Alberni men who netted 40 cents from break-ins at two local service stations at the weekend will be sentenced Dec. 1.

Reginald David Kelly and James Michael Perey pleaded guilty Wednesday in central court to charges of breaking and entering with intent to steal and breaking and entering and theft.

Saanich detective Ronald Coulter told court the pair stole a car from a Duncan service station on their way here.

They will be sentenced on the auto theft charge in Duncan, Nov. 30.

FLOOR SAFE

Det. Coulter said Perey broke a window at Pacific 66 service station at 3445 Douglas, Sunday morning. He tried to open a floor safe and a desk drawer, but left empty-handed.

The two men later Sunday broke into Trans-Canada Texaco service station, 480 Burnside West and took 40 cents from a pop machine.

School Shifts Hit

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Delegates at the New Westminster District and Labor Council approved a plan Wedensday to seek an end to the shift system in schools. They agreed the shift system reduces the amount of instruction received by school children and results in an excessive amount of homework.

FUNERAL SATURDAY FOR VERNON EDGELOW

'One of the Finest Fellows' at Work

Funeral services will be held Saturday for a Yarrows crane operator who two years ago saved three lives at the risk of his own.

Vernon Arthur Edgelow, 61, of 2812 Rockwell, collapsed on his way to the company parking lot at quitting time Wednesday. He died on the way to hospital.

He is the older brother of Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

Mr. Edgelow came to Victoria in 1928 and joined Yarrows as a crane operator in 1942.

Two years ago Mr. Edgelow stayed with his crane as it tilted toward a hut in which three men were working. He steered the crane away and narrowly escaped death when the rig finally came crashing to the ground.

"Vern saved the lives of the men in that hut," a fellow worker commented on hearing of Mr. Edgelow's death.

"He was one of the finest fellows a man could work with. Everybody respected him."

Mr. Edgelow came with his doctor father to Canada in 1911. In 1928 he came to Victoria where he married and raised his family.

He is survived by the widow, Elsa; a son, Douglas, and a daughter, Mrs. Joan Eastwood; a step-son, Barry Porter of Jordan River; and a step-daughter, Mrs. Shirley Day of Chatham, N.B.; two brothers, Geoffrey of 50 Highland and Gordon of Meota, Sask.; a sister, Mrs. Peggy Cave of 2278 Pacific; and eight grand children.

The funeral will be held from McCall Brothers chapel at 3:30 p.m with Rev. Canon Robert Willis officiating, followed by cremation.

Catalogues Destroyed

OTTAWA (CP) — Solicitor-General Pennell promised Tuesday to look into allegations that some Hudson's Bay Co. trading post managers destroyed catalogues by other department stores to keep from losing business.

He was replying to Frank Howard (NDP - Skeena) who told the Commons the allegations were made during a meeting of the Indian affairs committee.

Mr. Pennell said he would get a report on the allegations and follow up with action if this was necessary.

Mr. Howard said the allegations were that some post managers interfered with the mails to prevent delivery of catalogues and opened mail that they believed contained cheques or money-destined for other department stores.

COURT GETS APPEAL

'Right Not to Be Born'

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—The New Jersey State Supreme Court is considering an appeal by the parents of a blind, deaf, retarded child who say their seven-eyar-old son had the right not to be born.

The parents, on behalf of the child, brought a suit against two Jersey City doctors who they alleged were negligent in not advising that the mother's German measles could be harmful to the child.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Gleitman of North Arlington charged the doctors with "lulling them into a false sense of security and precluding them from seeking independent advice or arranging of a therapeutic abortion."

A lower court threw out the suit on the grounds that an abortion would have been illegal. The Gleitmans appealed the case Tuesday and it was taken under study.

New Jersey law allows therapeutic abortions only when the "health and welfare" of the mother is threatened.

Mrs. Gleitman said she contracted measles during the first months of pregnancy and was not warned of the danger.

The doctors, Robert Cosgrove, Jr. and Jerome Dolan, testified that they told her there was a 20-per-cent chance of deformity. They said advising an abortion would have been unjustifiable because of the chance of normality.

Lawyers for the parents, and their son, Jeffrey, maintained that every person has the right not to be born.

Settlement Reached In Air Canada Strike

CANADIAN KILLED AS VIET CONG AMBUSH CONVOY

SAIGON (Reuters) — Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed an armed truck convoy in South Viet Nam's Central Highlands today, killing a total of 10 persons including one Canadian civilian.

A U.S. mission spokesman said the guerrillas struck at a truck convoy carrying radio technicians of five nationalities to a work site in the highlands. One Canadian also was wounded.

The civilian victims were employed by Page Communications Engineers Inc., a U.S. firm based in Washington.

Page issued a casualty list from Washington identifying the dead Canadian as Armand Fortier, 40, husband of Pierrette Fortier of Montreal, and the wounded Canadian as Claus Knipping, 31, of Scarborough, Ont.

The Page firm said eight of its employees were killed and three wounded in the U.S. Thanksgiving Day ambush.

The guerrillas raked the convoy with machine-gun fire after blowing up the lead vehicle with a deadly claymore antipersonnel mine.

Knipping, slightly built with brown hair and a moustache,

Total Ban on N-Tests Backed by UN Body

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The UN General Assembly's political committee adopted a resolution today urging a total suspension of nuclear weapons testing and a treaty to ban all such tests.

The proposal, sponsored by nine countries, is regarded as a key item in a long list of UN resolutions on disarmament issues, and is certain of adoption by the General Assembly. Canada was among the countries supporting it.

It was approved on a vote of 72 to 0 with one abstention, France.

France abstained because of a clause that asks the assembly to urge all countries to adhere to the 1963 Moscow test ban treaty, which bars all but underground tests.

France and China are the only nuclear states that have not signed the partial test ban treaty. The resolution was supported by the three that did, the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

The resolution also asks the assembly to request the 17-nation disarmament committee to "elaborate without further delay" a treaty banning underground tests, and to express hope for development of an effective international exchange of seismic data as a means of verifying compliance with such a treaty.

Canada is a member of the disarmament committee, which is expected to resume its meetings in Geneva, Switzerland, in January.

Docker Layoffs Continue

VANCOUVER (CP) — The port of Prince Rupert was completely closed down and others partially closed today following continued firings of longshoremen.

The firings began Wednesday with 650 men dismissed for what the employers term as deliberate slowdown tactics.

The longshoremen, including those dismissed, reported for work normally early today. But firings began again when the tactics were repeated.

Meanwhile, Labor Minister Nicholson said in Ottawa, he plans to fly to Vancouver Friday to participate in discussions aimed at solving the traffic slow-down.

He was replying to New Democratic Leader Douglas, who asked him to provide the good offices of the federal conciliation services to bring together shipping companies and supervisory personnel.

RULED MANAGEMENT

Mr. Nicholson said the application by supercargoes and other supervisory personnel for certification as bargaining agents was turned down by the federal labor board because these men were considered to be part of management.

He had received requests from international union representatives and management that he intervene. He planned to go west Friday to participate in the talks.

The longshoremen, including those dismissed, reported for work normaly today. But firings began again when the tactics were repeated.

Al crews, members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, at Prince Rupert were discharged for loafing, while on Vancouver Island two-thirds of the Port Alberni crews were fired and at Nanaimo the men were told there was no work.

In Chemainus only one ship was reported being worked normally.

A union spokesman in Victoria said only five gangs were called out to work today, two to one ship and three to a second vessel at Ogden Point docks.

He said loading was under way.

A quarter of the more than 1,600 longshoremen in Vancouver and neighboring New Westminster were fired.

SHORT OF FOOD

There was no report from Prince Rupert on the effects of the shutdown. Earlier reports said communities in the Queen Charlotte Islands were running out of staple foods.

There was no immediate comment today from either side on the latest firings, but Edward M. Strang, president of the B.C. Maritime Employers' Association, said earlier that longshore-

AIRLINER WAS BOMBED

ADEN (UPI)—The government announced tonight explosives planted in an Aden Airways DC-3 airliner caused the plane to blow up and crash Monday with the loss of 28 lives.

A statement issued by the interior ministry said investigations had shown the disaster was caused by "explosive materials planted in the passenger cabin by unknown terrorists."

SMITH TO BE AVAILABLE FOR ANY LAST-MINUTE TALKS

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (Reuters)—Prime Minister Ian Smith today called off an out-of-town visit to a party rally to leave time free for vital talks this weekend with Herbert Bowden, Commonwealth secretary.

Smith was to have gone Saturday to Gwelo, a town 170 miles southwest of Salisbury, to address a rally of his ruling Rhodesian Front party.

But a government statement said today he has decided to put off the trip owing to the visit of Bowden.

The Commonwealth secretary is due to arrive Friday in another—and probably final—attempt to settle the Rhodesian independence crisis in personal talks.

While Bowden's visit was being made ostensibly at the invitation of the governor, Sir Humphrey Gibbs, sources close to the government regarded a meeting with Smith as certain.

Bowden will first confer with Gibbs, who is not recognized by the Smith government.

South Africa Asked To Help Avert Crisis

BROWN
. . . more talks

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson has called on South Africa to press Rhodesia's rebel leaders into an 11th-hour settlement with Britain, government sources reported today.

Wilson's request was made in a personal message to Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster in Pretoria Wednesday.

The British leader was said to be coupling his request with the warning that Britain will be compelled to seek United Nations intervention in the crisis in a matter of days if the Rhodesians reject the chance of agreement.

The move by Wilson came as the dispute over the future of Rhodesia entered its most tense phase.

Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden flies tonight to Salisbury nominally to consult with the British Governor Sir Humphrey Gibbs, but as Wilson told Parliament Wednesday, Bowden also will be available to meet Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith.

NOW SMITH'S MOVE

Wilson made plain that it was up to Smith to call on Bowden and to arrange with him to accept Britain's terms for a settlement.

The alternative, Wilson said, is that the British government will be bound to fulfil its stated intention of seeking the imposition of selective mandatory sanctions on Rhodesia by the end of the year.

Informants said Wilson's ministers noted that Transport Minister Ben Schoeman of South Africa felt free this week publicly to warn Britain of the dire consequences that would follow the imposition of mandatory sanctions on Rhodesia.

Schoeman served notice that South Africa would ignore these sanctions and he warned the lush British-South African trade would be ruined.

But Wilson and his govern-

U.K. Envoy Lengthens Moscow Stay

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary George Brown of Britain cancelled plans to fly back to London and decided to stay another day in Moscow for talks with Premier Alexei Kosygin.

British officials said the foreign secretary, whose schedule was disrupted when his special plane was diverted to Leningrad Tuesday because of fog, now hopes to leave soon after meeting Kosygin Friday morning.

Brown conferred for 90 minutes today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. It was their fourth meeting in two days.

Informed sources said the two ministers discussed European security and Anglo-Soviet relations at their meeting this morning.

WIRE BRIEFS

Smog Blankets East

NEW YORK (UPI) — Freak weather conditions blanketed most of the East Coast with stagnant air today, doubling pollution and threatening industrial centres with an onslaught of smog.

Truscott Review

OTTAWA (CP) — Final argument by lawyers in the Supreme Court of Canada review of the Steven Truscott murder conviction was postponed today until late January.

Sabotage Charged

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—The strikebound Alabama Power Co. reported today that saboteurs knocked out power to about 500 customers in Montgomery Wednesday night.

Cong Kidnap 109

SAIGON (Reuters)—Viet Cong guerrillas today kidnapped 109 persons—most of them children, from a hamlet in the Mekong Delta, a South Vietnamese military spokesman reported.

Rioters Dispersed

JERUSALEM, Jordanian Sector (AP) — Steel-helmeted Arab Legion troops opened fire today to disperse several thousand rioting Palestinians in Ramallah and Hebron north and south of Jerusalem.

Yes Vote Urged By Union Leader

MONTREAL (CP)—Mike Rygus, Canadian vice-president of the International Association of Machinists, said today he expects membership ratification of a tentative agreement reached earlier with Air Canada on a new labor contract and said: "I will recommend a 'Yes'."

He made his comment as he emerged from two hours of continuous bargaining. Details of the settlement would not be released pending notification of the membership, he said.

Mike Pitchford, head of the IAM negotiating committee said he is "reasonably well satisfied with the agreement" and will issue a statement later today.

STATEMENT

Air Canada said in a statement:

"The negotiating committees of Air Canada and the International Association of Machinists today agreed to a tentative memorandum of settlement which will be presented to the 5,200 members of the union for ratification this weekend.

"Both parties have agreed that details will not be released until the union negotiating committee has had an opportunity to present the new agreement to the membership.

"Subject to ratification the airline operations are expected to begin within 48 hours of notice of an acceptance."

Talks resumed at 10:45 a.m. today in a bid to end the 10-day-old strike of machinists against the publicly-owned airline.

The two sides adjourned a few minutes before midnight Wednesday following a day-long bid for agreement.

Prime Minister Pearson said in Ottawa Wednesday night the government had urged Air Canada President Gordon McGregor to settle the strike, through direct negotiations and without government intervention.

Mr. Pearson also sent a telegram to Mr. Rygus in which he said he "strongly urged" Air Canada to work toward a settlement.

QANTAS HIT BY STRIKE OF PILOTS

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Pilots protesting "dangerous" proposed changes in regulations covering crew size and safety procedures struck Qantas Airlines today, paralyzing the carrier around the world. It was the third pilots' strike against Qantas in three years.

The strike went into effect at 6 p.m. PST, after talks broke down between the Australian Federation of Airline Pilots and Qantas.

The 440 striking pilots were protesting a proposed reduction from three to two pilots and a proposal that pilots fly night flights to Jakarta, Indonesia. Salaries also were involved in the negotiations.

250 Shells Uncovered

ROME (Reuters) — Wartime artillery shells and grenades borne by swirling floodwaters today posed a new danger to villagers near Formia, about 60 miles south of Rome.

The shells, left behind by German and Allied armies, were buried on the banks of the River Garigliano and were uncovered by floods in the last few days.

Police and army engineers so far have fished out 250 artillery shells, about 1,000 detonators, 15 time-fuses and 10 hand grenades from the water. Some were recovered only a short distance from a hydroelectric power plant.

'U.S. Wage Parity Must Be Resisted'

(See story Page 6)

OTTAWA (CP) — Pressures building up in Canada for wage parity with the United States have got to be resisted or this country will face another balance of payments crisis, John J. Deutsch, chairman of the Economic Council of Canada, told a parliamentary committee today.

A balance of payments crisis would "really bring down the curtain," and have to be met by austerity, belt-tightening, and the deliberate creation of unemployment, he told the Senate-Commons committee on prices.

Mr. Deutsch was asked by Steve Otto (L—York East) to describe the effects of Canadian labor negotiators trying to negotiate wages in this country equal to those paid in the United States.

A lawyer and company executive, Mr. Otto said he recently was engaged in labor negotiations in which the workers were interested only in their take-home pay, without regard to the level of tax or welfare deductions.

Mr. Deutsch said parity of wages between Canada and the United States would be impossible to achieve. There would be so many side effects created in Canada that the goal could not be reached.

KINDNESS WARMS UP ORPHAN'S COLD WORLD

By CANDIDE TEMPLE

In a dark, small shed near the waterfront in the city of Mokpo, Korea, nine children are huddled in a corner.

Eight boys and a little girl, shivering and terrified. They squat silently on rags on the shed's cold floor.

The children are waifs, abandoned by families who could no longer feed them.

They have been picked up by police in the fishing town of Mokpo and brought to Unitarian Service Committee workers there, who do the only thing they can with the youngsters.

The give them food, clothing and temporary shelter in places like the waterfront hut. All this is made possible by Canadian help for the USC, through funds such as the Times' Share with Asian Children Fund.

TRACE FAMILY

Then USC workers will try to trace the children's families and offer aid so the youngsters may stay with them.

If this fails, the youngsters must be put into overcrowded orphanages, dark-eyed, and serious and by this time hostile towards a world that doesn't want them.

But the help and kindness they receive at the hands of USC workers is a memory that stays with them.

So does the taste of the Canadian milk and biscuits which are distributed to the needy by USC workers in Mokpo, elsewhere in Korea and around the world.

RAY OF HOPE

For the big-eyed orphans it's the one ray of hope in a dark and hateful world.

If some people are kind to them, if people across the ocean care enough to give money for milk and barley, warm sweaters and socks, it can't be such a bad world after all.

Victorians are being asked to help these nine Korean youngsters, and others like them, through contributions to The Times Share with Asian Children Fund.

Donations may be sent care of The Victoria Daily Times, or made at the main branch of the Bank of Montreal, 1225 Douglas St.

AND BENNETT 'CORRECTS' A MISUNDERSTANDING

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislature Reporter

QUESNEL — Wednesday was Mayor' Day in the Bonner byelection campaign.

Premier Bennett made a eulogistic endorsation of Mr. Bonner by Vancouver Mayor William Rathie, the highlight of his 45-minute speech to some 500 persons here.

He read the telegram from his once-bitter foe and former Liberal candidate with a triumphant flourish, then added his own direct appeal:

"You should ask not what the government can do for you but what you can do for the people of the province and its government.

"I will tell you on Monday next you can mark that X for Bonner and it will be the greatest day in your life and the greatest day for all the province."

Quesnel Mayor Alex Fraser, a well-known Conservative supporter, acted as chairman of the meeting and praised Mr. Bonner so highly that the premier said he might appear on Mr. Fraser's platform for re-election as mayor next month to reciprocate. Both Mayor Fraser and Williams Lake Myor Herb Gardner signed individual advertisments appearing in local newspapers which strongly urged voters to support Bonner. Mr. Gardner is president of The Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Premier Bennett said people from all parts of the province want Social Credit to win in the Cariboo and he read the surprise telegram from Mayor Rathie as proof . . . neglecting to mention its mispelling of the riding's name. "Please convey to the Honorable Bob Bonner my sincere best wishes for his success in the Nov. 28 Caribou byelection," Mr. Rathie wired.

"I have had ample opportunity during recent years to observe at first hand his thorough and sympathetic understanding of the problems of municipalities large and small throughout the province. The job he has done through 14 years of service as a cabinet minister merits the admiration of all British Columbians. I believe it is important to us all that Bob Bonner be given the opportunity to continue in the cabinet and also to represent B.C. at federal-provincial conferences.

"I hope the voters of Caribou will give him that opportunity by electing him as their member next Monday."

Mr. Rathie, who also is seeking re-election next month, added a post script to the premier saying:

"Please be assured that, as expected, I will continue my constructive criticism from time to time. Best personal regards."

Mr. Bennett said the Nov. 28 byelection is the most important byelection every held in the province.

"I say in all seriousness, this is more important than most of you ever will know and I say that as your premier."

He said Vancouver voters already were sorry they believed Liberal and press arguments the opposition needed support in the Sept. 12 election which saw Mr. Bonner defeated. Cariboo voters should not make the same mistake, he said.

"They're not interested in the Cariboo," he cried. "They're just interested in defeating this man Bonner because he's the right hand of the government.

He said he was misunderstood because newspapers abbreviated the reports of his Monday press conference in Victoria and gave the wrong impression that he was threatening the riding.

"What I did say at that press conference in Victoria was how important Bonner is on our team. Take out your best pitcher and what have you got left?

"I said it is bound to affect the government, it is bound to affect the province and it is bound to affect the Cariboo and I repeat that here tonight."

Mr. Bennett said there are four fine men running for the

B.C. CIVIL SERVANTS TO GET RAISE IN PAY

QUESNEL—Premier Bennett said there will be raises for civil servants next year but he would not disclose how much or for how many.

The premier, who suggested last month that British Columbia's 19,000 civil servants shouldn't be asking for pay increases in the next budget, revealed his changed position during the question period at a byelection campaign meeting here for Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

He began his speech with the warning that "It is not my intention to make any political promises at all because of the need for restraint in government spending during an inflationary period".

But 45 miutes later he was asked by a questioner in the audience whether the premier is going to raise government salaries this year.

His reply was short but emphatic: The cabinet and MLA's—no; the civil servants—yes. However, he declined to elaborate when asked for more details by reporters after the meeting.

While Wild Bob Bonner is off riding the Cariboo ranges the big boss of the home ranch has been waving his six-guns in a most unseemly manner.

"Without Bonner," he declared to newsmen on Monday, "I don't think our government could do as much for the Cariboo —or the province."

This claim, or the last portion of it at least, is pure pre-election nonsense. Admittedly, Mr. Bonner has been the top gun of successive Social Credit cabinets. But with him or without him, British Columbia is going to get precisely the same hodgepodge of good-and-bad government that she's received for the past 14 years.

It is the specific statement about what the Cariboo may expect if Mr. Bonner is unhorsed that should give us pause.

This is a very thinly-veiled threat and I heartily trust the hard-nosed denizens of Cariboo Riding will make such answer as threats deserve.

Provincial botanist Adam Szczawinski, known to hundreds of South Islanders as The Mushroom Man," tells me he is delighted with the ready response to his appeal for information about ancient and monstrous trees.

"Today," said Dr. Szczawinski, "I have a number of reports on my desk. They keep coming in. . . . It always surprises and pleases me to find how interested people are in a project of this sort."

Never backward when praise is being handed out, I at once began to tell our mushroom and tree man about a veritable giant among broadleaved maples that stands a few yards back of Glen Duncan's roadside logging museum at Sayward.

"I know," Dr. Szczawinski said kindly. "I believe I have already visited that maple."

However, he hadn't heard about the huge, aged arbutus that dominates the south tip of Mistaken Island, a chunk of American-owned real estate a mile or two out from Northwest Bay.

Dr. Szczawinski listened patiently and I was tempted to tell him about the lawyer who once lived in amiable retirement a stone's throw from the tree with his pet pig.

Some other eager beaver wanted his ear, though, so I had to content myself with a word about the interesting layer of charred wood exposed where our home foreshore (Saanich assessors please take notice) has crumbled back from the beach. This we see as further evidence that, before the white man and possibly even the Indian came, forest fires swept clear to the saltchuck edge.

When our vigorous botanist has sifted and checked his data, he hopes to tag surviving kings of the primeval forest ("just as they do with ducks," he explains) and locate them on a big old tree map of British Columbia.

An interesting undertaking, and no man better deserves co-operation. Each year, Dr. Adam's warnings and identifications save a scad of B.C. mushroom fanciers from mistaking bad ones for good ones.

I am wondering if barber Terry Rodway's large female courgar bagged near Cowichan River could possibly be the old lady glimpsed by several fishermen in the streamside fastnesses up beyond Skutz Falls.

Her territory is — or perhaps was — the area near Henderson's Pool, a trout haven deep in dim and eerie woods.

One who has seen her — or maybe him, since the upper Cowichan valley is well-supplied with cougar — is Victoria angler Les Leacock. Les, in fact, almost landed heels first on the old deer-slayer.

With a fishing partner he was toiling through the tangles when a down-log barred the way. Les climbed on top of it .... and out from under his feet bolted a cat from here to there long.

"We suspect she hung around all afternoon," says Les, "At least something let out the occasional yowl."

But the fishing was good, and they didn't pay much attention.

THIRD DAY of winter, that's today, but this mixed up Easter Lily hasn't got a calendar. It's a source of great wonderment to two-year-old Terry Geddes. He's a neighborhood friend of Mrs. Ross McKinnon, 2447 Dryfe Street, Oak Bay, who grew the lily. Meanwhile, back on the Prairies, Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, registered a temperature of 28 below zero Wednesday. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

He Got Mad At Something

A man who punched his fist through a store window on Quadra Street early today pleaded guilty to wilful damage when he appeared in court this morning.

Andrew Bosch, 24, of 2035 Oak Bay Ave., will be sentenced Friday.

Police said he was arrested after smashing the glass in the door of Individual Dry Cleaners, 2590 Quadra.

"I got mad at something," he told officers who found him walking half a block away.

Damage totalled $29.90, court was told.

Police said a breathalizer test indicated Bosch had been drinking.

Feared Death In Attack, Girl Testifies

A 20-year-old Colwood area girl told Magistrate Ostler today she was afraid she was going to be killed when she was sexually assaulted last Sept. 15.

The girl was testifying at a preliminary hearing in central court today on a charge of rape against Vernon Umphrey, 620 Huxley St.

She said the assault took place in the accused's car when it was parked at an Indian cemetery off Admirals Road.

The hearing was continuing into the afternoon. If the magistrate rules the Crown presented sufficient evidence to warrant it, Umphrey will be committed for trial before a higher court.

Rites Friday For Victoria Native Son

Funeral services will be held in Chaplin's funeral chapel Friday at 1:30 p.m. for Donald Alpin MacLoud, a native son of Victoria an dformer president of Esquimalt Lions Club.

Mr. MacLoud, who lived at 1174 Greenwood Street, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Tuesday at 61. He was an employee of the B.C. Telephone Company for nearly 30 years and was working in the engineering department until a few days before his death.

Canon George Biddle will officiate at the service which will be followed by interment in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mr. MacLoud is survived by the widow, Sally, at home; two brothers, Burton Charles and Edward James of Victoria; and several nieces and nephews.

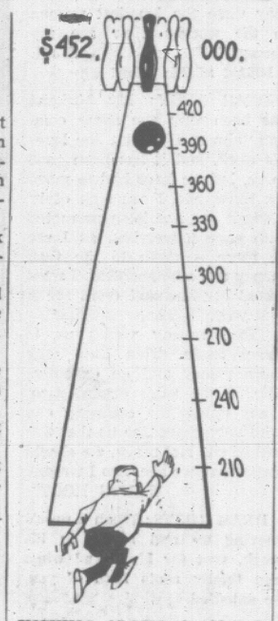
NAVY

HMC Ships Saskatchewan, Mackenzie and Qu'Appelle return to Esquimalt Friday morning; Beacon Hill out for the day; Endeavour left Seattle this morning, no ETA.

DEPT. OF TRANSPORT

Camsell at Bull Harbor and Scarlett Point, will be southbound in Johnstone Straits tonight; Estevan at Pachena Point, due at San Juan tonight; Sir James Douglas at Race Rocks; Racer in Gibsons patrol area; Ready in for repairs; Stonetown in port; St. Catharines on Station Papa; Vancouver left this morning, en route for Honolulu.



INCHING ALONG the United Appeal today crept $1,529 closer to its goal as the campaign goes into its 24th day of overtime. To date a total of $433,242 or 95.8 per cent of the $452,000 goal has been rolled up. With nearly $20,000 to go campaign officials are resolved to continue the campaign until the objective is reached.

Yarrows To Hire 200 More Men For Patrol Ship

Federal Work Starts in May

Yarrows, Ltd., expects to hire an extra 200 men when work begins on a new fisheries patrol vessel in the spring.

Yarrow's manager John Wallace said today that actual construction will begin in May, with a delivery date expected early in 1968.

"The project will help to increase our manpower level. I expect we would put 200 additional men to work," Mr. Wallace added.

The period between now and May will be taken up with preparation of working drawings and ordering of materials, he said.

Award of the contract for the 180-foot ship was announced Wednesday by Victoria MP David Groos. It will cost slightly less than $2.8 million.

The ship will be similar to one recently built for the fisheries department on the east coast. It will be capable of 15 knots and will be powered by a 4,000 horsepower engine.

RESCUE SHIP

It will be equipped for trolling and dragging for research purposes and as a rescue ship, and will feature all-welded construction. There will be space for a crew of 34 and accommodation for scientists and fisheries' technicians.

RESEARCH SHIP

Yarrows at present is engaged in construction of a $2.1 million oceanographic research ship for the mines department and a $2.2 million tuna vessel, largest ever built on this coast. A sister tuna ship is under contract.

A self-loading flat-deck barge is also being built and two pulp and chemical barges and a newsprint carrier barge are contracted.

False Story After Crash Admitted

A motorcyclist who rammed a lamp post on Douglas Street last Saturday was fined a total of $600 in central court today.

Kenneth Mindenhall, 19, of Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, pleaded guilty to public mischief, impaired driving and driving while his licence was under suspension.

Constable Peter Battisson testified the accused told him he had crashed into the lamp post near Roderick after his motorcycle had been hit from behind by a car.

Mindenhall also gave him a false name, the officer said. Further investigation showed the motorcycle had not been hit by a car.

Court was told the accused lost his driving licence after four speeding convictions in one month earlier this year.

SCIENTISTS EYE SHRIMPS FOR MARKET

Scientists of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada's biological station at Nanaimo are focusing attention on the potential of the net-catching of shrimp in the outer coastal waters off British Columbia.

In co-operation with the industrial development service of the federal department of fisheries, the board's fisheries detectives have carried out a survey in Hecate Strait and Queen Charlotte Sound. This was done aboard the motor vessel Belina under the command of Capt. R. Wood. The survey extended over a 70-day period.

While it is yet too early for the scientists to finally assess the results, they have agreed that only one or two spots have commercial possibilities.

TWO TERMS

Griffin Not Seeking Re-Election

Ald. Michael Griffin announced today that he would not seek re-election to city council on Dec. 10.

The veteran alderman, completing his second term on council, said pressure of business and other avenues of endeavor made it impossible for him to seek a further term in office at this time.

His announcement brought expressions of regret from Acting Mayor Cecil Parrott and two mayoralty candidates.

"That is bad news," said Acting Mayor Parrott. "He will be greatly missed on council."

Ald. Hugh Stephen, seeking the mayor's chair after a one-year term as alderman, said the absence of Ald. Griffin on council would be a great loss to the city.

DISAPPOINTED

"He is a fine man and a fine alderman," he said. "I sincerely regret his decision. It will be a great loss to council."

Ald. Clyde Savage also expressed disappointment at Ald. Griffin's decision.

"Having worked with him on council I am aware of his many qualities as a civic leader," he said. "He did far more for this city than most people realize.

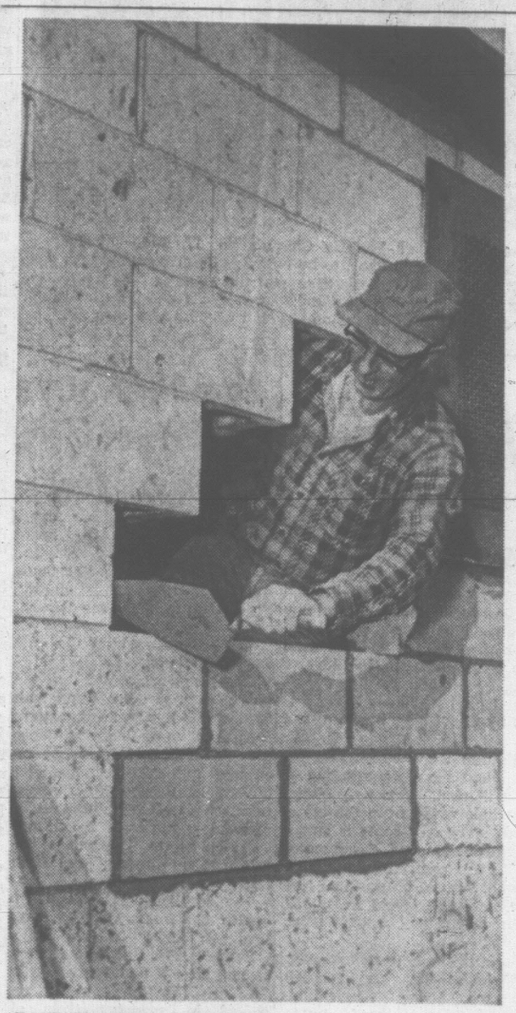
"I hope the people appreciate what a good man we are all losing.

"We members of council are well aware of the pressures which brought about Ald. Griffin's decision and deeply regret that such pressures could cost the city such a valuable man."

Ald. Griffin's decision not to seek a further term in office means that three experienced aldermen will be missing from the ranks of aldermen next year.

Ald. Savage decided to seek the chief magistrate's post rather than seek a further term as alderman and Ald. Stephen is resigning from council in order to contest the mayoralty race.

Cougar Fear Up As Prints Found



DETERMINED THIEVES used a sledge hammer in an attempt to enter Kelly Douglas grocery cash and carry wholesale warehouse at 2141 Government overnight. But the vibrations set off the burglar alarm and police arrived quickly. The hardworking crash-in artists escaped but store was not entered. Mason Dave Cunningham, above, had to remove about 10 cement blocks to repair two-foot hole.

Near Homes After Blaze On Mountain

By GLEN ALLEN

Nearly a dozen sightings of cougars in populated areas have been reported to local and provincial authorities in recent weeks.

No cougars have been tracked down or even sighted by hunters put on their trail.

But people like Mrs. K. C. Cronk, 4316 Blenkinsop, who says she has never cried "cougar" in her life, believes there has been more than one of the big cats in her 34-acre back yard since the Mount Douglas fire.

And to the Mount Douglas area man who lost a lamb last week, and to the family whose eight guinea pigs were slaughtered almost inexplicably a few days later, the presence of cougars close to the city is more than a possibility.

Just five years ago a large male was killed in the entrance to the Government Street liquor store.

Shot Dead

Another was shot dead on the steps of the public library one April morning a few years before that.

And cougars on this Island are thought to be increasing in number.

To Wildlife Service regional protection officer Bob Sinclair, cougars more often than not turn out to be German Shepherds, airplane noises, or almost anything but the real thing.

Mr. Sinclair who has lately been on wild cougar chases from Sooke to the Queen Alexandra Solarium says "99 per cent of reports turn out to be false".

"We always go out to see, just the same," he said.

Mr. Sinclair points out that cougars are about as likely to attack a man as lamb is a lion.

Going To Bite

"But you corner a mouse and stick your finger in his mouth, he's going to bite."

The latest and perhaps most convincing of cougar alarms was turned in to Saanich police by Mrs. Cronk, whose farm fronts on Lost Lake and is west of Mount Douglas.

Several times recently she has heard cries — reputed to sound like woman at her worst —found prints, and says a neighbor saw one nearby.

Member of a family that homesteaded here at the turn of the century she has never before been so sure her fears—or the fears for her goats, sheep and cattle — are well-founded.

Saanich Police Department Deputy Chief Joe Armstrong is skeptical.

He recalls the time he person-

CROWN SALES

Alaska Route Field Draws High Oil Bids

A new Alaska Highway oilfield in northern B.C. brought the biggest bids in a sale of Crown oil and natural gas leases held Wednesday.

Pacific Petroleums Ltd. bought a lease in the Inga field about 42 miles northwest of St. John, paying $506.98 per acre for 326 acres, or a bonus of $480.98 per acre. Total price was $165,626.50.

But sale of drilling reservation and permit acreage rights brought higher total prices.

A joint bid by Banff Oil Ltd. and Aquitaine Co. of Canada Ltd. brought $1.1 million for permit acreage along the westerly side of the Rainbow oilfield of northwestern Alberta.

RESERVATIONS

And Imperial Oil Enterprises Ltd. bidding with Pacific Petroleums, Canadian Superior Oil Ltd. and Whitehall Canadian Oil Ltd. paid $516.625 for a drilling reservation southeast of the Inga field.

Only 21 of 34 leases up for bids were sold. But five of 13 drilling reservations and nine out of 11 permits for sale were knocked down to bidders.

Total revenue brought in was $4.477 million made up of:

$47,715 for statutory fees and rentals,

$4.43 million as bonuses on the parcels offered, including $1.38 million for leases, $1.12 million for drilling reservations and $1.9 million for permits.

Horses Loose, Owner Fined

Edith Hancock of 645 Goyette, was fined $15 today after pleading guilty to having horses at large.

The fine, under a Saanich by-law, was levied after court was told three of the Hancock horses broke through a fence and caused about $100 damage to a neighbor's garden and lawn Wednesday.

Inboard Boat Reported Stolen

A city man told police Wednesday his $350 boat had been stolen from Fisherman's Wharf off Erie Street some time in the past three weeks.

Norman King, 2210 Sayward, said the "Sadie II" is a 14-foot inboard with white cabin and green hull.

Ask The Times

Q—Is there, or was there ever, such an animal as a yale? B.N.

A — Not likely. This exotic hybrid of boar and stag, whose most striking characteristic is the ability to swivel its horns about at will, is popular in heraldry, but quite fanciful. "The Queen's Beasts" says the yale was first used as a heraldic device by Henry VII.

Q—What is the correct title of the country of Brazil.

A—Estados Unidos do Brazil.

HAWAII CRUISE WEATHERSHIP'S FINAL HURDLE

The $12 million weathership Vancouver sailed today for a three week shakedown cruise to Hawaii.

Aboard the modern, department of transport vessel (shown at left) were hordes of technicians and specialists who will check out all aspects of the ship's apparatus during the voyage.

The shakedown cruise has been delayed several times due to a number of minor and major problems aboard the ship.

Now, however, she looks all set for her first stint of duty on weather station Papa in mid January.

After a couple of days in Hawaii, during which time she will refuel, the Vancouver will head for San Francisco, arriving back in Victoria between Dec. 16 and 20.

While the Vancouver is heading for Hawaii, three Esquimalt-based warships are on their way back from the sunny Pacific paradise.

HMC ships Qu'Appelle, Mackenzie and Saskatchewan will tie up at dockyard 11 a.m. Friday.

During the tour, they have carried out anti-submarine exercises with ships of the U.S. Pacific fleet.

As they enter the harbor, the salute will be taken for the first time by RCAF Group Captain R. S. Turnbull who was recently appointed)chief of staff (administration and personnel) at Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt.

A fourth Esquimalt warship, the ocean-escort Beacon Hill, will leave Monday for a two week training cruise to San Diego.

Commanding her, on his first operational cruise to a foreign port as commander, will be Lieutenant Sidney C. Gould of Victoria.

Air Canada Strike Formula Reached

Union Leader Well Satisfied

MONTREAL (CP)—Mike Rygus, Canadian vice-president of the International Association of Machinists, said today he expects membership ratification of a tentative agreement reached earlier with Air Canada on a new labor contract and said: "I will recommend a 'Yes'."

He made his comment as he emerged from two hours of continuous bargaining. Details of the settlement would not be released pending notification of the membership, he said.

Mike Pitchford, head of the IAM negotiating committee said he is "reasonably well satisfied with the agreement" and will issue a statement later today.

STATEMENT

Air Canada said in a statement:

"The negotiating committees of Air Canada and the International Association of Machinists today agreed to a tentative memorandum of settlement which will be presented to the 5,200 members of the union for ratification this weekend.

"Both parties have agreed that details will not be released until the union negotiating committee has had an opportunity to present the new agreement to the membership.

"Subject to ratification the airline operations are expected to begin within 48 hours of notice of an acceptance."

Talks resumed at 10:45 a.m. today in a bid to end the 10-day-old strike of machinists against the publicly-owned airline.

The two sides adjourned a few minutes before midnight Wednesday following a day-long bid for agreement.

Prime Minister Pearson said in Ottawa Wednesday night the government had urged Air Canada President Gordon McGregor to settle the strike, through direct negotiations and without government intervention.

Mr. Pearson also sent a telegram to Mr. Rygus in which he said he "strongly urged" Air Canada to work toward a settlement.

Docker Layoffs Continue

VANCOUVER (CP) — The port of Prince Rupert was completely closed down and others partially closed today following continued firings of longshoremen.

The firings began Wednesday with 650 men dismissed for what the employers term as deliberate slowdown tactics.

The longshoremen, including those dismissed, reported for work normally early today. But firings began again when the tactics were repeated.

Meanwhile, Labor Minister Nicholson said in Ottawa he plans to fly to Vancouver Friday to participate in discussions aimed at solving the traffic slow-down.

He was replying to New Democratic Leader Douglas, who asked him to provide the good offices of the federal conciliation services to bring together shipping companies and supervisory personnel.

RULED MANAGEMENT

Mr. Nicholson said the application by supercargoes and other supervisory personnel for certification as bargaining agents was turned down by the federal labor board because these men were considered to be part of management.

He had received requests from international union representatives and management that he intervene. He planned to go west Friday to participate in the talks.

The longshoremen, including those dismissed, reported for work normally today. But firings began again when the tactics were repeated.

Al crews, members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, at Prince Rupert were discharged for loafing, while on Vancouver Island two-thirds of the Port Alberni crews were fired and at Nanaimo the men were told there was no work.

In Chemainus only one ship was reported being worked normally.

A union spokesman in Victoria said only five gangs were called out to work today, two to one ship and three to a second vessel at Ogden Point docks.

He said loading was under way.

A quarter of the more than 1,600 longshoremen in Vancouver and neighboring New Westminster were fired.

SHORT OF FOOD

There was no report from Prince Rupert on the effects of the shutdown. Earlier reports said communities in the Queen Charlotte Islands were running out of staple foods.

There was no immediate comment today from either side on the latest firings, but Edward M. Strang, president of the B.C. Maritime Employers' Association, said earlier that longshore-

CANADIAN KILLED AS VIET CONG AMBUSH CONVOY

SAIGON (Reuters) — Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed an armed truck convoy in South Viet Nam's Central Highlands today, killing a total of 10 persons including one Canadian civilian.

A U.S. mission spokesman said the guerrillas struck at a truck convoy carrying radio technicians of five nationalities to a work site in the highlands. One Canadian also was wounded.

The civilian victims were employed by Page Communications Engineers Inc., a U.S. firm based in Washington.

Page issued a casualty list from Washington identifying the dead Canadian as Armand Fortier, 40, husband of Pierrette Fortier of Montreal, and the wounded Canadian as Claus Knipping, 31, of Scarborough, Ont.

The Page firm said eight of its employees were killed and three wounded in the U.S. Thanksgiving Day ambush.

The guerrillas raked the convoy with machine-gun fire after blowing up the lead vehicle with a deadly claymore anti-personnel mine.

Knipping, slightly built with brown hair and a moustache,

RHODESIAN CRISIS

South African Help Requested

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson has called on South Africa to press Rhodesia's rebel leaders into an 11th-hour settlement with Britain, government sources reported today.

Wilson's request was made in a personal message to Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster in Pretoria Wednesday.

The British leader was said to be coupling his request with the warning that Britain will be compelled to seek United Nations intervention in the crisis in a matter of days if the Rhodesians reject the chance of agreement.

The move by Wilson came as the dispute over the future of Rhodesia entered its most tense phase.

Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden flies tonight to Salisbury nominally to consult with the British Governor Sir Humphrey Gibbs, but as Wilson told Parliament Wednesday, Bowden also will be available to meet Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith.

Wilson made plain that it was up to Smith to call on Bowden and to arrange with him to accept Britain's terms for a settlement.

The alternative, Wilson said, is that the British government will be bound to fulfil its stated intention of seeking the imposition of selective mandatory sanctions on Rhodesia by the end of the year.

Informants said Wilson's ministers noted that Transport Minister Ben Schoeman of South Africa felt free this week publicly to warn Britain of the dire consequences that would follow the imposition of mandatory sanctions on Rhodesia.

Schoeman served notice that South Africa would ignore these sanctions and he warned the lush British-South African trade would be ruined.

But Wilson and his govern-

Smith Available For Vital Talks

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (Reuters)—Prime Minister Ian Smith today called off an out-of-town visit to a party rally to leave time free for vital talks this weekend with Herbert Bowden, Commonwealth secretary.

Smith was to have gone Saturday to Gwelo, a town 170 miles southwest of Salisbury, to address a rally of his ruling Rhodesian Front party.

But a government statement said today he has decided to put off the trip owing to the visit of Bowden.

The Commonwealth secretary is due to arrive Friday in another—and probably final—attempt to settle the Rhodesian independence crisis in personal talks.

While Bowden's visit was being made ostensibly at the invitation of the governor, Sir Humphrey Gibbs, sources close to the government regarded a meeting with Smith as certain.

Bowden will first confer with Gibbs, who is not recognized by the Smith government.

Israel Censure Motion at UN

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Nigeria and Mali called on the Security Council today to "censure" Israel for its November 13 military raid against Jordan and clearly warn that further retaliatory actions would bring sterner UN measures.

The 15-nation council was expected to approve the resolution Friday despite misgivings by several members, some of whom wanted it strengthened and others wishing it watered down.

250 Shells Uncovered

ROME (Reuters) — Wartime artillery shells and grenades borne by swirling floodwaters today posed a new danger to villagers near Formia, about 60 miles south of Rome.

The shells, left behind by German and Allied armies, were buried on the banks of the River Garigliano and were uncovered by floods in the last few days.

Police and army engineers so far have fished out 250 artillery shells, about 1,000 detonators, 15 time-fuses and 10 hand grenades from the water. Some were recovered only a short distance from a hydroelectric power plant.

'U.S. Wage Parity Must Be Resisted'

(See story Page 6)

OTTAWA (CP) — Pressures building up in Canada for wage parity with the United States have got to be resisted or this country will face another balance of payments crisis, John J. Deutsch, chairman of the Economic Council of Canada, told a parliamentary committee today.

A balance of payments crisis would "really bring down the curtain," and have to be met by austerity, belt-tightening, and the deliberate creation of unemployment, he told the Senate-Commons committee on prices.

Mr. Deutsch was asked by Steve Otto (L—York East) to describe the effects of Canadian labor negotiators trying to negotiate wages in this country equal to those paid in the United States.

A lawyer and company executive, Mr. Otto said he recently was engaged in labor negotiations in which the workers were interested only in their take-home pay, without regard to the level of tax or welfare deductions.

Mr. Deutsch said parity of wages between Canada and the United States would be impossible to achieve. There would be so many side effects created in Canada that the goal could not be reached.

QANTAS HIT BY STRIKE OF PILOTS

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Pilots protesting "dangerous" proposed changes in regulations covering crew size and safety procedures struck Qantas Airlines today, paralyzing the carrier around the world. It was the third pilots' strike against Qantas in three years.

The strike went into effect at 6 p.m. PST, after talks broke down between the Australian Federation of Airline Pilots and Qantas.

The 440 striking pilots were protesting a proposed reduction from three to two pilots and a proposal that pilots fly night flights to Jakarta, Indonesia. Salaries also were involved in the negotiations.

U.K. Envoy Lengthens Moscow Stay

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary George Brown of Britain cancelled plans to fly back to London and decided to stay another day in Moscow for talks with Premier Alexei Kosygin.

British officials said the foreign secretary, whose schedule was disrupted when his special plane was diverted to Leningrad Tuesday because of fog, now hopes to leave soon after meeting Kosygin Friday morning.

Brown conferred for 90 minutes today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. It was their fourth meeting in two days.

Informed sources said the two ministers discussed European security and Anglo-Soviet relations at their meeting this morning.

Pleads Guilty

MONTREAL (CP) — Michel Beaudoin, 22, the sole person arrested to date in connection with an $800,000 burglary at Montreal International Airport's post office six weeks ago, pleaded guilty today to possession charges at his preliminary hearing.

AIRLINER WAS BOMBED

ADEN (UPI)—The government announced tonight explosives planted in an Aden Airways DC-3 airliner caused the plane to blow up and crash Monday with the loss of 28 lives.

A statement issued by the interior ministry said investigations had shown the disaster was caused by "explosive materials planted in the passenger cabin by unknown terrorists."

AND BENNETT 'CORRECTS' A MISUNDERSTANDING

Rathie, Cariboo Mayors Support Bonner

By JOHN MIKA

Times Legislature Reporter

QUESNEL — Wednesday was Mayor's Day in the Bonner byelection campaign.

Premier Bennett made a eulogistic endorsation of Mr. Bonner by Vancouver Mayor William Rathie, the highlight of his 45-minute speech to some 500 persons here.

He read the telegram from his once-bitter foe and former Liberal candidate with a triumphant flourish, then added his own direct appeal:

"You should ask not what the government can do for you but what you can do for the people of the province and its government.

"I will tell you on Monday next you can mark that X for Bonner and it will be the greatest day in your life and the greatest day for all the province."

Quesnel Mayor Alex Fraser, a well-known Conservative supporter, acted as chairman of the meeting and praised Mr. Bonner so highly that the premier said he might appear on Mr. Fraser's platform for re-election as mayor next month to reciprocate. Both Mayor Fraser and Williams Lake Myor Herb Gardner signed individual advertisments appearing in local newspapers which strongly urged voters to support Bonner. Mr. Gardner is president of The Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Premier Bennett said people from all parts of the province want Social Credit to win in the Cariboo and he read the surprise telegram from Mayor Rathie as proof . . . neglecting to mention its mispelling of the riding's name. "Please convey to the Honorable Bob Bonner my sincere best wishes for his success in the Nov. 28 Caribou byelection," Mr. Rathie wired.

"I have had ample opportunity during recent years to observe at first hand his thorough and sympathetic understanding of the problems of municipalities large and small throughout the province. The job he has done through 14 years of service as a cabinet minister merits the admiration of all British Columbians. I believe it is important to us all that Bob Bonner be given the opportunity to continue in the cabinet and also to represent B.C. at federal-provincial conferences.

"I hope the voters of Caribou will give him that opportunity by electing him as their member next Monday."

Mr. Rathie, who also is seeking re-election next month, added a post script to the premier saying:

"Please be assured that, as expected, I will continue my constructive criticism from time to time. Best personal regards."

Mr. Bennett said the Nov. 28 byelection is the most important byelection every held in the province.

"I say in all seriousness, this is more important than most of you ever will know and I say that as your premier."

He said Vancouver voters already were sorry they believed Liberal and press arguments the opposition needed support in the Sept. 12 election which saw Mr. Bonner defeated. Cariboo voters should not make the same mistake, he said.

"They're not interested in the Cariboo," he cried. "They're just interested in defeating this man Bonner because he's the right hand of the government.

He said he was misunderstood because newspapers abbreviated the reports of his Monday press conference in Victoria and gave the wrong impression that he was threatening the riding.

"What I did say at that press conference in Victoria was how important Bonner is on our team. Take out your best pitcher and what have you got left?

"I said it is bound to affect the government, it is bound to affect the province and it is bound to affect the Cariboo and I repeat that here tonight."

Mr. Bennett said there are four fine men running for the

B.C. CIVIL SERVANTS TO GET RAISE IN PAY

QUESNEL—Premier Bennett said there will be raises for civil servants next year but he would not disclose how much or for how many.

The premier, who suggested last month that British Columbia's 19,000 civil servants shouldn't be asking for pay increases in the next budget, revealed his changed position during the question period at a byelection campaign meeting here for Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

He began his speech with the warning that "It is not my intention to make any political promises at all because of the need for restraint in government spending during an inflationary period".

But 45 miutes later he was asked by a questioner in the audience whether the premier is going to raise government salaries this year.

His reply was short but emphatic: The cabinet and MLA's—no; the civil servants—yes. However, he declined to elaborate when asked for more details by reporters after the meeting.

KINDNESS WARMS UP ORPHAN'S COLD WORLD

By CANDIDE TEMPLE

In a dark, small shed near the waterfront in the city of Mokpo, Korea, nine children are huddled in a corner.

Eight boys and a little girl, shivering and terrified. They squat silently on rags on the shed's cold floor.

The children are waifs, abandoned by families who could no longer feed them.

They have been picked up by police in the fishing town of Mokpo and brought to Unitarian Service Committee workers there, who do the only thing they can with the youngsters.

The give them food, clothing and temporary shelter in places like the waterfront hut. All this is made possible by Canadian help for the USC through funds such as the Times' Share with Asian Children Fund.

TRACE FAMILY

Then USC workers will try to trace the children's families and offer aid so the youngsters may stay with them.

If this fails, the youngsters must be put into overcrowded orphanages, dark-eyed, and serious and by this time hostile towards a world that doesn't want them.

But the help and kindness they receive at the hands of USC workers is a memory that stays with them.

So does the taste of the Canadian milk and biscuits which are distributed to the needy by USC workers in Mokpo, elsewhere in Korea and around the world.

For the big-eyed orphans it's the one ray of hope in a dark and hateful world.

If some people are kind to them, if people across the ocean care enough to give money for milk and barley, warm sweaters and socks, it can't be such a bad world after all.

Victorians are being asked to help these nine Korean youngsters, and others like them, through contributions to The Times Share with Asian Children Fund.

Donations may be sent care of The Victoria Daily Times, or made at the main branch of the Bank of Montreal, 1225 Douglas St.

A list of contributors, published daily in the newspaper, may be found on Page 2.

Hope they kin git th' planes warmed up b'fore another quarrel does.

. . . COUGAR

ally investigated a persistent cougar complaint by a Saanich householder, going out to the house one night to "sit it out."

The "cougar" was a neighbor's dog that had made a bed for itself in the basement, and snored a little at night.

"People always think it just couldn't be anything else."

Vancouver Island is probably the last refuge of this handsome and wraith-like animal.

The mystique grown up around it has bred myth and misinformation.

Wrong Idea

"The cougar," says Charles Giguet of Provincial Museum, "people have the wrong idea about the cougar."

"There's no need to be afraid of him."

Said to be shy and solitary, cougars have killed only one person on Vancouver Island—a boy on a beach near Kyoquot in 1949.

HIGH JUMPING Janet Runn, one of the featured skaters in the all new edition of Ice Capades, stars as "Alice" in the ice version of Lewis Carroll's famed story, "Alice in Wonderland," one of the nine productions. Ice Capades comes to the Memorial Arena December 14 to 17.

No Personnel Problem, Says Hellyer

OTTAWA (CP)—Refit of the carrier HMCS Bonaventure will be completed sometime next year and personnel will be available to man her, Defence Minister Hellyer told the Commons Tuesday.

He was replying to Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary North), who also asked whether assignment of Canadian navy planes to U.S. carriers during the refit was "the first step" in entrusting all Canada's anti-submarine defences to the U.S.

Mr. Hellyer said it was normal for such a transfer to allow continuing training while Canada's only carrier was undergoing repairs. It had been done before, probably while Mr. Harkness was defence minister, and the move had "none of the overtones" suggested.

Officials said Monday that the Bonaventure will be in drydock until next fall for major repairs costing at least $11,000,000.

Robert Prittie (NDP—Burnaby - Richmond) suggested scrapping the carrier, but Mr. Hellyer said this would not be wise.

Liquor Charges For Three Minors

Three 18-year-old boys were each fined $35 in central court today when they pleaded guilty to being minors in possession of liquor.

Clifford Petford, 4140 Birtles; Wayne Winger, 3163 Alder, and Robert Haymar, 2924 Blackwood, were caught by police with a case of beer in their car Oct. 30. The car was parked at Playfair Park off Glenora Road.

. . . CANADIAN KILLED

said he was riding in a Page van alongside a Korean technician when he heard an explosion at the head of the seven-vehicle column.

"All of the vehicles lurched to a stop, then all hell broke loose," Knipping recalled.

"When it started I went out the back of the van. The driver jumped forward and I saw him get killed. I landed in a ditch and a grenade laned right next to my leg. I was stunned for a second by something, my head was thrown into the dirt."

He recalled: "I looked up from the ditch, and I was looking directly at two of them (Viet Cong). They were rather young, they had weapons in their hands.

"One of them fired at me from four or five feet away. Amazingly he missed but I rolled over and I was lying face down.

"One pulled me by the coat and turned me over. I tried to feign death and must have succeeded. Then they left me."

White Man Jailed For Shooting Negro

HERNANDO, Miss. (UPI) — In Mississippi, a white man stood up and pleaded guilty to gunning down a Negro.

In New York, the negro spoke up, talking a bit proudly about southern justice and the white man's guilty plea.

It was a strange ending to a strange story.

Five and a half months ago, Aubrey James Norvell, the white man, rose from ambush and fired a shotgun blast at James Meredith, the young Negro who had been trying to prove that members of his race could march without fear through Mississippi.

On Monday, Norvell, 40, a former Memphis hardware salesman, pleaded guilty to assault and battery with intent to kill in the June 6 incident. He was sentenced to five years imprisonment with three years suspended because of his war record and past character.

Commenting on the sentencing, Meredith said local authorities had promised him that Norvell would be prosecuted. He added: "southern people mean what they say and do what they say they are going to do."

Calm Returns To Togo After Coup Failure

LOME, Togo (CP)—Ringleaders of the abortive coup against Togolese President Nicolas Grunitzky told demonstrators Monday that assassinated President Sylvanus Olympio would be brought back to life to head a new government, eyewitnesses reported here today.

This black magic element was spread by word of mouth among the 5,000 demonstrators who massed Monday before the presidential residence demanding Grunitzky's resignation. Some of the crowd believed the resurrection rumor, the sources said.

Olympio was assassinated in January, 1963, during an army coup. The Togo Unity Party, which backed Olympio, led Monday's attempt to oust Grunitzky.

Lome was calm today after its second night under curfew. Army units continued their hunt for the coup ringleaders, including lawyer Noe Kutuklui, who leads the rebellious party.

Some of those arrested were beaten up by soldiers.

MORE CENTRALISM URGED

Bicultural Canada 'Utter Nonsense'

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) — A bi-federal state, with jurisdiction over all social security programs, human rights, and university education vested in Ottawa, was advocated this week night by J. T. Thorson, retired president of the Exchequer Court of Canada.

He told a Canadian Club audience that Quebec could have a special niche in Confederation but talk of Canada as a bicultural nation of English and French cultures is "utter nonsense and should be curtly dismissed."

Speaking on the shape of Canada in its second century, Mr. Thorson said he is confident there will continue to be a Canada in the next 100 years, but there will be changes in its constitution. Canada now is a different country than the one established by Confederation in 1867 when "matters of a merely local or private nature in the province" was assigned to provincial governments.

NATIONAL CONCERN

The whole field of social security should be moved out of the jurisdiction of the provinces and vested exclusively in the federal Parliament, he said. Social security is a matter of national concern and responsibility and the trend has been towards Ottawa since old age pensions were first established in 1927.

"Unfortunately, there have been recent indications of a recession from the trend . . . but this recessive tendency must be checked," he said.

While primary school education may be best left to local authorities and secondary schooling governed by the provinces, "when I come to the subject of university education I think of national considerations," Mr. Thorson said.

"The whole of Canada is interested in higher education. We need it for the efficient use of our manpower and the development of our country. We ought to explore the possibility of giving to the Parliament of Canada jurisdiction in the field of higher education."

HE IS A CENTRALIST

The former Liberal cabinet minister and judge said he is a centralist who does not look on Canada as "an aggregation of provinces." But the need for a strong central government can be reconciled with Quebec's desire for the largest amount of jurisdiction to deal with its own affairs.

"I believe that it would be possible to work out a bi-federal arrangement that would meet the particular desire of Quebec and, at the same time, leave the rest of Canada free to develop the strong central government that is necessary for the fulfilment of our national purposes."

Mr. Thorson said Canada is not, either in law or in fact, a bilingual country. French has no special status outside Quebec and the federal Parliament and courts. The contention that French and English are official languages with equal status through Canada "is made so frequently and with such intensity that we are in danger of being brain-washed into the belief that it is true," he said.

"On the contrary, the hard fact is that it is not a bilingual country. Nor is it likely that it ever will be."

While he sympathized with and supported Quebec's desire to preserve its cultural heritage, Mr. Thorson said 5,000,000 of Canada's 20,000,000 people are neither French nor English in their origins, and it is a fallacy to think that those who are not French are simply English-Canadians.

New Alice Version Not for Children

LONDON (AP) — The BBC warned parents today that its lavish new television version of Alice in Wonderland is unsuitable for children, but it will be shown anyway.

The production of Lewis Carroll's classic was scheduled for Christmas Day, but BBC officials now have decided to show it Dec. 28 at 9 p.m. It is hoped most youngsters will be in bed.

The much-loved story has been turned into an adult TV drama with psychological undertones of madness, fear and melancholy.

Jonathan Miller, the satirist and one-time star of the wayout revue Beyond the Fringe, adapted the book and produced the program at a cost of £25,000 ($75,000).

"For the past century we have thought of Alice as a charming fairy story full of cranky animals and jolly playing cards," Miller said.

"But there is an enduring melancholy that outlasts the fun. It is a Victorian fantasy about the pains and perils and the silent fears of growing up."

Hugh Weldon, the BBC's controller of TV programs, saw the recorded production nine times before announcing that it ought to be seen by adults only.

"This is a 1966 production of Alice," Weldon said. "It is not designed as entertainment for children. It might upset them."

BIG TROOP BUILDUP BY JORDAN

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — This Arab kingdom began a massive buildup of troops today by announcing a sweeping draft call and agreeing to use 20,000 Saudi Arabian soldiers to help meet any new border threats from neighboring Israel.

Tension inside the nation also was reported on the rise in the wake of violent anti-government street demonstrations in the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem.

The troop offer was made Wednesday by Saudi King Faisal in a cable to Jordanian King Hussein, official sources here said. According to the offer, Saudi Arabia, which flanks Jordan in the south, volunteered 20,000 troops to reinforce Arab defenses against an Israeli attack.

Blood Pours in at 3 Clinics

A three-day blood donor clinic this week netted the Red Cross 771 pints, and gave Red Cross officials something to crow about.

"A remarkably good clinic," said supervisor A. T. Lashmar. "It was wonderfully supported."

A tremendous response to the appeal at CFB Esquimalt Wednesday yielded 348 pints. Tuesday Royal Roads cadets and staff donated 146 bottles.

A total of 277 pints had already been donated in a civil defence exercise at the Bay Street Armoury Monday night.
